SHOWS SOME IMPROVEMENT

From Wednesday's Daily—
The reports from the bedside of Sheriff Bert Reed this noon were to the effect that while he is still a very sick man, that a change for the better in his general condition was noticed. Mr. Reed had a very wearing afternoon Tuesday and which caused much apprehension but this morning seemed to show more strength, very encouraging in every way to the attending physicians.

The improvement, even slight, has been most encouraging to the many who have made inquiries as to the condition of Mr. Reed from all parts of the county.

HEAR COLORED SINGERS

From Wednesday's Daily—
The Rotary club yesterday at the weekly session and luncheon at the majestic cafe, had the pleasure of enjoying a very fine program that had been arranged by L. D. Hiatt and was under the direction of Rev. H. G. McClusky.

In the musical part of the program, two very charming vocal solos were given by Mrs. Gilbert Hirz, one of Plattsmouth's most talented young ladies, the offering being received with the warmest approval.

The club had a most pleasant surprise afforded them when six colored students of Smith college of Little Rock, Arkansas, who were presenting a program at the Methodist church, appeared and gave three vocal selections, their presentation being a real musical treat to the club.

HOMEMAKERS CLUB MEETS

The Mynard Homemakers club held a very pleasant meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Ralph M. Wiles, a very pleasing number of the members being in attendance. Mrs. Elbert Wiles, president, presided. The extension work leaders, Mrs. C. L. Wiles and Mrs. E. H. Spangler, explained the work of the year. This year's project is to make the home and surroundings as attractive as possible by making the best use of what is at hand with the least expenditure of money.

LAMB WIZARD

Max O. Cullen, who will be a visitor in the city, October 28 to demonstrate the modern methods of cutting lamb. Mr. Cullen is known across the country as the lamb wizard, due to the dexterity with which he fashions the new retail cuts. The National Wool Growers Association, the Colorado-Nebraska Lamb Feeders Association, the National Live Stock and Meat Board, and the University of Nebraska have joined in making the local program possible.

When is a lamb a duck? What is the Saratoga chop? These and other intriguing questions are to be answered when Max O. Cullen lamb demonstration specialist of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, makes his appearance in Plattsmouth before meetings of retail meat dealers, housewives, students and others. He will be in this city on Wednesday, October 28th.

Mr. Cullen is reputed to be an artist at cutting lamb. The methods he uses are brand new, it is said; not trick cutting, but practical new ways of preparing the different cuts that will meet the demands of the present day discriminating public.

In discussing the new methods of cutting lamb, Cullen called attention to the fact that one of the big troubles has been the lack of an understanding of lamb on the part of the consuming public.

FUNERAL OF J. P. FALTER

The funeral services of J. P. Falter, long time resident of Cass county, was held Tuesday afternoon from the Sattler funeral home with a large number of the old friends and associates from the eastern portion of Cass county in attendance.

The choir of the St. Luke Episcopal church gave two of the old hymns, "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me." Mrs. William Ketselson, playing the accompaniment. During the service Frank A. Cloldt gave a solo, "Peace, Peace, Wonderful Peace," E. H. Wescott serving as the accompanist.

SENIORS HOLD PICNIC

The members of the senior class of the high school enjoyed a picnic party Tuesday afternoon after the closing of the school for the day, the members of the class and their sponsors motoring to the Elmer Tritsch farm for the event.

HAS CAR BURNED UP

Leslie A. Gansemer, of west of Mynard, had the misfortune last night to have his Buick sedan destroyed by fire. Mr. Gansemer was returning home last evening and when a mile east of the farm home the car ceased to function, Mr. Gansemer deciding to go on home and return in the morning to repair the car. This morning when he appeared on the scene there was only a mass of twisted and burned framework of what had once been the car. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Ford and Firestone at Edison Bier

President Hoover Is Unable to Attend; First Lady Will Be Present—Prayers Offered

West Orange, N. J., Oct. 20.—The last caravan is organized—Henry Ford, Harvey Firestone, Thomas A. Edison—and it will travel tomorrow to Mr. Edison's grave.

The two cronies of the famous inventor, who with him formed a triumvirate of travel and companionship which became a symbol over the world, arrived late today at the bier of Mr. Edison.

They, with the first lady of the land, will be among the close friends to join the family in a private funeral service at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. President Hoover will be unable to attend because of the press of public business in Washington, but Mrs. Hoover will leave for West Orange tomorrow on a regular morning passenger train.

Accompanied by Mrs. Edison, Mr. Ford and Mrs. Firestone went to the library of the laboratory where the inventor's body lay in a bronze coffin.

Moving directly to the coffin, Mr. Firestone leaned forward and gazed tensely at the face of his old friend. Mr. Ford did not enter the room.

"You remember the last time I saw him (Edison) in the library—how we talked together—well, I wanted that as a lasting memory," Ford was quoted as telling Charles Edison, the inventor's son.

Funeral services will be held at Glenmont, the Edison home. After a service conducted by Rev. Stephen J. Herben the body will be taken to Rosendale cemetery at Orange for burial. The funeral will be on the fifty-second anniversary of Mr. Edison's perfecting the incandescent lamp.

Hoover Asks Tribute. President Hoover suggested as a tribute to Mr. Edison a nationwide moment of darkness. He issued a statement asking that all electric lights be turned off for one minute tomorrow at 10 p. m. eastern standard time.

A wreath of oak leaves on the coffin was replaced by an American flag laid there by members of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars in appreciation of Mr. Edison's contribution to national defense.

The crutches and wheel chair of John Ott, 81, an Edison pioneer who died on learning of the inventor's death, were placed beside the coffin.

Prayers Again Offered. Following Mrs. Edison's request, her pastor, Rev. Arthur H. Brown of the Methodist Episcopal church of Orange, again offered prayer at the bier three times during the day.

Up until late today, White house officials at Washington said the president would attend the Edison services if possible. Then it was said officially that the rush of public business, including far-reaching preparations for the visit of Premier Laval of France, would make the trip impossible.

The president revealed he had considered for a moment asking an even more universal tribute—the turning off of electrical current at every generating plant. Inquiry disclosed, however, that this would constitute a great peril.—World-Herald.

GIVE FINE PROGRAM

From Wednesday's Daily—
Those who attended the concert and program given by the Southland Singers at the Methodist church last evening had a rare treat afforded them in the excellent musical numbers that were presented. The program embraced a number of the negro spirituals, given in the typical manner of the southern negroes as well as other of the standard musical numbers.

The concert was presented by a company of five entertainers, students of Philander Smith college of Little Rock, Arkansas, one of the colleges for colored people maintained by the Methodist church South. This college has some three hundred students. During the evening President Taylor of the college, who was with the party, gave some interesting facts as to the school and its work in that part of the south.

The company is presenting to the people of the county the value of the work that they are doing in the educational line as well as securing funds to supplement the college budget.

HUNTERS GET RECKLESS

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Joseph Kanka, residing on west Pearl street, was the victim of some party unknown who was apparently hunting in that section of the city. Mrs. Kanka had stepped into the yard for a moment and was struck on the top of the head by a shot, it causing a small scalp wound and which made the services of a physician to dress several stitches being taken in the wound. The shot grazed the top of the head of Mrs. Kanka, but had it been a little lower would have proven a dangerous injury. The party firing the shot was not seen by Mrs. Kanka or any of the neighbors. It is thought that it was probably some boy hunting in the near vicinity of the Kanka place that fired the shot.
