Bright Signs in Business World
Seen by Hoover

President Encouraged to Believe Depression Period Passing—Bank Failures Lessening.

Washington — President Hoover sees confidence conquering apprehension in money matters, so much so that he directed public attention to "the very great change" for the better. Expressly happy, he pointed to these good signs:

"Small bank failures have almost ceased."
"Increase in the price of wheat by ten or twelve cents a bushel and cotton by $15 to $20 a bale."
"It is no longer advantageous to ship gold abroad."
"Not only has hoarding ceased, but actually $24,000,000 of hoarded money has returned to the banks." The president was in a genial mood, his smile reflecting the optimism of the statement from which he read. Although he held a typewritten copy of what he intended to say, revised in several places by penciled notes, he departed from it often as he spoke to newspaper correspondents crowded about his desk. At one point, when he referred to "a wave of great apprehension" in this country following the abandonment of the gold standard in England, he added in an aside that the real volume of this apprehension had not been appreciated by the average American citizen.

Mr. Hoover has kept in almost constant touch with the business and credit situation, both national and international.

Confers With Meyer.
Friday, however, his engagement met was unusually small, only a few beside members of his cabinet being permitted to enter his office.

there was a scheduled conference, late in the day, with Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board. Both of them are keeping close watch on progress of organization of the National Credit corporation initiated by the chief executive. Their expectation is that it soon will be ready to start functioning on an extended scale.

Only in the last few days, it was revealed, the president is sure the 500 million dollar fund sought is soon to be subscribed. The credit aimed to help banks by enabling them to rediscount securities ineligible for such action by the federal reserve system.

The report of the federal reserve board for the week ending Oct. 25 showed that money in circulation in the United States was $5,380,000, a decrease of $24,000,000 in one week. It was the first drop in the circulation since Aug. 3, when there was a decline of $5,000,000. The total, however, left the circulation $1,054,000,000 greater than a year ago. Officials said this showed that more than 1 billion in money was being hoarded in the United States.
The decrease was the first indication that there had been a slowing up in the hoarding of money, which has been hoped for since the announcement of the national credit corporation.

Since last Sept. 16, the United States has lost 728 millions in gold.
On that date it held a total of $5, 015,000,000, the largest amount ever held by a single country and nearly half of the world total of $11,275, 000,000. The flow of gold, however, was checked last week when only 49 millions was withdrawn, leaving this country's total stock amounting to $4,237,000,000. This was 246 millions less than held a year ago.—

Sketch of Life of James Dixon, Old Resident

Death Suddenly of One of Old Time Residents of Louisville Brings Much Regret.

James Dixon passed away at his home in Louisville at five minutes before six o'clock last Sunday evening, following a period of ill health covering several months, although Mr. Dixon had been bedfast only about two weeks.

Mr. Dixon was 71 years old January 23rd, but because of his activity and cheerful optimistic manner, he seemed much younger. His death has caused a sorrow over the community and he will be greatly missed by everyone in town, for whom he always had a smiling greeting.

He was born in Ireland and grew to manhood and was married there, coming to America when he was 20 years old. They lived in New York City for two years and then moved westward, settling first in Iowa and later in York county, at Waco, where they engaged in farming. They then moved to Louisville in the year 1895.
In the year 1911, Mr. Dixon's wife died after a long illness. To this union six children were born, two dying in infancy. Four children survived. They are Mrs. Anna B. Curtis, of Spokane, Washington; Mrs. Ella Wolf and Mrs. Tillie Hirs, of Plattsmouth, and William of New York City. Seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren also survive.

Mr. Dixon was married to Miss Nancy Hutton, of Auburn, on June 1, 1912. They spent all their married life in this community and have been highly esteemed for their fine characters and many good works. Their hearts were ever open to the call of distress and they gave freely to all worthy enterprises. They were faithful members of the Methodist church.
The severing of the tie that bound the two loving people has brought much sorrow to the widow and the sympathy of the town goes out to her in her bereavement. She feels the weight of grief, but is sustained by her Christian faith.

The children also have lost a kind and loving father and they, too, ar-receiving the deepest sympathy of their host of friends.

The funeral occurred on Wednesday afternoon from the M. E. church, the pastor, Rev. Robert D. Murphree, officiating and speaking, comforting words to the sorrowing family. A ladies quartette sang several beautiful numbers. All the children except Mrs. Curtis, of Spokane, were present at the funeral services. Interment was in River View cemetery.

tention of the ladies was the annual election of officers, the following pore.

son.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. L. Stamp.

MRS. TROOP POORLY

Mrs. George Troop, who has been in a sanitarium near Denver for the past several months, is reported as showing no gain in her condition and it is expected that she will soon be sent home to this city. The treatment has failed to check the lung trouble from which Mrs. Troop has suffered, the specialists being unable to give the patient any relief. Mrs.
Troop was formerly Miss Emily Stava of this city, whose many friends regret greatly to learn that she is so poorly.

Omaha hospital for the past ten days pendicitis, has so far recovered that fects of the illness and operation, but is gaining rapidly and soon expects to be over the effects of the operation.

From Saturday's Daily

Troy Shrader, 40, well known farmer of north of Nehawka, last night attempted to end his life at the farm home northwest of Nehawka. Mr. Shrader shot himself with a twenty-two caliber target pistol, the bullet entering just over the heart but was deflected and penetrated one lung, the bullet then deflecting on a rib and came out in the right arm of the unfortunate man.

Mr. Shrader had been apparently despondent for some time and last evening after supper, he had gone out into the yard and gone to the woodshed of the place where he was sitting in the doorway when last night noticed. A short time later the hired man and Gerald Shrader, the son, were startled by the report of a revolver and going to the barnyard Mr.
Shrader was found badly wounded.

Medical aid was called from Nehawka and it was found that the wound was very serious and the wounded man was hurried on to Nebraska City where he was placed in the St. Mary's hospital for treatment.

Mr. Shrader is in very critical condition at the hospital and it is a matter of grave doubt as to the outcome of the case.

was witnessed by relatives and a few intimate friends.

Rev. Robert P. Murphree, pastor she carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds with ferns. Her gown was cut princess style.

The house was decorated with vases of garden flowers and presented a festive appearance.

After the ceremony, an informal reception was held and there were many hearty good wishes expressed for the future happiness and success of the young couple. Ice cream and cake with coffee, was served, one of the delicious items of the refreshments being the large and hand-somerly decorated wedding cake made by Mrs. Koop, which was much enjoyed and admired.

Among the relatives present were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Mayfield, her aunts, Mrs.
C. E. Noyes and Mrs. Rachel Noyes, of Louisville, and the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Wally Johnson, of

Heir by First Marriage Mentioned; Is Inventor, Too—Leaves
Several Millions

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 30.—The Evening Journal today says William L. Edison, one of the two sons of the late Thomas A. Edison by his first marriage, intends to try to break his father's will.

Edison, who is not directly quoted, refuses according to the Journal, to say anything further pending consultation with his attorneys.

Edison was not at his home when inquiry was made there, but it was said he was not the one who would start a contest. No further information was available.

William L. Edison, who lives at Westover Hills, a suburb, is retired from business. He is about 55. He is an inventor and has been pursuing electrical research work, principally in connection with radio.

Son Says Widow Treated "Generously"

West Orange, N. J., Oct. 30.— Thomas A. Edison provided for his widow with the "utmost generosity," his son, Charles Edison, said in a statement today.

He declined, however, to say what the monetary value of this provision might be. Mrs. Edison, who was the inventor's second wife, was left nothing in the will filed yesterday.
Edison explaining in that 3-year-old document that he had provided for her "adequately" during her lifetime.

Charles Edison's statement was issued as the result of a published story speculating on Mrs. Edison's wealth.
He said the "amazing collection of misstatements" in that story comprised "one of the wildest flights of reportorial imagination and exaggeration I have ever read."

The inventor left the bulk of his estate, known to have a value of many millions though the exact worth of it is not known, to Charles Edison and the latter's brother, Theodore. Charles and Theodore are the sons of Edison and the inventor's widow. It was left to the two children of the first marriage after the latter had been given certain specified securities.

Although Charles Edison indignantly denied all statements in the story published today concerning Edison's alleged great wealth, he declined to amplify in any way his statement that she had been provided for with "utmost generosity."

Silent Over Report.
News of the possibility of a contest of their father's will was released today by Charles and Theodore Edison.

Charles Edison listened to the news gravely and said "Thank you very much." Theodore said nothing.

Thomas A. Edison, jr., the oldest son and the full brother, of William, however, was more communicative.
He said the reported contest was news to him.

"I loved my father too much," he said, "ever to question any act of his."

There are six Edison children, two sons and two daughters by the first
