Death Bouquet Adds to Mystery of Murder Case

Was Placing the Bouquet With Knife Concealed in It on Grave Work of Maron

The finding of a bouquet of withered garden flowers with a knife concealed in it on the grave of Fred Patterson, slain county surveyor, has brought a new aspect to the possible identification of the man or woman that killed the aged man in his store at Rock Bluffs on the night of September 12th.

The flowers were apparently asters and a few small gladioli, had been made into the bouquet by someone not accustomed to handling flowers in this form as the flowers were wadded together, the knife placed at the back of the flowers and all tied together by several pieces of string.

When found by Deputy Sheriff Rex Young the flowers were on the foot of the grave and the knife was on the bottom of the bouquet, resting on the earth that covered the last resting place of the aged surveyor. While the flowers were not at the funeral service they had evidently been placed on the grave the same day, the donor of the bouquet of hate coming to the desolate pioneer cemetery as all had departed to lay this challenge on the grave.

The finding of the flowers makes it appear that the slaying was one of revenge or the work of a mental defective and who glorifying in the deed had placed the knife and flowers on the grave in exultation over the crime.

It is possible that finger prints may be found on the handle of the knife which was protected from the elements by the flowers and tests will be made to learn if possible if the prints exist.
Rewards aggregating $750 have been made for the slayer by the estate of Mr. Patterson and the county of Cass.

SUGGESTS IMPROVED METHODS

From Wednesday's Daily—

The session of the Taxpayer's League last evening was attended by a very large number of the residents of the city including a number of the city officials. One of the chief matters taken up was that of the discussion of the manner of handling city funds in the offices of the clerk and treasurer, so as to make it more simple and preserve the records so that they might be easily followed, particularly in the various paving districts of the city which was taken as illustrations by A. L. Tidd, president of the league.

The manner of keeping the records was touched upon by Mr. Tidd and who offered a number of suggestions as to changes that would make for the improvement of the methods of handling the records. The policy of record keeping over a number of years was checked up and Mr. Tidd showed how they could be kept in a more simple way and where confusion could be avoided which he claimed was present in a great many cases.

Farm House in Rock Bluffs is Burned Down

Residence of Walter Furlong Burned to Ground Early Sunday Morning—Cause Unknown

Early Sunday morning the residents of the vicinity of the old town of Rock Bluffs were startled to find one of the houses in that locality wrapped in flames, the third mysterious fire in a few short weeks that has occurred in a few miles of the scene of the last blaze.

The residence that was destroyed Sunday was that of Walter Furlong, one of the newer properties in the vicinity of the "ghost city," as it had been built two years ago and was one of the most attractive farm homes in that locality.

The house was situated south of the old townsite, north of the old Furlong place.
When discovered the fire was well underway and was impossible to check as it ravaged the home and contents. The members of the family had gone to Omaha Saturday to visit and were absent when the fire occurred.

The fire is the third that has occurred in a few miles of each other in that locality, the first being the barn of Mike Hausladen, some miles north of Rock Bluffs and a short time later the farm on the S. D. Fitchhorn farm was destroyed, there being no apparent cause to be found for the fires. The Hausladen fire occurred early in the morning while the Fitchhorn fire occurred in the middle of the day and in both cases the fires were well under way when discovered.

The frequent occurrence of the fires in the same farm neighborhood is causing more or less speculation in that section of the county where so recently occurred the Fred Patterson murder, the perpetrator of which has so far eluded discovery.

While L. J. Butcher, state fire marshal, was at the scene of the fire Sunday at the request of Sheriff Bert Reed, there was little to be found of any definite clue as to the cause of the fire. It was the opinion of the fire marshal, however, that the fire as well as those preceding it had been set by some firebug.

Elmer Broman and Miss Esther Hoffman, both of Omaha, were married by Rev. O. G. Wichmann of the St. Paul's Evangelical church, at his residence.

Win the Fifth Game of World Series; "Pepper" Martin Clouts Home Run—Back to St. Louis

From Wednesday's Daily—
Too much "Pepper" Martin was the wail of the Athletics today as they lost the fifth game of the world's series to St. Louis 5 to 1. Jerry Halaban, the boy that won the second game of the series for the Red Birds, was the hurler and while touched for six hits, was invincible in the pinches. The Athletics started the game with Waite Hoyte and who was relieved by Walberg in the seventh inning. The "Pepper" added to his record today with a home run to score Frisch.

Mrs. Adelaide Boynton read an interesting paper on "Does Beer Prevent Drunkenness," a very able discussion of this phase of the present prohibition question.
Miss Elizabeth Spangler gave a paper, "Hotels in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas Back Prohibition," which was most interesting.

Mrs. Robert Hayes gave a most entertaining discussion of the life and works of Miss Frances E. Willard, long time president of the W. C. T. U.

At the close of the afternoon dainty and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

GOES TO HOSPITAL

From Wednesday's Daily—
This morning at an early hour Sheriff Bert Reed and Deputy Sheriff Rex Young departed for Lincoln and taking with them William Bowen, who was ordered committed to the state hospital Tuesday. Bowen was able to walk from the county jail to the awaiting car with the aid of crutches to make the trip, although when he was brought here three weeks ago it was necessary for Deputy Sheriff Young to carry him on his back to the car when leaving the penitentiary hospital and also on reaching the jail here. After the decision here Tuesday to commit him to the state hospital, Bowen improved a great deal and while he was apparently hardly able to move before, he was up and using the crutches. His departure from the jail will be a source of relief to the sheriff as well as to the other inmates of the jail, Bowen having been a very trying prisoner in every way and hard for the other prisoners to get along with.
