Manley Wins the County Fair Championship

Defeat Murray Red Sox by Score of 7 to 0 Before Large Crowd at the County Fair.

The fast Manley baseball team which has in the past tasted defeat at the hands of their rivals, the Murray Red Sox, Thursday afternoon scored a sweet revenge on the Sox by administering a shutout at the deciding game of the two day tournament at the county fair.

On Tuesday the Manley team won from Louisville 7 to 4 while Murray defeated Eagle 13 to 1 on Wednesday, placing the two strong county teams to face each other in the culminating game Thursday.

The Manley team had a surprise for the Sox as Guinotte, one of the fast hurlers of Omaha amateur baseball circles was on the scene and helped to do his bit in the undoing of the Sox. Guy Hopkins who pitched Wednesday was not in shape to be used by the Sox as he is to pitch Sunday while Hans Newman was reserved for a game that the Sox was to stage today with Valparaiso and so Bill Hopkins was elected to go to the mound for the Sox and was nicked for ten hits, which with five errors helped tell the story.

The Sox tried for a score in the opener when Newman, who had tripped to center, attempted to score when Cholcher hit to short but was caught at the plate on the throw of "Chuck" Livingston, who is incidentally one of the real hot ball players of the county at the short position. From then on the game was all to the good for Manley whose hitting and fielding was of a high type.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

Manley		AB	H	PO	A	E

Eleventh Cass County Fair a Great Success

Proves a Wonderful Showing of Products of the Farms of County; Largely Attended.

Friday, September 18th, 1931, saw the greatest fair which has ever been held in Cass county. With adverse weather during the growing season, it was not to be expected that there would be a better display of products of the farm, garden and orchard than former years, but it seemed that with the productive soils and the excellent husbandry of the citizens of Cass county, that the Lord has blessed and we behind it have a wonderful exhibit in all lines than ever before.

While every day of the wonderful fair was fine, and the displays were wonderful, the last day featured events which far outstripped the other days.

The parade, which was composed of the schools, industrial, civic and historical, far eclipsed anything which was produced by the state fairs.

While Iowa is a wonderful state and as well so is Nebraska, they, when it came to the parade, were off from the years before and in some instances was barely half of former years, but the reverse was the case of the Cass county fair. Much credit is due the management and the hustling city of Weeping Water for the success, but behind it all was a very loyal citizenry of the entire county, who were faithful to the last person in making the annual fair of Cass county this year the very best.

The parade, with the handling of the immense crowds which flocked to the fair city, the parade was not able to get started on scheduled time, but when they did get going it was a stunner, the first being a band, which was followed by the Boy Scouts, then two members of the American Legion bearing the national colors, which was followed by the Weeping Water drum corps.

Then came Elbert Wiles of near Myrard with his four sorrel horses, and which made a wonderful display as they had drawn first prize, they attracted the attention of the crowds which cheered as he passed, and to which he acknowledged the greetings with a smile. Following these were black horses and a lot of them fine formed and excellent animals, with teams being driven, then came mules, followed by such a large and fine display of cattle, that it was to which he acknowledged the greetings with a smile.

The train is the only means of receiving a late mail from the west and north into this city which can be distributed and received by the patrons of the post office the same afternoon. Its removal would mean that the mail received here at 6:30 over the Missouri Pacific would not be available until morning for the patrons, a very great hardship on the business houses of the city who are now served by the mail of No. 2.

The Burlington has reduced a number of their trains and which have not been opposed as there is no desire to try and force a hardship on the railroad but it is the general opinion that the removal of No. 2 would be a distinct damage to the community.

The Women's Auxillary and St. Mary's Guild of the St. Luke's church held a very delightful meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Roberts. The ladies spent the time in the discussion of the plans for the year and also had the pleasure of a very interesting discussion of the mission work by Canon and Mrs. Peter. Datny refreshments were served at an appropriate hour.

shown by Fred Rehmeier and son and daughter, Herbert Stander who also had a nice display as well as Harold Nickles, all were fine and showed that they had received care and that the good care was reflected in the condition of the exhibits. Marius Nelson of near Avoca had some very fine Duroc, and which was attracting considerable attention, while the display of the Schafer Brothers was such that there were throngs of inquirers and buyers at the portion of the pavilion much of the time. The children of John Hobscheidt were showing some very nice Spotted Poland China young boars and gilts as well as a six hundred pound boar. Gwendolyn Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Hanson, was pleased with first Champion on Spotted Poland China and also with second on pig club and second on open exhibit.

Harry M. Knabe had a large exhibit of Hampshires in all the varieties, all from the wonderful sire Promoter, there being guilts, boars and older hogs. He drew many premiums and sold many to breeders of hogs over the county.

Mrs. Georgia Creamer from Murray brought a basket and a quilt, both of such worth as to demand a prize.

W. F. Nolte who owns the Evergreen Poultry Farm and hatchery for the general display received first, as he had 354 points while the next nearest was 189. Mr. Nolte who is a veteran breeder and hatcher has made a specialty of breeding and growing Single Comb, dress many breeds and many seasons hatches away above 100,000 chicks in a season.

George Thompson of near Murray had a very fine basket of potatoes which claimed for him second prize. Elmer Philip had a number of varieties of exhibits and all of which scored and for which he was awarded prizes, among which was red corn, watermelons, hop corn, tomatoes, mlo maise and cane.

Joseph McMaken of Plattsmouth had a display of some twenty-four kinds of grapes which drew so good that he received a premium on them all.

Charles Warga and James Warga had a very fine display of honey which was one of the very attractive displays at the Agricultural hall, and the electric lighting effects added much to the excellent display.

TO RETURN TO THIS CITY Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wideman, who have for the past few years made their home at Plainview, Nebraska, are to return to this city to make their home. Mrs. Wideman, who is an expert beautician, it is expected will again engage in that line of work which she was engaged in before removing to Plainview. The many friends will be pleased to learn that this excellent family is to again make this city their home and extend them a hearty welcome.

The remainder of the afternoon was given to visiting, seeing the exhibits and receiving the awards which continued until the coming of the rain which caught hundreds of people in the city or on their way home, with the mud impeding their progress. Taking it all in all it was a wonderful day for the fair and one well worth driving many miles to see.

Some Fine Exhibits. In the window of the Agricultural hall was a freight car on a short track, which represented the work of the Red Cross of Cass county, in fact it represented one which was shipped from Weeping Water last year to the south where there was a failure in crops and which bore not alone the food for those who were needing it but the good wishes of the members of the order in this county.

J. A. Kiser had on exhibition a stick of wood which the beavers had cut nearly off and it had blown over, showing the cutting of the beavers, and was found by Mr. Kiser near Cullom. It claimed first prize in this line. Mr. Kiser had a walnut that had three half kernels as well as a file which had been lost under a corn crib for fifty-five years and was in fairly good condition so that it could file nicely.

Vernie Pullen had a wonderful display of Spotted Poland China hogs with six hogs and four spring pigs, he was able to secure two firsts and senior champion. Vernie is a member of the pig club and has made a very fine success of the raising of hogs.

Norman Gakemeier of west of Louisville, son of Gust Gakemeier had a fine display of Spotted Poland China which he was selling very rapidly. He was not asking for a premium.

There were three very fine displays of Chester Whites which were

Vogler Family Reunion Held at Schliefert Farm

Get-Together Meeting Planned by the Children, All Residents of This Vicinity—Bring Lunch

The children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vogler, of the vicinity of Louisville, held their first annual reunion on Sunday, September 6, at the beautiful farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schliefert, south of Louisville. This is the old home place of Mr. Schliefert's mother, Mrs. Mary Schliefert.

The reunion was planned by the children, all of whom live in this vicinity. Each family brought along a basket of good things to eat and a freezer of home made ice cream and the dinner was the big event of the occasion, being bountiful and delicious and prepared by some of the best cooks in the neighborhood.

The day was one of much pleasure to all. The fine home with its attractive setting of handsome trees and shrubbery, a lily pool and rock garden combined adding to its charm, was much admired and enjoyed. Mr. Schliefert is a lover of nature and had some original landscaping ideas which he has put into effect to good advantage and all were pleased to take note of the many interesting and fine ideas.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vogler were loved and esteemed by all who knew them and were sincerely mourned when they departed this life. Their children are prosperous and prominent citizens and have a host of friends and this part of Cass county is fortunate to have such substantial citizens as the foundation of the social life of the communities where they reside. Their friends wish for them many more happy and enjoyable reunions.

Those present were the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Schliefert and little daughter, Minerva. Mr. and Mrs. Oris Schliefert and little son, Herman, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vogler and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Vogler and family, Mr. and Mrs. August Jochim and daughter, Thelma, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heil, Jr., and son, Glen, and the following married children and their families: Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Meisinger and daughter, Norma Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Meisinger and daughter, Ellen Louise, of Cedar Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kupke and Mr. and Mrs. August Kupke, of near Murdock; Orville Ragoss and Louis Wendt, of this vicinity. About forty guests in all took part in the festivities.—Louisville Courier.

WIN ONE SIDED GAME The hard hitting Murray Red Sox annexed a one sided game from the Eagle team at the county fair at Weeping Water Wednesday, winning by a score of 13 to 1. On Tuesday Manley defeated the Louisville team, 5 to 4, and the afternoon will oppose the Murray Red Sox.

The game of the Sox started out as if it might be a hotly fought game as both teams scored one run each, but after that inning passed it was merely a question of how large a score the Sox would roll up. In the opener Hall of Eagle hit safe and scored when Jones tripled to bring in the run but Jones died on the third base sack. For the Sox Newman scored on a hit and the double of Stone that brought him in.

Ransford, who was on the mound for Eagle was chased to the showers in the fourth inning after six runs had been acquired by Murray, being replaced by Pifer, who fared little better and in addition to the hard hitting of the Murray team there were a number of errors to add to the defeat of the Eaglets.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

PRICE BOOST IS MADE AIM Des Moines—Governor Turner and five members of the newly created Iowa farm committee, seeking higher prices for corn, will leave Saturday for Washington to confer with President Hoover. The group has appointments Monday with the president, Secretary Hyde, Eugene Meyer of the federal reserve board and James C. Stone, chairman of the federal farm board.

The group expects to ask lower interest rates on loans thru the intermediate credit system or the farm board. Grain, stored under the Iowa warehousing law, would serve as collateral under the projected plan. The outcome of the Washington conference will determine the fate of a contemplated convention of governors of other corn states, Governor Turner has said.

Compulsory Military Drill in Disfavor

Methodist Laymen Voice Opposition—Ask Salary Cuts for the Church Officials.

Omaha—“Unalterable opposition to compulsory military training in high schools and colleges” and calls for a sharp reduction in salaries of higher church officials and equalization of preachers' salaries on a more equitable basis were voted by the Nebraska Methodist Laymen's association at its annual meeting here Friday.

The resolution opposing compulsory military training contained a phrase “memorializing the board of regents of the state university and boards of education thruout the state that if such instruction is retained, it be placed upon a strictly voluntary basis.” In addition to voting in favor of salary cuts, the laymen went on record as opposing “payment of any honorariums for services of a bishop, either within or without his area beyond traveling or other necessary expenses not included in his usual allowance.”

In voting the salary reduction resolution, the laymen pointed out that the fund from which the officials are paid is now overdrawn. Following the resolution voting, the laymen elected delegates to the world conference at Atlantic City next May. The delegates are W. Edgar Gates, Lincoln; George M. Spurlock, York; George H. Gray, Columbus; Mrs. Mae McLain, Elsie; C. Ray Gates, Grand Island; W. A. Brown, Friend; Mrs. Edgar Haven, Norfolk; W. S. Rogers, Alnsworth; Miss Ella M. Watson, Lincoln, and John H.
