DENIES TIEUP WITH LABOR

Scarborough, England—Addressing an open air meeting in a political campaign, David Lloyd George declared the liberals had not pledged their support to keep the labor government in office. He took issue with a letter to the Scarborough electorate from Stanley Baldwin, conservative leader, and said Baldwin himself was responsible for the present government. "After the last election no party had a majority," Lloyd George said. "Instead of Baldwin putting the matter before parliament he resigned and advised his majesty to send for MacDonald. Having placed labor in, he now, after a couple of months, says, 'turn them out.'"

John Phillip
Horn a Pioneer
Resident of State

Resident Here in Early Days Dies at Home at Hay Springs, His Home for 47 Years.

Following a lingering illness from which he had been more or less suffering for two or three years, John Phillip Horn passed away at the Broz hospital in Rushville last Monday morning at the age of seventy-four years.

The deceased was a highly respected resident of the community of Hay Springs for nearly a half century. He came here as a homesteader and together with his family passed thru the pioneer development stages of this territory. For the past few years he had been retired from active business and spent much of his time visiting with his friends and enjoying the comforts of his family, most of whom reside here.

In the fall of 1889 Mr. Horn moved into town and for the next fifteen years conducted a livery barn business, his barn standing on the property now owned by the Riley Brothers pool hall and the Commercial Hotel. Disposing of his business Mr. Horn then engaged in the general mercantile business, having as a partner Adam Staab, who still resides in this community. Leaving this business Mr. Horn purchased and developed the property at the north-west edge of town which is now occupied by Frank Kubly. The desire to again engage in business called him once more to Hay Springs and this time he opened a confectionery business and this he conducted until it was sold to the present owners, Lightfoot & Waterman.

The deceased belonged to Company F, Second Regiment of the Nebraska Volunteer Infantry and served as an aid under General Miles during the Indian uprising of 1890-91. He was a member of the local order of L. O. O. F. and was a charter member of the local camp of Modern Woodmen.

Mr. Horn's parents came to Nebraska in 1856 when the deceased was but a small child and settled at Plattsmouth. That territory was very new at that time. Indians camped in the townsite every night. The Mormons, 1,000 of whom were killed by Indians on their trip, camped on the Horn place as they crossed that part of the state on their way to Utah. The deceased was truly a pioneer.

Philip Horn was born near Pekin, Tazwell county, Illinois, on the 27th day of April, 1856, and departed from this life on the 29th day of April, 1931, at the Dr. Broz hospital, Rushville, Nebraska, at the age of seventy-four years, eleven months and twenty-one days. At the age of nearly one year, he came with his parents to Plattsmouth, Nebraska, later settling on land four miles northwest of Plattsmouth, where his childhood was passed.

In September, 1878, he was united in marriage to Anna P. Swift, who survives him, and to this union were born three children, all surviving: Fred Horn of Salt Lake City, Utah; Carl Horn and Margaret Potter of Hay Springs. He is also survived by five sisters and one brother, Mrs. Effie Lautenschlager, Orchard, Nebraska; Mrs. Mary Hassler, Dunkirk, New York; Mrs. Matilda Johnson, Pekin, Illinois and Mrs. Maggie Koehnke, Mrs. William Hagdorn and George Horn of Hay Springs and seven grandchildren.

In the fall of 1884, he filed on land twelve miles southwest of Hay Springs where he engaged in business until September 15th, 1926 when he retired from business activities. When a child he was confirmed in the Lutheran faith and on the 21st day of June, 1908, became a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Hay Springs.

He was a resident with the exception of a short period when he resided on his farm adjoining the corporation limits of Hay Springs for forty years; of Sheridan county continuously for forty-seven years and seventy-four years continuously in the state of Nebraska.—Hay Springs News.

BOHLMAN-BICKFORD

A surprising event occurred Tuesday, April 21, 1931, when Miss Leona Bohلمان of Otoe, and Louis Bickford of Weeping Water were united in marriage in Omaha.

The bride, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bohلمان, was born and reared in Otoe, receiving her education in the Otoe schools. She has acquired a large circle of friends, who will join in offering their best wishes for her happiness.

Louis Bickford, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Bickford, was born and has spent most of his life in Weeping Water, graduating from the local high school in the class of '27. He was a student at Peru State Teachers College for some time, during which time he was especially active in the boys' Glee Club activities. The newlyweds went to housekeeping immediately in the rental property of P. H. Miller, in east Weeping Water, where they will be at home to their friends.

A wedding dinner was served in their honor Sunday at the home of the parents of the groom. Guests participating were Mr. and Mrs. Leo Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Bickford, and Mr. Frank Shepherd and their immediate family.—Weeping Water Republican.

Sale Under Court Order Presided
Over by Rex Young and Many Bidders Are on Hand.

The sale of a large number of city lots and outlots held under a court decree of tax foreclosure, was held Thursday at the court house and drew out a large number of persons who engaged in several cases in lively bidding on different pieces of property located in different parts of the city.

A number took advantage of the sale to acquire property near that which they already owned and placed back on the tax list a large number of pieces of property that have heretofore been a dead proposition as far as the city and county were concerned.

Plattsmouth hotel building at Main and Third street was secured by L. B. Egenberger, who also owns considerable property in that part of the city and this will be a great improvement for that section as the building will be placed to some use for a purpose instead of being let go to ruin as it has in the past two years.

The city itself took bids on a number of pieces of property in order to protect the city's interest in taxes and which they will be able to dispose of later to cover the cost of the taxes on the property. Among the properties that the city bid in was the former T. E. Parmelee home on Chicago avenue.

A number of pieces of property which had been advertised for the sale were redeemed before the sale by persons holding title to the property. The former R. B. Windham home on North Sixth street was secured by John M. Leyda and this will place the property in hands where it can be fixed up in proper shape and become an asset to the city.

W. P. Rice, residing in the south-east part of the city secured a number of outlots that adjoin his property and which will be used in pasture land as a part of his property.

SUFFERS FROM BROKEN BACK

Miss June White, Omaha girl, who was injured last week in an accident on the hill just east of Union, is still at the St. Joseph hospital in Omaha where she was taken by Sheriff Bert Reed following the accident. She is suffering from a broken back and is in quite serious condition as yet. The office of the sheriff has been informed. Miss White is expected to start an action against J. V. Peters of Council Bluffs, owner of the car which she was driving at the time of the accident.

MRS. ROOSEVELT IMPROVED

New York—Governor Roosevelt spent another day in New York with the question of whether he would sail for Paris or entrain for Warm Springs, Ga., still hinging Friday night on the condition of his mother, ill with influenza in the French capital. If he should decide to sail he could obtain passage on a liner leaving next Wednesday and probably could remain a week in Paris. He was somewhat reassured by news from Paris that his mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt, had spent a comfortable night and seemed better.

Pipelines in County Given
Valuation

Valuation of $17,500 on Twenty-Four Inch Mains and $4,400 on the Eight Inch Lines

The pipelines which in the past year have been placed across Cass county from the southern boundary to Plattsmouth where they have crossed the Missouri river, represent a large sum and the taxation valuation of which set by the committee of assessors of the counties through which they pass will represent $17,500 per mile for the twenty-four inch mains and $4,400 for the eight inch mains which in this county will represent closely the sum of $1,067,600.

The Missouri Valley Pipeline Co., has a twenty-four inch main line that enters the county near Elmwood while the Continental Construction Co. has a twenty-four inch main from Avoca north to Plattsmouth where both lines have made their crossing of the Missouri river, the Missouri Valley line placing their mains on the Plattsmouth auto bridge while the Continental company have an under water crossing that has been a very extensive piece of work and represents an investment of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

It is estimated that the distance of mains in this county of the main lines represent some thirty miles each while the smaller eight inch mains that will extend from Wabash to Louisville will cover some ten miles.

The pipelines are new to this section of the west and brought up the problem of placing a valuation for taxing purposes and the state board has placed the figures much higher than the company estimated they should be for tax purposes. The lines will make a large addition to the tax producing properties of Cass county and this will be the first year that they are to be placed on the tax list.

TELEVISION WEDDING HELD

New York—As members of the radio audience, or at least a part of it, listened and looked, they saw Frank Duvall and Gracye Jones become man and wife before a microphone and photoelectric cell Friday night. They were guests via the ether lanes at the "first television wedding."

On the screen of the television receiver could be seen the principals in the ceremony which was performed by Dr. A. Edwin Kelgwin, pastor of the West End Presbyterian church. Voices of the participants could be heard too, for the broadcast was in effect a "radio movie," being transmitted by New York's new sound and sight stations WGBS-W2XCR.

Fisherman Believed Drowned

Alfred Mutton Disappears and Clothing Found Scattered Along the River Bank

Belief that Alfred Mutton, 61, 823 First avenue, drowned Wednesday in the Missouri river was expressed by members of a searching party who hunted for him Friday, says the Nebraska City News-Press.

"From tracks found on a sandbar north of Nebraska City near Squaw creek searchers reconstructed the scene. Mutton, they said, went to the sandbar to sein minnows. Leaving his boat on the west side he crossed to the east. Glancing over his shoulder he saw his boat drifting away from the island.

"Hurry back toward the west side of the bar, shedding his clothing as he ran. Mutton plunged into the water and was drowned before he could reach the craft, which was discovered a mile down the river by the drowned man's brother.

"Provisions at his camp indicated he had cooked but one meal. The distance between footprints indicated the man was running and the haphazard manner in which his clothing was strewn on the ground bore out the assumption.

"Mr. Mutton, who spends part of the summer on the river each year fishing, left home Tuesday with a boat, tent, equipment and a supply of food to go up the river to fish for a week or ten days as is his custom. Thursday afternoon a brother, Frank Mutton, made a trip up the river to visit the camp but was unable to locate the tent. He went to the river and found the boat containing his brother's shoes and fishing equipment floating loose near the shore. After a long search he returned here and notified Mrs. Mutton and another brother, William Mutton.

"Friday morning a party of men went up the river to make a search for the missing man. "George Kautzman and Clement Landis in a motor boat went to the large sand bar in the center of the river a little south of Squaw creek and upon reaching the east side of the bar found Mr. Mutton's clothing near the water's edge.

"The water at the west side of the bar is very deep," Mr. Kautzman said, "and it is believed that Mr. Mutton was attacked with cramps because of the cold water and was drowned."

"A searching party went up the river Friday afternoon in an effort to drag the river and find the body.

"Mr. Mutton was born and reared in Nebraska City. When he was a young man he was employed at the packing house and several years ago, because of failing health, retired. For some time he operated a garden but the work also was strenuous. He was married in Nebraska City to Miss Sarah Runyon.

"Mrs. Mutton said Friday morning she had been told he was not well and she had asked him to remain at home for a while before starting out fishing but he had told her he wanted to get away from the city for a time."

WHEAT ACREAGE IS LARGE

Washington—Governor Woodring sees little prospect for wheat acreage reduction in Kansas. Here on a one day visit he said the individual farmer "isn't interested" in campaigns to curtail production, although a few "leaders" have made efforts in this direction. "It's human nature," the governor said, "to go on planting as much as possible in spite of all that's said about production." He estimated the 1931 Kansas crop at 177,000,000 bushels, only 4,000,000 less than its record production of 181,000,000 bushels.

HAVE A HECTIC NIGHT

Three young men, starting out on a night of revelry, journeying into the country. They stole a car, broke into two stores, returned to the city, were taken into custody and lodged in jail shortly after daybreak. This is the story of Leonard Myers, 20, and John Wilson, 25, both of Omaha, and Walter Inman, 22, formerly of Pacific Junction but now of Council Bluffs. The three young men caught a ride to Pacific Junction Monday night, where they stole a Buick sedan belonging to Ivan Gearhart. They then drove to Hastings where they broke into the meat market and grocery of Hodges and Cox and the grocery and meat market of Albert Crawford. It is estimated that they stole merchandise amounting to around $100. Part of the loot being cigarettes which had Crawford's stamp and number on the package. Sheriff DeMoss was notified and in turn notified Omaha police, who traced the two Omaha lads down through the car which they drove to their home and in which they found the merchandise.

The men were returned to Glenwood and lodged in jail early Tuesday morning where they are now held waiting a hearing.—Glenwood Opinion.

TURN OF THE YEAR
By Katherine Tyman

This is the time when bit by bit
The days begin to lengthen sweet
And every minute gained is joy—
And love stirs in the heart of a boy.

This is the time the sun, of late
Content to lie abed till eight,
Lifts up betimes his sleepy head—
And love stirs in the heart of a maid.

This is the time we dock the night
Of a whole hour of candlelight;
When song of linnets and thrush is heard—
And love stirs in the heart of a bird.

This is the time when sword-blades
green,
With gold and purple damascene,
Pierce the brown crocus-bed a-row—
And love stirs in a heart I know.
