Fire at Troop Farm Appears as Incendiary

Bloodhounds Used at Scene of Fire Follow Trail Some Distance to Road Where Scent Lost

Investigations at the scene of the fire on the farm of Charles Troop near Nehawka, cause the officers to believe that the fire was of incendiary origin, altho no clue as to the person or persons causing the fire have as yet been revealed.

Bloodhounds taken to the scene of the fire Wednesday morning, started on a scent at the machine shed following this through an alfalfa field and a section of the cornfield to the roadway where the scent was lost, it being thought that the persons who may have set the fire made their escape from the scene in some vehicle which made it impossible for the hounds to trace them farther.

The loss to William O. Troop, who was farming the place, will be quite heavy, being only partially covered by insurance. In addition to the corn, oats and hay that was burned in the barns and sheds, Mr. Troop also lost six sets of harness, a loss that will be keenly felt by Mr. Troop in his farm work.

Charles Troop, the owner of the farm, carried a policy on the farm buildings with the Farmer's Mutual Insurance Co., and the officers of the company and their adjusting committee, visited the scene of the fire Wednesday, adjusted the loss and last evening Mr. Troop was handed a check for $1,500, the amount of insurance that he carried.

SCHALL VISITS PRESIDENT

Washington—A compromise in the bitter and protracted fight between the administration and Senator Schall, Minnesota, over a federal judgeship in that state was suggested late Thursday by the blind senator. Coming to the white house after dark he placed before President Hoover the names of two men for other federal bench vacancies. He indicated that if both were accepted it was likely he would drop his contest against the administration's nominee. He suggested to the chief executive that John Sanborn of St. Paul, now on the federal district bench, be advanced to the circuit court, and that Matt Joyce, of Minneapolis, be named for this vacancy.

"It looks as tho the president may send up the two names I suggested," Schall said.

Wishing You

The Past

The curtain is being drawn on 1931 and soon it will be history. It has had its ups and downs. It could have been much worse. But in it all and through it all, we have found MUCH to be thankful for.

We are thankful for the spirit of the people of our city, our county, state and nation.

We are thankful because we are not discouraged, that we have not lost our determination to press forward during the year we are about to enter upon.

An Old Fashioned

MERRIE CHRISTMAS

AND

A HAPPY NEW YEAR

Without any fancy frills and without any effort to go into the realms of superlative language or oratory, we want to send the simple, yet entirely sincere wish for you and yours for a very Merrie Christmas and a Happy New Year.

We have tried to conduct our business so that its profits and benefits may be liberally distributed over the public it serves. And every day we strive earnestly to make our customers happy. We want you to be satisfied, even over the smallest transactions at this bank.

Accept our thanks for favors during 1931 and give us, please, the opportunity of seeing and serving you often during the New Year.

The Future

We have no ability to see into the vistas of coming time and tell what is going to happen to us, to the country and to the world. We can only do as we have been doing, meet conscientiously and adequately the problems of each day as they come around. This is a principle on which our business has been built. Whatever the future yields, we believe that in the end right customs will prevail and he who serves best will profit most. You can depend upon us doing our best for YOU.
