MINERS AT MASS MEETING
Pineville, Ky.—More than 500 miners held a mass meeting in the ball park here and heard speakers criticize Governor Sampson and Federal Judge Dawson of the western district of Kentucky.

William Turnbull, president of District 19, United Mine Workers of America, scored Governor Sampson for what he termed a betrayal of the miners in connection with the agreement made in Louisville between labor leaders and the governor's representatives prior to sending state troops into the Harlan county coal fields.

During his address, Percy Campbell, secretary of the Kentucky federation of labor said he wished to "publicly apologize" for the state federation of labor having endorsed Governor Sampson in the past. All of the speakers urged unionization of the miners.

STATEMENT MADE BY G. F. SWIFT
Beef prices are now the lowest since December, 1926, according to Mr. G. F. Swift, president of Swift & Company. This is because of large increase cattle receipts during the past six weeks. Live cattle prices are unprofitable to producers. From the standpoint of cost and food value, Mr. Swift asserted, beef should be on the table of every home daily. Great responsibility for future cattle production rests upon retailers who should be willing to specialize on beef sales in order to push beef consumption. If there are further declines in livestock prices, they will have the effect of still further decreasing cattle production—and this later will result in extremely high prices for beef to the disadvantage of retailers and consumers.

THE ATWATER KENT AUDITION
The local committee for the Atwater Kent audition met and discussed plans for the contest. It is important that it be understood that the judging of the contestants is based solely on the beauty of the voice. An untrained voice of lovely quality has just as much chance of winning as the trained voice.

The citizens of Plattsmouth and Cass county are urged to encourage any boy or girl who is over 18 years of age and under 26 years of age to enter this audition, which will be held in Plattsmouth.

Sometime during the summer one boy and one girl will be chosen to represent Cass county at the state contest held in Omaha sometime after Sept. 15.—Mrs. E. H. Wescott, Chairman, Mrs. J. A. Capwell, Mrs. Hal Garnett, Mrs. Robert Reed, Messrs. Frank Clويد, E. H. Wescott, Emil Weyrich.

Marketing Work to Go Directly to Farm Doors

Federal Grain Corporation to Drop Intermediaries in Its Dealings—Will Buy Directly

Chicago—The Farmers' National Grain Corporation, the great marketing cooperative organization launched by the Federal Farm Board, is going to get right down to the grass roots and deal directly with the farmer through intermediaries. Now it plans to go to the farmer himself.

Discarding its original scheme of operation, the national cooperative purposes to buy the farmers' grain directly so that the farmer can see it at work, it will remove its warehouses out in the country and its name in big letters on them.

In the wheat pit the Farmers' National Grain Corporation is decided to be an entity. But to the producer whose grain it seeks to handle, it is generally a local marketing cooperative movement. In grain, it keeps its part in the control of the national cooperative, for the national is owned by the farmers through their regional setups.

The new program is for the Farmers' National Grain Corporation to contract with its regional cooperative to do the marketing for it. The regional retains its identity. It serves as a local marketing cooperative movement in grain. It keeps its part in the control of the national cooperative, for the national is owned by the farmers through their regional setups.

But the marketing of the grain will be passed on to the national by those who are local marketing cooperative. Consequently when a farmer in Idaho has wheat to sell cooperatively, he will dispose of it directly to the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, and receive a check from it at the market price. The regional cooperative will share in whatever patronage dividend subsequently develops.

The first states to go into the direct selling arrangement are Washington, Idaho, Oregon and Utah. It is reported at headquarters here of the national corporation, July 1 is the date set. Similar disposition is contemplated in California and elsewhere. Warehouses are being acquired in the inter-mountain and north Pacific territory.

Not merely direct selling will be afforded, cutting one link in the cooperative chain, but a better system of handling of the wheat purchased can also be worked out. Planning for the buying and the selling of wheat on a national scale, economies can be developed, it is declared, of moment to the producer.

DRIVERS ARE "HOSTAGES"
South Beloit, Ill.—Sixty Wisconsin truck drivers were "hostages" of an informal "war" between Illinois and Wisconsin. They were arrested here just across the Wisconsin-Illinois border by two inspectors from the office of the Illinois secretary of state. They are charged with having no Illinois commercial licenses for their trucks.

All day, the inspectors stopped Wisconsin trucks crossing into Illinois while two Beloit policemen over on the Wisconsin side of the line warned the drivers to stay on the "home" side. Some did. Others didn't. They were told they would either have to buy Illinois commercial licenses or post $25 bonds. No announcement was made as the reason for the "war" but Governor La Follette of Wisconsin, has under consideration a bill passed by the state legislature which would force trucks from other states to buy Wisconsin commercial licenses when visiting that state. Tuesday, Senator Blanchard of Beloit introduced a resolution recalling the bill. For many years the trucks merely visiting Illinois or Wisconsin have not been forced to obtain Illinois licenses.

SITUATION GROWS SERIOUS
Vatican City—Open clashes between members of Catholic organizations and fascists through Italy centered attention on what, it is believed, is becoming a delicate situation. Lavoro Fascista published what it claimed was an accurate report of a secret meeting of the "Catholic faction," the account requiring almost a full page. The Osservatore Romano, organ of the Vatican, printed two-thirds of a column devoted to alleged cases of intimidation and violence by fascists against members of Catholic organizations at Milan, Benevento, Premilcore, Portica and other towns.

Under the lateran treaty between the Vatican and the Italian government, "Catholic action" is recognized as an official religious body; but the fascists for a long time have charged it with political activity. Another incident adding to the tension occurred Sunday, when, according to Vatican authorities, two young fascists attacked a Vatican mail van, injuring its two drivers.
