Action on Test of Validity of City Warrants On

Action Brought Against J. E. Kirkham, City Treasurer, to Restrain Payment, Being Tried

From Thursday's Daily
This morning the trial of the case of Abraham L. Tidd vs. John E. Kirkham, as treasurer of the city of Plattsmouth, was started in the district court.

This action is one in which Mr. Tidd, president of the Taxpayers League, questions the legality of warrants in the amount of some $28,000 issued for the building of a viaduct on Granite street as well as the building of the Livingston Road from the viaduct east to the city limits. The road is that which leads to the traffic bridge over the Missouri river, erected by the Plattsmouth bridge company and which was opened for travel in December 1929 and dedicated in May 1930.

The plaintiff contends that the warrants are void for the reason that they were issued without any appropriation made for them by the city council in the annual appropriation bill, that the expense was not incurred by reason of the petition of the people of the city, that there was no election held to submit the proposition to the voters of the city, which means the warrants should be held to be null and void and not an obligation on the city.

RIOT LEADS TO "PINCH"

Friday afternoon Sheriff Edward Thimman and Deputy Sheriff Ray Becker were called out to the vicinity of Manley where it was reported a dispute was raging at one of the farm residences. It was found by the sheriff that "Chick" Spence, of Louisville, was at the home of William Lau and that Mr. Lau was having a very heated dispute with the guest and which had led to the call for the sheriff. Mr. Lau asked that the guest be taken away and lodged in jail. In the course of getting Mr. Spence out Sheriff Thimman discovered that he had on his person a bottle of "hootch." Spence was brought on into Plattsmouth and a charge of possession filed against him. In the hearing in county court before Judge A. H. Duxbury, Mr. Spence was given a fine of $100 and costs and remanded to the custody of the sheriff until the amount is settled.

Platters Win from Glenwood by 29-15 Score

Contest Witnessed by a Large Delegation of Visitors From the Iowa City

While the Glenwood high school basketball team dropped their contest with the Platters last evening 29 to 15, they can feel well pleased with the loyal support that was accorded them by their townspeople, a large delegation being present from Glenwood. In fact the larger part of the audience was from Iowa, the few local fans and a handful of students making a poor showing for the excellent team that Plattsmouth high school boasts.

The game was slow in the opening stages, neither team showing great scoring power. Arn was given a free throw that he made good and a few seconds later tossed a field goal from under the basket. Knoflicek also scored a field goal to make the locals total five while the visitors were scoreless at the close of the period.

In the second period Donat and Knoflicek each placed in counters while Evans, center of the visitors, scored two free shots and a field goal. The score at the half was nine to four for Plattsmouth.

The third quarter saw the Platters take a stronger lead when Arn and Forbes started the speed of the "blue streak" and had the visitors on the defensive most of the time. Arn, the scoring ace of the evening, made two field goals, Donat and Forbes one each while Rummel and Donat each annexed a free toss. Evans with two more free throws and Byers with a field basket, were the counters for the Glenwood quintet. The score was 19 to 8.

In the last stanza of the struggle, Rummel, who had missed many shots at the basket, came through with two good ones, Arn repeated with his usual pair of field goals, while Pilot Donat looped a good one from under the shade of the basket. For the Glenwood quintet Harrison made two field goals good and Byers one, while Evans, sure shot at the free tosses, made another point. The final score was 29 to 15.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

Tidd vs. Kirkham Decision in Three Weeks

Attorneys Will Submit Briefs On the Issues of Case to Judge Hastings

From Friday's Daily
The trial of the case of Abraham L. Tidd vs. John E. Kirkham, city treasurer of Plattsmouth, occupied the entire time of the district court Thursday before Judge W. G. Hastings of Omaha, who came here to preside over the hearing.

The case attracted a great many of the residents to hear discussed the various details leading to the action of the city council in joining the Burlington, the Plattsmouth bridge company in the construction of the viaduct at Granite street and with the state and county in the new highway that leads to the traffic bridge over the Missouri river.

The question raised by the plaintiff was that the warrants issued by the city in payment of their part of the viaduct and road work were illegal because of issuance and void, while the defending city contended that the work had been carried out at the demand of the residents of the city and in an emergency that existed that the construction had been carried out, everyone in the community having full knowledge of the plans and intentions of the city in locating and carrying on the work.

After the close of the taking of testimony Thursday afternoon, Judge W. G. Hastings announced that he would take the case under advisement, the parties in the case being given ten days in which to submit briefs in the case as to the legal authorities to support their arguments in the issues involved.

PASSING OF JOSEPH TOMAN

The death of Joseph Toman and his father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mascher in an auto-train accident at Woonsocket, So. Dak., on January 5th, 1932, was the greatest shock to Floyd township which the citizens ever experienced. Joe was one of the oldest continuous residents of that township living. Joseph Toman was born in 1870, at Bavaria, Bohemia, as was known then, and came to America with his parents at a tender age. He came to what was known as Floyd township during the seasons of 1882 with his parents and has lived ever since on the northeast quarter of 28-108-60, Sanborn county. Joe was a model citizen, an by frugal disposition and a stick-to-itiveness had become well to do. He was for several years a member of the Floyd township board and served without pay as their custom in the early days. He was a rugged character and with untiring ability and it is said in his prime he could run a jackrabbit down and bag him, and his photograph with 26 jacks now adorns the walls of the State Historical Building at Pierre, St. Dak.

He was married to Miss Anna Mascher about 1910 or 1911, who with his three sons and one daughter and five brothers, two sisters and a host of nephews and nieces survive him, all living here at Plattsmouth, Neb., except a brother Julius, a jeweler in Eugene, Oregon, and his immediate family who still live on the old farm. The remains were laid to rest on Friday, January 8th, at St. Benedict's Church yard in Atton township, Rev. Auer saying the last sad rites to an overflowing congregation on a cold day to pay tribute to those three worthy citizens, whose lives were snuffed out without a moments warning. — Woonsocket S. D.) Sheriff Thimman and family and Deputy Sheriff Ray V. Becker and family are residing at the jail residence, Mr. Becker being designated as the jailor and having charge of the care and feeding of the prisoners who are held there. The cold weather and bad roads made the moving anything but pleasant for the members of the Thimman family.

TO THE PEOPLE OF CASS COUNTY

At this time, when retiring from service as deputy sheriff, I wish to take this opportunity of expressing my deep appreciation of your many acts of kindness, the splendid spirit of co-operation and assistance that I have received in all parts of Cass county.

In the five years service as deputy sheriff, I have never failed to find the fine citizenry of Cass county ready to aid in any way in the ferreting out of crime, the arrest and punishment of the criminal. It has been this loyal support that has made much more pleasant the tasks that tend to make the sheriff's work often unpleasant.

In my service I have always tried in every way to relieve the office of the best interest of the taxpayers of Cass county, eliminating in any way unnecessary cost to the county in the conduct of the office.

In a personal manner I wish to thank County Commissioner George L. Farley for his support and spirit of confidence, which shall always be a most pleasant memory.

I have tried in the past to merit the confidence of the people of Cass county and if given the opportunity again expect to continue this policy.

REX YOUNG.

American Legion Auxiliary to Aid Unemployment

State President, Mrs. Lottie Rosenkrans Urges Membership Join to Banish Unemployment.

The following bulletin has been sent to all American Legion Auxiliary members in the state, urging participation in the national unemployment campaign of the American Legion and Auxiliary in support of the national move urged by the president at congress:

The American Legion has once more made a national plea to the American Legion Auxiliary for cooperation in the immediate crisis offering to us the opportunity for outstanding service. The Legion led by the national commander and National Employment Commission, has a very concrete plan of campaign of war against unemployment. The national commander has asked its American Legion Auxiliary to join with the Legion in waging this war on the thing which is causing such widespread misery in the United States.

The attack on unemployment is being made on three fronts:

- (1) The immediate employment of one million of the jobless through a 10% increase in work.
- (2) The general adoption of a six-hour-day with six hour pay is being urged to spread available work among the other millions of unemployed.
- (3) The carrying out of the so-called Rochester plan which is plan of house to house canvass by which all citizens, industries and municipalities are asked to speed up the necessary jobs waiting at hand that may be done now and thus employ thousands of unemployed people.

Henry L. Stevens, Jr., the Legion's national commander, has called upon every Legion post commander to form a local committee to promote the program in every community. Every Auxiliary unit is urged to contact this committee immediately, offer its service, and go to work vigorously on whatever tasks are available.

The Legion is heart and soul in this program. It is carrying on the fight through publicity channels and the large employers. The Auxiliary can particularly help in carrying out the Rochester plan which is designed to increase employment through increase in repair improvement work. The possibility of creating immediate employment through this source is our challenge.

I am in receipt of a telegram from our national president of the Auxiliary and she is urging us to give our full support to this vital endeavor.

As president of your department, I want to ask that you immediately organize your Unit ready for co-operation with your Legion post. Would suggest the unit president appoint a committee ready to co-operate with her local post committee would be an effective plan. The district presidents will be asked to check up on the units to see that these plans have been completed.

May I count on you to give this your immediate and persistent attention? Let's show the Legion what Nebraska's 13,000 women can do when they assign us a practical, definite job. It is a real service to the community, to those who are jobless, to your Legion and to your country.

Many thanks to my dear friends, I know we can help "put it over" if we all join and pull together.

My best wishes to all of you.
Very sincerely,
LOTTIE ROSENKRANS,
Department President.
