

McNamee To Report Auto Classic

Indianapolis Speedway—McNamee at the "mile." Billy Arnold and mechanic.

GRAHAM McNAMEE, radio's ace reporter of sporting events, has again been chosen as the nation's eye-witness for the 500-mile auto race classic at Indianapolis on May 30. The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company will sponsor the last and most exciting hour of the race. Perched high in the glass-enclosed pergola near the finish line, McNamee will describe the shouting thousands in the stands, the milling hordes afoot inside the track, and the grueling tussle of 40 of the world's most famous racers in their grim race with death. McNamee says the Indianapolis races surpass all sporting events for excitement. He will take the air at 2:15 p. m. Central Standard time and will tell his story over a network of 55 stations in the United States and Canada, including WEAF and the NBC red chain. Four former winners are entered. A win is worth about $50,000. It is said that all former records will be broken. (Broadcasting Time: 3:15 Eastern, 2:15 Central, 1:15 Mountain, 12:15 Coast. Daylight Saving one hour earlier.)

QUEEN FELICITATED ON 64TH BIRTHDAY

LONDON, May 26.—Queen Mary is 64 years old today and felicitations poured in on her. She and King George received guests at Sandringham palace. Mary was born at Kensington palace on May 26, 1867, the daughter of the duke of Teck and Mary Adelaide. She was first betrothed in 1881 to the duke of Clarence, eldest son of King Edward VII, but he died in 1892. She married the duke of York in 1893 and was crowned with him in Westminster Abbey in 1911 on the death of King Edward.

Ruth Bryan Owen Plans a 'Gypsy' Tour

Congresswoman Will Use Luxurious Auto and Trailer for a Two Months' Trip

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—Representative Ruth Bryan Owen has set aside the next two months for relaxation of the long cherished longing to go gypsying through a land where she doesn't know the language.

She will sail on June 18 for Copenhagen, equipped in the most modern auto trailer manner for doing Denmark in the manner of her choice. She said she couldn't count on making friends with the Danish people in tumbler fashion, though she may take her concertina along, but she counts on her entourage to attract those whom she passes. Last summer when she went to Yellowstone, curious crowds gathered wherever she parked her huge trailer to look at its kitchenette, its berth, its electric lights, its phone for directing the driver.

To each of the two children and to herself she has allotted one kindred soul to share the fun. Mrs. Owen chose Fannie Hurst, the novelist, her companion in England and Ireland last summer, and on many previous occasions.

Her son, Reginald Bryan Owen, is taking his pal, Ben de Loache, a young singer who will remain abroad to study. And her 10-year-old daughter, Helen Rudd, put up an irresistible request for the companionship of a boarding school chum, Nancy Chapman of Miami.—World-Herald.

Cass County Farm Bureau Notes

Copy furnished from Office of County Agent Waincott

Plants 24 Varieties of Corn.

Fourteen hybrid and ten other varieties of corn were planted last week on the Carl E. Day farm, three miles south of Weeping Water. Four rows, 200 feet long, each variety were planted in the plot. This will be enough for a yield test of each variety which is taken by weighing two rows, five rods long, and the number of pounds of corn obtained represents the number of bushels per acre for the field.

This will be a good opportunity for people in the county to see for themselves what hybrids will do compared to the good local corn. The hybrids used were: eight from the Mangelsdorf Seed Co., Atchison, Kansas; two from Henry Fields Seed Co., Shenandoah, Iowa; four from Funk Bros. Seed Co., Bloomington, Illinois; other varieties were: Peter's King from El Paso, Ill. This has been one of the highest yielding varieties in the state tests for several years; Lorenzen White from Blari; Enyart Yellow; Cooper's Cattle Corn; Livingston St. Charles White, from Weeping Water; and Parker's Cattle, Yellow Dent, and St. Charles White from Weeping Water.

Test Iron Sulphate in Orchard Sprays.

Tests will be run this summer in four orchards in southeastern Nebraska to determine the advisability of using iron sulphate in place of part of the lime sulphur in orchard sprays. Val Keyser of Shubert, Dearie Baker, Shubert, Worth King, Shubert, and Grove Porter of Nebraska City will cooperate with the Horticulture department of the College of Agriculture in conducting the tests.

The men plan to substitute one-half pound of iron sulphate for part of the lime sulphur in summer sprays. Instead of using a gallon to a gallon and a half of lime sulphur they will cut that amount down to three-fourths of a gallon to 50 gallons of water.

The orchardists are after a summer spray which will be effective without burning the leaves and scalding the apples. Heavy applications of lime sulphur have caused considerable damage, especially when the temperature is above 80 degrees.

No Hurry to Plant Sudan Grass.

No one need be in a hurry to plant Sudan grass, crops men at the Agricultural College say. Sudan is essentially a hot weather crop and will not germinate and grow well early in the season.

Men who would use Sudan for temporary pastures this summer might just as well wait until all the corn is planted or even until the middle of June to sow the Sudan grass. Thirty pounds of good clean seed per acre is about the usual rate of planting. Between now and planting time two or three cultivations will do much to keep down the weeds and conserve the supply of moisture which the Sudan will need during July and August to make a maximum growth.

Sudan is probably the best hot weather pasture crop which can be grown in Nebraska. In combination with an alfalfa or sweet clover it makes an all-season temporary pasture on practically any kind of reasonably fertile soil in this state.

Convenient Home Equipment.

Nine hundred and eight Cass county women have made their kitchens more convenient, this past year, by purchasing labor saving equipment, by improving the arrangement of equipment or by remodeling the kitchen.

Two hundred forty-six of these women were not club members, but were women open to suggestion, who put into practice a simple trick told them by a neighbor or friend.

Following is a summary of the number of club members adopting various practices:

Secured service wagons, 22; Learned to save time in bed making, 340; Adopt household tricks to make work easier, 398; Have improved some method of ironing, 378; Have secured electric or gasoline iron, 107; Have made or secured some other piece of ironing equipment, 256; Family have spent money more wisely because of keeping home accounts, 88; Follow a better scheme or plan of work, 202; Secured one better knife, 212; Have made a recommended change in a remodeling problem for house, 82; Made their cupboard or pantry more attractive, 240; Made their cupboard or pantry more convenient by better arrangement of equipment, 153; Have improved refrigeration equipment, 38; Have made or selected two pieces of labor saving equipment for the house, 162.

Many of the project clubs meet monthly during the summer for a social afternoon. Twenty-nine clubs have already enrolled for the project on Home Beautification for next year. This work starts in September and is open to any group of (five or more) women in the county who care to take it. For further information inquire at the Farm Bureau office.—D. D. VERY INTERESTING MEETING

Mrs. Kenneth McCarthy and Mrs. George Troop entertained the Social Workers' Flower club on Wednesday afternoon, May 20th. There was an attendance of fourteen members and six visitors. The visitors were Mrs. Wm. Hansel, Miss Catherine Stava, Mrs. Secora, Mrs. W. O. Troop and daughter, Lots of Nehawka, and Mrs. Victor Wehrlein.

This meeting was in the nature of a flower study. The lesson and program both pertained to the study and planting of flowers. The meeting opened with the president, Mrs. Gilman presiding, at which time several matters were taken up, the study of the lesson was taken up, the topic of which was "Planning the Home Grounds." Each member responded to roll call by naming their favorite flower and to give reasons why they preferred it. A flower contest was held and the ladies were asked to identify pictures of 12 different varieties of flowers marked by numbers. Mrs. James Lepert was the winner, having fourteen of the fifteen correct, and was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

The club will take up the study of authors and Mrs. Troop, Miss Johnson and Mrs. Stamp will be on the program. Miss Lois Troop of Nehawka gave two beautiful vocal solos and little Ralph Stava, nephew of the hostess gave a very fine number.
