ed to start on its curing method, and will be ready for use when it shall have seasoned and the shoring done and the concrete swept off, for some one spilled a quantity of tacks on the new pavement and those who were sooner and sought to steal a drive on the new slab before it was ready came to grief.

May Have Use of New Paving on Highway 75

Section From Union to Nebraska City Will Soon Be Ready for Travel, Not to Wait on Overpass

The highway officials having in charge the supervision of the paving and road work from Union south to Nebraska City, have indicated in the latter city that the paving will be put in use soon, altho the overpass at the Mullis corner north of Nebraska City will not be ready until fall.

The plans as stated by F. H. Kleitsch, state engineer in charge of highways in the southeast section of the state, indicates that the paving will be thrown open as soon as possible and a short detour around the site of the overhead crossing will be used for the benefit of the traveling public.

This overpass will probably be ready in the fall when it is expected to have the Fort Crook viaduct completed and will then give a wonderful stretch of highway from Omaha south to Nebraska City, as the paving and viaduct program north of this city is speeding along in very good shape.

The paving of No. 75 which is now stretching from Omaha to south of Auburn will make a great highway system and with many junction graveled highways leading to the towns in this part of the state, making a great addition to all season surfaced roads in the state.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Meisinger with Kathleen Nolte, Margaret Valtery, Helen Ulrich and Evelyn Meisinger, hostesses.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, August 16, was "Soul." One of the Biblical selections reads in part as follows: "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord." (Deut. 6:4) Other selections from the Bible were read to show that the word "Soul" frequently is used in the Scriptures synonymously with God. Since there is but one God, there is but one Soul, and that one not included in material forms. The nature of Soul as infinite Love was shown; also that understanding and obedience to Soul heals disease. A portion of one citations from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 182), relating to the study of the Bible, reads as follows: "The proper use of the word soul can always be gained by substituting the word God, where the real meaning is required. In other cases, use the word sense, and you will have the scientific signification. As used in Christian Science, Soul is properly the synonym of Spirit, or God; but out of Science, soul is identical with sense, with material sensation."

HOLD FINE PICNIC

The vicinity of old Kenosha, one of the early settlements along the Missouri river, was the scene of a very pleasant gathering on Sunday when the men and women who as boys and girls attended the old school at that place, came for a picnic, bringing with them members of their family circle.

One of the most delightful reminders of the past to the former pupils experienced was that of the great tree that stands but a few steps from the school house in the pasture of Mrs. Sarah McNatt. This tree is many years old, beneath its shade the children of fifty years ago played their games, with breadth of shade covers some eighty-six by ninety feet, a wonderful sight on a hot summer day. This old Elm tree measures six feet through and is one of the largest and most attractive in this section of the west.

The time was spent by the men pitching horseshoes, with races for the young and old as well as a short program of singing and speaking.

There were some fifty-three in attendance at the picnic and the members of the party decided to have this an annual affair in August of next year and to get by the men pitching horseshoes, with races for the young and old as well as a short program of singing and speaking.

Among those from other points to attend the picnic were Miss Ida Bell Thomas of Lincoln, Ione Barnard of Kansas City, and Mary Jones of South Bend.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

The F. A. Parkening home west of Plattsmouth was the scene of a very pleasant gathering on Sunday when a number of friends and relatives gathered at the Parkening home to assist Mr. F. A. Parkening and Mrs. L. L. Parkening of Omaha in the observance of their birthday anniversaries. Everyone came with filled baskets and at noon the lunch was put together and served in a cafeteria style and at an appropriate hour in the afternoon delicious home made ice cream was served which was enjoyed by everyone.

Those who participated in the happy event were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kiser and family of Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. F. Kiser and Ella Kiser of Benson, Mr. Carl Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. Christ Parkening, Mrs. L. L. Parkening, Mrs. Thos. Ostleford, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Bahne and daughter, Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hafke and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Aug. Beuhler and son, Ralph, all of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wamsat and family of Elkhorn, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wamsat and son, Arthur, of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell and family of Murray, Mr. and Mrs. John Parkening and family and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Parkening and Estella.

RECEIVES FINE RAIN

From Wednesday's Daily—This city's vicinity was visited last night by one of the well known million dollar rains which swept in from the east shortly after 6 o'clock and registered .65 of an inch in this city. The rain was accompanied by strong wind and during the time the storm raged with considerable violence over this section.

West of this city the rainfall was rather spotted, there being a very heavy fall just at the outskirts of the city while farther west the rain was not so heavy.

The rain did a wonderful good to the crops and made everyone feel more like living despite the general condition.

OTOE POULTRY HERE

From Wednesday's Daily—A number of cars with poultry from Otoe county was noticed in the streets today, being disposed of to the local dealers, the prices here being the best for some time and the farmers showing their appreciation of that fact by bringing in the poultry as well as their farm products for disposal in this city. Plattsmouth has always proved a good poultry market and with a number of dealers the community is able to take all of the poultry that is offered.

Asks Surplus Wheat be Given to the Hungry

Samuel R. McKelvie Says the Farm Board Can Solve Market Glut and Meet Needs.

Lincoln, Aug. 18.—Sam R. McKelvie, former governor and former wheat member of the federal farm board, Tuesday suggested wheat owned by the Grain Stabilization Corp. be made available for emergency food relief.

"I still insist that for the good of all parties—most of all the farmer—the sooner stabilization supplies of wheat are disposed of the better. The opportunity is at hand," said McKelvie.

"The federal government will be obliged to join with cities, counties, states and agencies of voluntary relief in feeding millions of people this winter," McKelvie asserted.

"With vast numbers of these, it cannot be a matter of loans. It must be gifts of food, clothing and possibly housing. The food is available in the form of wheat, and there is no better food."

"No one who has access to plenty of flour, milled wheat, whole wheat or bread is going to starve. And there is an abundance of wheat."

"The Stabilization Corp. has it stored in all parts of the United States. It can be distributed, freight paid, to local agencies of relief, who can have it milled and passed on to the needy. It should not be given or sold to anyone who is able to buy it should be used purely and solely as food relief."

He listed the following as advantages: "1. The government, having the wheat and being obliged to dispose of it, could economize in its expenditures for food relief supplies. There would be the minimum of cost for distribution. Many mills co-operating with their local relief agencies should be glad to do the grinding at cost. Many bakeries would do the same."

"2. It would avoid the practical aspects of a dole. It would involve no gifts or loans of cash. People receiving relief in this form would not expect to have it continued beyond the time of need."

"3. It would be the finest investment ever made in advertising to encourage a return to the larger use of wheat for food."

"4. It would get rid of at least a part of our domestic surplus of wheat."

"5. If such a plan is to be followed, congress must authorize it," said McKelvie, and the revolving fund of the farm board should be reimbursed. All of this can be done in December, he added.

Production is Halted in Wide Oil Areas

Predictions Are That Prices Soon Will Be Headed Up—Shutdown Under Martial Law

Kilgore, Tex., Aug. 18.—Approximately two-fifths of the entire crude oil production of the United States had been cut off tonight by the spectacular action of two men—Governors W. H. Murray of Oklahoma and Ross S. Sterling of Texas.

The shutdown of the great east Texas field—largest in the country—was completed today under martial law, stemming the rush of petroleum that overwhelmed the industry and drove prices to the lowest level in midcontinent history.

Flush wells in Oklahoma, closed two weeks ago by Governor Murray, remained under martial law and the Oklahoma executive reiterated the shutdown would continue until purchasing companies raised the price to $1 a barrel.

Action of the two governors lopped nearly one million barrels from the nation's daily output of crude. Predictions of Governor Sterling and oil leaders that prices were headed upward and that possible stabilization of the industry, long suffering from overproduction, was in sight, found some degree of fulfillment today.

The Morgan Petroleum company boosted its offer for Oklahoma City crude to 77 cents a barrel, 25 cents above the existing top price, contingent on reopening of the wells in that field. But Governor Murray was unshaken in his stand for $1 oil. —World-Herald.
