Were Too Many Posts.

Last Sunday night while George Cooney and Dave McEntire, both of Nebraska City, were coming east on the O street road and had reached the steep down grade near the N. C. Deles Denier place, where the posts and the cable guard the driver from the high banks which would land one crashing through them in the ditch on either side.

The Chevrolet six, which was a new one and it is claimed could make some sixty miles and to spare on its own initiative, by mutual consent of the posts and the car driver, when the car had stopped at having demolished a number of posts, it was found that the innocent bystander or riders had sustained a considerable injury.

Mr. Cooney was badly cut about the face and head, while Mr. McEntire had a shoulder dislocated. The car was taken to Nebraska where Dr. D. E. Hansen made them as comfortable as possible. Anyway that car had some speed.

Meets With Serious Accident.

Almond Taylor, while engaged in hauling a load of hay on a truck, was going south near the home of Fred Tigner, and from some cause the truck left the pavement, catching on a bit of concrete was entirely turned over and left standing bottom side up headed the way it had started.

50th Anniversary of Red Cross.

The fiftieth anniversary of the American Red Cross will be celebrated May 21. President Hoover will give address over the two national chains at 8:30 p. m. Watch your daily paper for list of stations.

The relationship between the United States and the American Red Cross is obvious in the fact that the president of the U. S. is also the president of the American Red Cross; that the president of the U. S. appoints the chairman of the central committee, the governing body of 18 of the national organization, and five members of the central committee who represent the executive department of state, war, justice and navy.

The Red Cross is a voluntary international organization founded primarily for the care of the sick and wounded in war times. The International was founded Aug. 22, 1864, when 12 nations signed the treaty of Geneva, although ratifications were not exchanged until June 22, 1865.

But it was not until May 22, 1901, that the Red Cross organization was formed in District of Columbia and officers elected June 9 with Miss Clara Barton president. Known as the American Association of the Red Cross.

In June 1900 the American Red Cross was incorporated by an act of congress. To correct imperfections of that charter, a new corporation was created by act of congress which was signed by President Roosevelt Jan. 5, 1905, under which charter the Red Cross is now operating.

The American Red Cross is a national organization combining three elements not found in any other institution outside the federal government itself. Namely, first an international status through the Treaty of Geneva; 2nd, a national status through its congressional charter of 1905; third a great popular base through membership which is representative of a cross section of our American citizenship.

The many activities in which it is engaged are, war service, relief to ex-service men, nursing service, army and navy, public health nursing, home hygiene and care of sick, nutrition, first aid and life saving, civilian home service, disaster relief and Junior Red Cross.

Democrats Plan Party Jubilee at Baltimore

Recent Victory to Be Made the Basis of Celebration by the National Leaders.

Washington—The election several days ago in Baltimore of a Democratic Mayor to succeed a Republican incumbent by the largest majority ever recorded in that city for the office has been seized upon by Democratic leaders as the basis for a party jubilee on May 21.

Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic National Executive Committee; Gov. Albert C. Ritchie, a candidate for the party's presidential nomination in 1922 and Millard Tydings (D.), Senator from Maryland, will head the list of notables who will attend.

A nation-wide radio hookup is being arranged and every measure is being taken to let the country know that the Democrats are celebrating several important victories and anticipating others.

The event will take place in Baltimore and will be largely devoted to commemorating what hostess of Governor Ritchie characterizes as the "redemption of the Free State of Maryland." But the recent Democratic majority victory in Chicago will not be overlooked as was indicated by Mr. Shouse in a statement from his plane commenting on the Baltimore election.

Chicago Election. "This Baltimore election," Mr. Shouse said, "following so soon on the heels of the one in Chicago where A. J. Cermak received the largest majority ever given in a majority race in that city is a certain indication of a definite democratic trend. I am perfectly willing to agree with all that our Republican friends say about the misrule of Chicago under former Mayor Thompson and the consequent revolt of the people there.

"In the Baltimore instance I have not heard any Republican suggestion of misrule under Mayor Broening, and consequently the election of Mr. Jackson by a vote of nearly 2 1/2 to 1 over his Republican opponent must be considered by students of political conditions as being of political significance and as some indication of political trends."

Baltimore's new mayor, Howard W. Jackson, was elected by 122,175 to 57,023 for his Republican opponent according to the latest figures. Mr. Jackson was mayor from 1923 to 1927, when he voluntarily retired. He will succeed Mayor William F. Broening who was the Republican candidate for Governor last year against Governor Ritchie, who was defeated by the four-term Progressive term. Governor Ritchie defeated him by a very heavy majority.

With Mr. Jackson was swept into office an entire Democratic city administration, the only exception being one Republican councilman out of 17. The far-reaching Democratic victory in Baltimore gives the Democratic Party practically a complete domination of the State. They hold all offices except one seat in the United States Senate, the councilmanic place, and a small minority in the State legislature.

Boom for Ritchie. Governor Ritchie's admirers are acclaiming the state situation as an important impetus to his presidential ambitions. The May 21 rally unquestionably will be used by them as much as possible to boost his stock. It will also be used to assail the Hoover administration and to charge it with loss of prestige.

The Democrats are increasingly hammering away at this point. More and more they are centering their campaign on the President himself. In this activity they are receiving considerable co-operation from Republican progressives. Only the past day Smith Whitman Brookhart (R.), Senator from Iowa, in a press interview that was played up in large headlines throughout Iowa, held that President Hoover could not be re-elected and called on the Republican Party to nominate a Progressive.

Mr. Brookhart suggested Senators Borah, LaFollette and Norris, as such choices. In itself Mr. Brookhart's statement is without weight. There can be no doubt that President Hoover will be renominated if he wants to run again. But Mr. Brookhart's attack is significant because of the use being made of such sentiment in Republican quarters by the Democrats. His views were widely printed in the farm belt just at a time when L. J. Dickinson (R.), Senator from Iowa, was arriving in Des Moines, Ia., to open a Republican campaign office there.

Senator Brookhart was a zealous supporter of the President in 1928. So were others of the Progressive group. These are now very critical of the Administration. The Democrats are stressing this in their campaigning and more and more openly turning their fire directly on the president.

HALTED BY SNOW, JAP AIRMAN LANDS AT NAIBO

Naibo, Japan, May 9.—Halted by reports of snow storms along the Kurile island chain northward, Seiji Yoshilaha came down here Saturday after a 135-mile flight from Nemuro, Japan. The Japanese airman has covered 800 miles of a 6,000-mile trip to the United States, which he started at Tokyo Monday.

DO-X REPORTED OVER OCEAN

London, May 8.—Germany's giant flying boat, the Do-X, is Friday night roaring over the south Atlantic en route to the Brazilian coast from Portuguese Guinea, Africa, according to unconfirmed reports here.

The advices stated that the Do-X took off from Babaque bay, near Bolama, Portuguese Guinea, shortly after dawn Friday morning.

Berlin dispatches declared the departure was not confirmed by officials of the Dornier company, but that they had expected Capt. Friedrich Christiansen to give the signal from the 1,500-mile trans-ocean hop Friday. At the same time, the officials declared it strange that the Do-X, whose wireless operates in flight, had not communicated its departure.

If the Do-X is en route to the Brazilian coast, as reported, it should be sighted over Fernando de Noronha some time Friday night, since the crosswater hop was expected to take not more than 15 hours.

NO REPORT FROM THE DO-X

Berlin—Germany at a late hour was still without news of whether the air liner Do-X had hopped off on its trans-Atlantic flight to Brazil from Boloma, Portuguese West Africa. Officials at the Dornier works at Friedrichshafen at 11 o'clock said they had no news of the airship's movements.

Lisbon, Portugal—A radio message intercepted by the steamer Cap Arcona said the air liner Do-X would probably take off Monday morning on its trans-Atlantic hop to the Brazilian coast.

BONANZA IN RUMMAGE SALE

Chicago—A rummage sale in Nebraska a week ago proved to be a literary gold mine for William Targ, Chicago book dealer, he revealed. For twenty-five cents Targ bought a copy of Gen. Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur" which turned out to be a first edition volume. Targ said, and is worth between $400 and $500. An inscription "To the Wife of My Youth" distinguishes the volume from other editions.

EARLY MEMBER HONORED

Washington—A vivacious white haired woman, Mrs. Emma L. Degraw of Washington, responded to the Red Cross roll call of fifty-one persons who signed its constitution fifty years ago. She is the only surviving founder thus far reported.

John Barton Payne, Red Cross chairman, immediately invited her to occupy a position of honor at the May 21 golden jubilee banquet at which President Hoover will be ranking guest and speaker.

Mrs. Degraw accepted. In fact, she whimsically confessed the early Red Cross meant more to her for its sociability than for its disaster relief, and she saw Clara Barton, the organization's founder, in the role of perfect hostess rather than savior of the suffering. That was merely in early widowhood, she hastened to explain, and in later years she did her share of rolling of bandages and sewing of garments.

Voliva Seeking Damages

Waukegan, Ill.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion City, north shore religious colony, retaliated for a recent attempt to throw him into bankruptcy by filing five damage suits totaling $179,000 against leaders of the "independent" faction of the colony. Those named as defendants are P. B. Johnson, $100,000; Isaac Mill, $25,000; Charles Piper, $25,000; Franz Dietz, $10,000; and Mrs. Mary E. Hill, $10,000.

Three persons have caused thousands of dollars worth of damage in credit to my industries in Zion City by their actions," the religious leader said.

Federal Judge Woodward in Chicago, denied this week the petition for bankruptcy filed by the quintet. He ruled insufficient proof of insolvency was shown and Voliva produced affidavits to prove himself "eminently solvent."

MAN INJURED CRITICALLY

Omaha—A struggle between two men, staged on the running board of a moving car early Sunday, ended with one in the hospital in a critical condition with a fractured skull. The injured man was Ulysses S. Urban, Omaha.

Harold Craven, Omaha, told police he had snatched Urban's hat as the Craven car, driven by James Querfurth, Omaha, left the curb in front of a hamburger stand. Urban, he said, jumped on the running board and the two struggled for five blocks. Then, Craven stated, he threw the hat into the street and Urban jumped after it. He denied causing Urban to fall or jump.

Urban was picked up and taken to a hospital by several of his companions who were following the Craven car in another machine.

TEXAN STILL USES OXEN AS EQUAL TO FOUR MULES

New Brandenfels, Tex., May 10.—Hardly 50 miles from the state capital of Austin, motorists frequently stop in amazement to watch a 22-year-old farmer driving a yoke of oxen to a plow.

Max Harborth says oxen are the cheapest to feed, being content and healthy on tree branches, grass and water. They are easily controlled, despite their stubbornness, and "equal in endurance and strength to four mules."

GET LAST TORSKE JURYMAN

North Platte—After questioning sixty persons, twelve farmers were chosen for district court jury service, and opening statements were to be heard here this morning in the trial of Magnus Torske, North Platte farmer, on a charge of slaying Lewis C. Paulson, Hastings attorney.

Counselors for the state and the defense said most of the rejections were made because the persons said they had fixed opinions as to the guilt of the accused. The shooting occurred on Torske's farm last Feb. 27. Torske has been in jail here since the affair, which grew out of Paulson's attempt to collect a mortgage.
