Drouth Counties in State to Get Feed Loans
Knox County Gets $90,000 From U. S. After Survey of Needs by Local Committees

Federal feed loans totaling $168,777 have been approved and sent into the seven northeastern drouth area counties of Nebraska. V. H. Peterson reported to Director W. H. Brokaw of the agricultural college extension service. Peterson has just returned from Grand Forks, N. D., where he has been helping Walter Elff, who has had charge of loans for all northwestern states.

Thirty-two applications for loans are still pending and will probably be paid, Peterson said, and will bring the total for the area up above $175,000.

Knox county farmers received 263 loans amounting to about $90,000, study of Peterson's report shows. Cedar county farmers got 156 loans totaling about $44,000; Boyd county got 122 loans totaling about $32,000. Ten farmers in Holt, five in Brown, and one in Rock county received loans amounting to over $3,000. Of the loans still pending, fifteen are in Boyd county, eleven in Knox, four in Cedar, one in Holt and one in Rock county.

With the exception of the few loans still pending, the actual cash from the government is in the hands of the farmers who applied for the loans. All of the loans were made on a business basis and on satisfactory security. Interest has been deducted already and the money will have to be repaid to the government next fall.

All of the money loaned to date has been for feed. The next step will be to supply money for seed loans from some source, Director Brokaw believes. Congress has not appropriated any federal funds to date for seed loan purposes, he says. Undoubtedly if federal funds are made available, the same setup will disburse the funds.

Reviewing the feed loan project of the past few months, Director Brokaw and Mr. Peterson called attention to the fact that local committees and county officers of the seven drouth counties had a great deal to do with the securing of the loans. One of the first pieces of work was the survey of conditions made by American Legion committees under the general direction of Charles Carroll and George Wilcox of Lynch.

Who Wins a Partial Victory in Council Clash
Plans to Be Made in Omaha to Hire One High Class Undercover Men to Probe Gangs

Omaha—After a hot battle, in which non-unanimities were freely indulged, Commissioner Towl won a partial victory in city council on his proposal to hire secret service agents to put a stop to a reign of lawlessness and gangsterism in Omaha.

Towl's proposal was taken up after the council had unanimously agreed to ratify Tuesday a $5,000 reward for the apprehension of the slayers of Harry H. Lapidus, prominent manufacturer and politician. The reward will not be paid to a police officer, however.

Towl then asked the council for an expression of opinion as to whether it would allow him to spend $25,000 from funds of the police department annually for the establishment of a secret police. Such methods were found necessary in Chicago, Boston, Providence, R. L. and other places, he asserted.

This brought out statements from Mayor Metcalfe and Commissioner Hopkins, president of the meeting, that Chicago's "Secret Six" had accomplished nothing except jail camps on an income tax fraud count and "spring Gus Winkler," alleged Lincoln bank robber.

Hopkins accused Towl of refusing to take responsibilities and Metcalfe attacked him for uttering "half truths." After a stormy battle it was finally decided that Towl is to confer with Metcalfe and City Attorney John Moriarty who will map out plans whereby Towl will be empowered to hire one high class undercover man from some other city for a complete investigation of gang affairs here.

Towl refused to name the man he had in mind but said he is a Chicagoan who has had considerable experience in work of a similar nature in that city.

Omaha—Commissioner Towl Monday night announced that George A. Loran, assistant chief of police, had been appointed as head of a police crime investigation bureau and will act as contact man between city, county, state and federal agencies.

Allan will have an office in the city hall, adjacent to that occupied by Towl. The investigator whom Towl will bring to Omaha to probe the Lapidus murder will be known only to Towl and Mayor Metcalfe.—State Journal.

NEW GOLF BALL RECEIVES APPROVAL OF AMATEUR GROUP
Pinehurst, N. C.—The new golf ball, which after Jan. 1 will be the official tournament play ball of the United States Golf association, was given unanimous and emphatic approval after the medal play of the annual mid winter tournament here by the first field of amateurs to play the remodeled sphere.

Dick Wilson of Southern Pines, the medalist, said the ball overcomes all objections raised against the light ball, which is going into the discard. The present ball is 1.68 inches in diameter and weighs 1.55 ounces. The new one carries the old diameter but the weight has been increased to 1.62 ounces.

"The extra weight," Wilson said, "has imparted much more stability in the wind, and has improved the ball's putting qualities considerably. The extra weight has not materially increased its length, but it has a good point of the light ball in furnishing a larger target than the old, heavier and smaller ball which last year's ball displaced."

IOWA PLEADS SLAYING GUILT
Storm Lake, Ia., Dec. 28.—Amos Harper, 23, entered a written plea of guilty before Judge James Deland here late Monday afternoon to an information prepared by County Attorney Don C. White, charging him with the fatal poisoning last June of his 73-year-old landlord, Marshall Lee—a mystery which was cleared last week after six months of investigation.

Judge Deland delayed sentencing of young Harper until after testimony is taken Thursday.

Harper's cleverness in killing Lee left him utterly beyond suspicion but he made a slight error in drawing a check on the dead man's bank account that finally proved his undoing, through an examination of his handwriting.
