Farmers Mostly Binning Wheat.
The farmers of this vicinity as well as all of Cass county and it is reported other portions of the country, have a disposition to bin their wheat rather than to put it on the market, the threshing returns have been very satisfactory as to yield and quality, all testing up well, and the yield being heavy. Reports from the yield of August Johnson showed 30 bushels the acre, while E. H. Armstrong made 35 and Leo Peters 30, with others along the line, some even more but not many less than 22 which makes the crop very satisfactory and should the price advance a little it would be very pleasing.

Miami—A petition for authority to sell real estate holdings of the late William Jennings Bryan in order to convert remaining assets into cash was filed in probate court here by attorneys for W. J. Bryan, Jr., Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, Miami, executors of the estate. Judge Blanton issued a citation to all heirs returnable Sept. 7 to show cause why the petition should not be granted.

W. E. Walsh, attorney who filed the petition, said while it apparently was the desire of Mr. Bryan that the property be sold there was no authority in the will for his executors to sell and they therefore were unable to transfer title. Villa Serena, home of Mr. Bryan reported to have winter, was listed with twenty other pieces of real estate in the petition.

The students determined to ask the resignation of President Ibanez.

Chicago Fears Loss of Its Live Stock Shipments

Rate Increase Is Seen as a Benefit to Omaha—Ruling Based on Data of 1928.

Chicago, Ill., July 24.—The boost of approximately 10 per cent in railroad live stock shipping rates, effective October 27, announced by the interstate commerce commission in Washington Monday, is expected to seriously affect the transportation of farm animals from middle west and western states into Chicago's stockyards. This was the tenor of an opinion given out today by O. W. Sandberg, transportation expert of the American Farm Bureau federation, following a study of the commission's ruling.

"The commission endeavored to make a uniform rate basis," declared Sandberg, "but the attempt is a bad blow to agriculture and the live stock industry in particular."

On Data of 1928.
The ruling is based on data obtained by the commission in 1928, and is the result of rate adjustments requested by railroads over six years ago, he said.

When the hearings were in progress the live stock industry had not suffered the blow dealt to the nation's meat animal producers the last 18 months or so, he asserted.

In order to make a uniform shipping charge based on mileage for all areas west of Chicago, the commission is said to have raised the rates 10 per cent between the Mississippi river and the Rockies, and lowered them over 6 per cent in Texas and the southwest area.

Go to Other Markets.
Farmers in the area between 60 and three hundred miles shipping distance from Chicago are also affected by the increase, the federation's analysis shows. Iowa supplies 51 per cent of the hogs shipped to Chicago, while Illinois, Wisconsin and Missouri supply 77 per cent of the total cattle receipts here. Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Illinois supply 93 per cent of the hogs shipped to Chicago's stockyards.

If railroads accept the authorized increase in October, Sandberg, together with C. A. Stewart of the National Live Stock Marketing association, predict a decided increase in the amount of live stock shipped into Chicago by trucks, or more of the present Chicago business going to St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Paul, Indianapolis or other markets.—World-Herald.

CLAIMS A PLOT TO KIDNAP

Los Angeles—Police here confessed themselves puzzled by the story of Clarence Lenhart, who said efforts had been made to enlist him in a plot to kidnap Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and his wife, Joan Crawford. Lenhart first warned Fairbanks at the latter's home, then reported to police. He said he met a man in Texas who tried to persuade him to join with others in the kidnaping scheme, and that after his arrival in Los Angeles the same man appeared and renewed the proposal. Captain Clark said Lenhart did not furnish detailed information.
