Louisville Seems Beset by Petty Thieves

Several Business Places of Cement City Are Visited in Space of Week's Time.

From Wednesday's Daily
Louisville in the past week has been the scene of a number of burglaries and robberies, the first that has been staged there for some months. The crimes point to the need of adequate protection for the business houses of our enterprising neighboring city, especially in the coming winter when the probabilities of more of these crimes occurring in all parts of the country is expected. The first of the series of robberies occurred last Wednesday when the V. T. Kroll store was burglarized, the front door of the store being pried open. Several pairs of shoes, two suit cases and miscellaneous articles taken.

The Kroll store was again the scene of a visitation of the robbers on Sunday night, the parties taking supplies of flour, groceries and canned goods on this trip. This time the entrance to the store was made through a basement window which was pried open by a crowbar, the bar being left on the scene of the robbery. The owner of the store is of the belief that the robbers had a truck or car parked in the alley near the store.

On Saturday night the Standard Oil station of which M. L. Williams, is the manager, was robbed, two service cans filled with gasoline being taken. Monday night the robbers entered the basement of the building occupied by the E. A. Pankonin garage, but were unable to gain entrance to the garage itself and nothing was reported taken.

Just a short time ago the Ash Grove Cement plant suffered the loss of copper wire valued at $500, several spools of the wire being stolen from the loading platform at the plant.

The general opinion of the Louisville people is that the robberies are the work of local people or someone very familiar with the various business places of Louisville. It is suggested that the armed guard system that so effectively protected the city some years ago be reorganized and the culprits be given a load of buckshot when caught at the depositions.

Jerry Adam One of the Mainstays of Cornhuskers

Plattsmouth Young Man Completing Last Year at Uni Has a Fine Record of Service

The lore of Cornhuskerdom has many glorious figures in the history of football at the University of Nebraska, stars that have glittered in the national array of talent of the gridiron, but they have had no more dependable defender of the scarlet and cream in the game than Jerry Adam, Plattsmouth boy, now one of the regular guards on the team. Jerry has that which is important to a player, a fighting heart, the spirit that keeps on battering at the foe until the last whistle sounds. While Chamberlain, Weir, Presnell, "Blue" Howell and others have won fame for Nebraska in ball carrying, it is the men on the line like Adam that wins the game by their undying fight.

In the Northwestern game at Chicago, Adam was one of the outstanding figures of the game, taking out Captain Marvel of the Wildcats, a man who is rated as an All American player. In the game against Kansas Saturday, Adam was one of the factors in checking the advance of the Aggies, his work on the line eliminating his opponent on every play, adding in the holding of the Kansas foe as Brown swept to his touchdown. As one of the Plattsmouth delegation at the game Saturday remarked, "Jerry makes us proud of Plattsmouth."

When a player in the line of the Plattsmouth high school, Jerry was a real battler, especially after he received a bloody nose, then how that boy could battle.

POTET SPEAKS AT ALVO

Alvo—Paying a high tribute to the men who made the supreme sacrifice during the World war, Past Department Commander Marcus L. Potet of the American Legion who was the principal speaker at the Armistice day program in the auditorium of the high school building, said, "Let us reverently think or speak our thanks to our God and let us pray that we shall so live that of the spirits of those who are today sleeping in Flanders fields understand they know we are carrying on in the faith in which they died."

Mr. Potet asserted that there was no group on the face of the earth more earnest in its desire to maintain peace, and particularly the peace of the United States, than the men of the Legion who have experienced the horrors of war. "We believe there is sound reasoning for peace in the limitation of armaments, if it is done on the basis of equality of power. History has shown the fallacy of any other program Mr. Potet deplored the fact, he said, that private enterprise is not being trained in order to supply if an emergency arose, an adequate amount of munitions to keep forces in the field. He said the present strength of the army and navy is far below the minimum that is consistent with national safety.

SECOND TEAM LOSES

The Plattsmouth high school second team journeyed over to Glenwood on Tuesday afternoon to do battle with the Glenwood seconds. The game was played on the grounds at the Iowa State institution and attended by a large number of the school pupils.

The heavier Glenwood team won the contest by the score of 18 to 0, the locals being unable to break through the Iowans line to put over the necessary scores.

The youthful Platters have some very promising material and which looks good to supply the future blue and white with some real battlers on the football field.

WILL DISMISS ACTION

From Wednesday's Daily
The complaint which was filed against Ted Eaton for the issuance of a check in the amount of $100 payable to William Barbary, which was refused payment, will be dismissed.

The complaining witness who had reported the matter to the county attorney a few days ago notified Mr. Kieck this afternoon that he would ask the dismissal of the charge as preferred against Mr. Eaton, the check having been made good by Mr. Eaton and that the complaining witness had no desire to have him prosecuted further as far as he was concerned.

ROB OIL STATION

Saturday night sometime, the Standard Oil station at Louisville, which is in charge of Mart Williams, was visited by thieves, making away with a quantity of gasoline. The robbers broke a valve off one of the tanks and were able to secure the gas and make their getaway. No trace of the thieves were found, the robbery not being discovered until Sunday and allowing the parties to be well on their way before the crime was discovered.
