Clean Tools—Clean Jobs

There's a reason why we keep our micrometers, verniers, calipers and gauges clean. They're precision tools and a film of grease or dirt on them can throw them "off" so they no longer do exact work. And exact work is what has made our reputation. Cleanliness falls down with extra speed—40 to 60 miles an hour as they do nowadays. Precision work in fitting pistons, connecting rods and valves requires clean tools. And our reputation is just as clean as the tools.

Mr. Friedrich and the family have decided to make their home in the west, will drive their cars out which are here and take along such good as they will need most, and carry and will dispose of the remainder. They will return to the west in a short time.

Lighted Match Burns Garage.
 Early Monday morning and reported about one o'clock, some one came along and wanted some gasoline as they had run out, and when Mr. Isaac Todd went to get the gasoline, the party lit a match to see, which caused an explosion, burning the garage and the car of Wm. Vantine which was stored in the garage. It seems at this day and age everyone would know enough about gasoline to refrain from lighting matches to find how to draw gasoline. There is no safety zone.

Ethen Allen Much Better.
 Ethen Allen who has been in the hospital for many days now is reported as getting along much better. He has had his foot suspended and in a cast which makes it very sore and while the foot is making progress it seems rather slow to Ethen. The folks make frequent visits and are hoping that soon he may be able to return home. Word from San Diego tells of Walter Allen making very satisfactory progress in his recovering from the pneumonia which he has had for some weeks.

Fall Breaks Arm.

Has Very Hard Fall.
 While Mrs. A. L. Becker was descending from a ladder on which she was picking fruit, she fell and not being able to in any way help herself, received a very severe fall, causing her to be bruised very badly. Mrs. Becker is feeling very sore and bruised from her sad experience. It has not been very many months since she was very seriously injured in a fall before, which required a number of weeks to recover.

Returned Home Sunday.
 Mrs. Sam P. Larva who has been in the south for some time spending some time at the home of her folks at Jonesboro, Illinois, and also some time at St. Louis, Mo., where she was first called on account of illness of relatives and where she remained for a visit, returned home last Sunday.

He had a stable of very fine horses and furnished the transportation for the traveling public. Member of his friends have gone to visit him and it seems a great source of pleasure to him.

Meets With Serious Accident.
 While Herman Meisinger was doing some farm work about the place on last Tuesday evening and was operating a hay rake, which clogged and as he was endeavoring to raise the teeth which gather the day, they having stuck, he pulled hard on them and they giving away suddenly, threw Mr. Meisinger from the rake with the effect that a projecting piece of iron caught him at the neck inflicting a severe wound some two inches in length and very deep in the flesh near the thigh which made a very severe wound. Mr. Meisinger was able to come to town immediately and have the wound dressed by Dr. G. H. Gilmore. The wound will make a very painful and dangerous one for some time and should be treated which is not expected, would complicate matters. However, it is expected he will soon recover and be in good health again.

Murray Red Sox Check Up Another Victory

Defeat Fast Manley Team by the Score of 5 to 2 at Murray Park Sunday Afternoon.

The Murray Red Sox added another to their string of victories on Sunday afternoon when they checked a victory over the fast Manley team by the score of 5 to 2, in a contest that for some time looked like a no-hit contest for Hopkins, Sox hurler, but this was spoiled in the eighth inning when Sherman was successful in getting one over the infield for the one hit of Manley.

The Murray team had their big inning in the third when extra base blows added in the scoring of three runs. Louie Svoboda opened the inning with a double and was followed by Hopkins reaching first safely, they scoring when John Svoboda, first sacker of the Sox, doubled. Svoboda later scoring on the blow of Stone.

A double by Louie Svoboda in the sixth tallied Holch Cholcher while in the lucky seventh Newman was scored on the two base hit of Stone. The Manley team took a lease on life in the eighth and for a few moments made the outcome of the game one of doubt but were unable to overtake the lead of the Sox. Two were out when Spidell, catcher of Manley, hit a hard liner to Hopkins which was knocked down but "Spi" was safe at the initial sack and was followed by J. Livingston and Homan. Both of whom were passed and then Sherman hit safely to score Spidell and Livingston, but D. Blair was retired on an easy grounder to Hopkins and checked the rally of the Manley team.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

FINDS GAS WITH MATCH

Early Monday morning shortly after 1 o'clock a stranded stranger aroused Loren Todd, residing south of Murray and sought to secure a small amount of gasoline that he might continue on his journey and Mr. Todd obligingly arose and hastened out to the garage to assist the motorist. As they were in the garage the stranger lit a match while drawing the gasoline and at once an explosion occurred that caused the garage to burst into flames and while the stranger and Mr. Todd were able to escape from the building, the structure was soon a roaring mass of flames. The car belonging to William Vantine which was stored in the building was also consumed in the burned structure.

BLIND YET SEES

To be blind is considered a great handicap. But there is an instance where it is a blessing. An organization that is blind to distinctions of race or creed or color sees only the need for service. Because the public responds to such a call it belongs to the American people.

"I believe that the greatest thing that any people can have," said the head of one of America's foremost universities, "is some sort of a vehicle to express the idealism which underlies their lives. I believe," he went on "that this American Red Cross, both nationally and internationally, expresses... the best we have in the way of ideas."

Need for service in war time is spectacular; need for immediate help in a great disaster is obvious; but what is not generally understood in some parts of the United States is that continuous, ever-present need in a greater war and a bigger disaster is that of the individual who attracts so much attention—the conflict to improve health, to mitigate suffering and to minimize those epidemics that are verily disasters of disease.

Wherever there is a local arm of the American Red Cross—the Chapter—a progressive community is participating in this never-ceasing fight because it has realized the need for this day-by-day service. Just a few figures show how badly education in health principles is wanted. In 1924 according to the Bureau of Census 176,671 people died in the registration area from diseases of the heart; 97,403 from pneumonia; 88,863 from kidney diseases; and 89,724 from tuberculosis. The total death rate was $52,315. Many of these were undoubtedly preventable if the victims had only known how to safeguard themselves.

That proper care for mother and child prevents heavy maternity and infant mortality New Zealand has proved. But the United States is a long way behind that country in this regard.

In 1924, according to the same authoritative figures, 115,709 children died before they reached one year of age in the United States, passed away in childbirth. Greatest cause of death among infants was congenital malformations and diseases of early infancy that swept away 77,653 while 27,566 died of diarrhea and enteritis.

Each of these problems engages the attention of a special Red Cross service. Through public health nursing, the public is educated for health so that such diseases as tuberculosis may be eradicated through home hygiene and care of the sick, women and girls are taught simple rules of hygiene and sanitation when followed frustrate those habits that produce epidemics and mean bodily care, minimizing organic disturbances; through nutrition the relation of food to health is taught. An important aspect is prenatal care that teaches dietary precautions helping to insure health for mother and babe.

In case county possesses no record of the lowest rate in the United States with the healthiest mothers and babies? If it doesn't such work as the American Red Cross Chapter carries on is wanted. Blind to race or creed or color distinctions, its sight for service is surely needed.

HEAR OF OLD TIMES

From Wednesday's Daily—

The local Rotary club yesterday had a very interesting word picture of Plattsmouth in the seventies and eighties which was given by George B. Mann, veteran printer, who has been a resident of this city since 1871 when he arrived here as a child via the steamboat route with his parents and has since made his home in this community.

The story of the old times was most interesting to all of the club members and brought a view of the city that few could remember, the steamboat landings, the unpaved streets, the business section that in the early seventies was located on Second street near where the Burlington yards are now located, but which Mr. Mann gave a description in a vivid manner and recalled the business firms that were here at that time. The business section that part of history of this part of the west. The talk was enlivened with many interesting stories of the early days.

The meeting was presided over by President R. E. Bailey, who has now completed his thirteenth school teaching work and can take full charge of the office to which he was inducted in July.

The program leader of the meeting was E. A. Wurl and his program was most appreciated, as Mr. Mann's talk was filled with local history that will long be remembered by all that heard it.

RECEIVES JAIL SENTENCE

Frank Senevey, a resident of Greenwood, was arraigned in county court Monday afternoon on the charge of possession of intoxicating liquor, he having been arrested Saturday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Rex Young, Constable Tom Svoboda, and Pat Reed, on the information filed against the man by County Attorney W. G. Kieck. The officers found some 149 bottles of beer at the Senevey home and which was taken and brought on into this city.

At the hearing before Judge A. H. Duxbury the defendant was found guilty of the charge as preferred and was given a sentence of sixty days in the county jail and remained to the custody of the sheriff for the serving of the sentence.

Hold Doctor in a Mystery Fire Probe

Explains Presence at Blaze; Nabbed as Church Burns—Doubt Charges to Be Filed.

Paxton, Aug. 4.—Fire damaged the Lutheran church here early Tuesday and Dr. H. J. O'Donnell was arrested for questioning in connection with a series of fires in Paxton during the past five weeks. Damage to the church was estimated at $2,600.

The church fire was the fifth here in five weeks. Two other fires also were reported in the county during the period and officers believed all were incendiary.

O'Donnell has been practicing medicine here for a year. He is a graduate of Creighton university and served his internship at Lord Lister hospital in Omaha.

It was learned that Dr. O'Donnell accounted for his presence and doubt existed that charges would be filed against him. Officers said he had an excellent reputation.

Officers took the physician to Ogallala immediately after his arrest. County Attorney G. J. McGinley and other officers attempted to question O'Donnell, but he refused to talk.

Mrs. O'Donnell and her two children have been in Omaha for the past two months.

Total losses in the Paxton fires, officials said, were $45,500.

The other fires were in the opera house, a dwelling, a restaurant and a farm house and outbuildings.

Deputy Fire Marshal L. J. Butcher is expected here soon.

Mrs. O'Donnell, a former nurse at Lord Lister hospital and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Foster, 1738 North Thirty-eighth street, formerly of Plattsmouth, came to Omaha, May 31, with her two daughters, Dorothy, 8, and Margaret, 7.

Tuesday afternoon she declared her husband's detention by police "must be a terrible mistake." She said he had written her of the large number of fires, all of which have occurred since her departure, and told her how indications pointed to incendiary origins.

That her husband is innocent and can account for his presence in the vicinity of the church fire Tuesday, Mrs. O'Donnell said she is certain.

Dr. O'Donnell came to Omaha June 6, when his wife went to Lord Lister hospital for an operation. He returned home again, June 14, and later came a second time on an excursion week-end trip, Mrs. O'Donnell said.

The O'Donnell family moved to Paxton more than a year ago from near Madison, S. D., where Dr. O'Donnell had been practicing since completing his internship. Dr. O'Donnell has had two brothers also graduate from Creighton university.
