

Nehawka

Former County Commissioner C. F. Harris of Union, was a business visitor in Nehawka on Monday morning of this week, coming to see Mr. Charles Bates on some business matters.

Albert Wolfe has been sick with a cold and it was with difficulty that he was able to look after his work as night watchman. He is, however, feeling some better at this time.

Wm. Balfour who has been very poorly for some time and who has been cared for by the sons and daughter, is showing much improvement which is pleasing to their many friends.

W. O. Burbee of Union was a visitor in Nehawka, coming over to grind some corn which Harry Knabe has purchased from Joseph Goodwin and which he was grinding for the feeding of his hogs.

Miss Zola Gilbert of Union, a patient of Dr. Hansen, was taken to the hospital at Omaha where she underwent an operation last Saturday and who is now convalescing, hoping to be able to return home in a short time.

Carl R. Keil who resides east of Murray, where he has been farming for some time past and desiring to change, is to hold a sale on next week and was in Nehawka on last Monday posting bills for the sale which is to occur soon.

Troy Shrader who was at the hospital at Omaha for the greater portion of last week where he was receiving treatment, was able to return home on last Saturday and is feeling greatly improved and is hoping that he will soon be entirely well again.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hansen, parents of Dr. Hansen of Nehawka, were guests with their son on last Sunday and enjoyed the visit very much during the day. During the afternoon, Warren Hansen, brother of the Doctor, also came which added much the pleasantness of the gathering.

Joseph Funkhauser of Nebraska City, who is a rustler for the sale of real estate, was a visitor in Nehawka on last Saturday interviewing a number of the citizens of this place regarding the purchase of the former E. M. Pollard home which is being offered at a very low figure, considering what it would bring a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Knabe were over to Carlo west of Grand Island, where they were attending a fine hog sale, and while the snow was rather deep here they were surprised at the amount of snow which prevailed there. There were no bare spots either in the roads or in the fields along as they went. They, however, enjoyed the trip, returning home late Friday evening.

Visited Father Here.

Peter Opp, who has been poorly for many months and who is kept to the home of his son, John Opp and family, enjoyed on last Sunday a visit from another son, H. P. Opp and wife and their daughter, Miss Helen, all of Lincoln, who drove down on last Sunday to visit with the father and grandfather, and where all as well of the John Opp family enjoyed the occasion. Mr. Peter Opp is just about the same can be up a portion of the time and again has to keep to his bed.

Adams and wife where he is kept to his bed and is considered a very sick man. Mrs. Robert H. Chapman who is an extra nurse, has been secured to care for the patient. It is hoped that Mr. Adams will soon be in his former good health again.

Had a Fine Visit.

On last Sunday Albert Anderson and family and J. H. Steffens and family desiring to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Horstmann of Dunbar, so telephoning the brother-in-law asking about the roads. Mr. Horstmann said and I will meet you there with a team of mules, get you and take you back when you desire to return home. The party started the two families and in due time arrived at the point a mile from the Horstmann home and with that superior confidence in his own car and his driving ability, Mr. Horstmann was at the place with his nearly new Pontiac car. They all got in the car and started for the Horstmann home, they got about sixty feet and the mud rolled up under the fenders and after backing away and trying again, the ground took for the fields and were able to walk over to the house but when they returned in the evening the mule team was brought into service and also a driver to guide the Pontiac home. However they all enjoyed the visit very much.

Now a Happy Home.

On last Saturday professor Steimbart went over to Omaha where he with the car met and brought Mrs. Steimbart and their little daughter, Phillis, home where the mother had been since the birth of the daughter and the daughter all of her happy young life. The professor and the proud mother and young daughter and now a happy family.

Had a Good Sale of Hogs.

Harry Knabe who held a successful sale of bred sows last week, was well pleased with the sale as it was the very best one on an average high has occurred in the state this year. Mr. Knabe will hold another sale which will occur on March 15th, the sows of the latter sale were not ready for the first sale. Keep the date of this latter sale in mind.

Now in Canal Zone.

A letter from Earl Troop who departed some two weeks since for the canal zone to accept a position with the United States government, as the operator of a dredger on the work at the canal and which in order to obtain work he had to enter into a contract for three years service. Earl wrote about a week since from New Orleans saying he was departing on that day for the zone and that the trip from New Orleans would require a week to make. Chief among the achievements cited are the development of twenty-two recreational grounds, extensive operations in stocking and salvaging of fish, establishment of state game birds and maintenance of the four state parks.

Mr. O'Connell also analyzed expenditures of the commission, including the first detailed report of the commission's financial affairs for 1931. This showed that nearly $300,000 had been expended. Of this sum, $68,023.72 was used for the purchase of new land and $48,102.63 for permanent improvements. More than $500,000 was spent for maintenance and improvement of fish hatcheries, $20,000 for purchase of fish and game birds, and $21,000 for state parks.

Among the administrative activities which cost nearly $80,000 last year are shown $40,000 for law enforcement, $20,000 for fish distribution and other items.

Chief source of revenue was hunting and fishing licenses at $1 a permit covering both activities. They yielded $212,693.36, about $5,000 less than in 1930. Other receipts included $2,743.85 for sale of fish, $686.80 for sale of confiscated articles, $1,008.79 for concessions, and $975 for liquidated damages.

The commission receives no tax funds but is supported from its own earnings. Owing to condition of weather and illness, only a third of active members were in attendance, but it was decided to serve the supper for the annual Sunday School board meeting at 25c per plate. The coming peace conference was discussed pro and con but no action was taken by the society as a whole to be sent to our representative to that conference since time for such had passed and members were not decided in their own mind as whether agreeable to the proposed method of procedure.

The February meeting was held in the parsonage. The subject of the devotions was "To Toll with God with Our Hands." Third chapter of study book was reviewed by Mrs. Hayes on life as lived today by women in rural places of China, Korea, Japan and Philippines. Demonstrations of home life and conversation in homes of women of these lands were given by different members of the society and closed by review of what the church is doing to better home conditions still patterned after the days of Abraham. Interesting mystery box questions were conducted by Mrs. White, the president, and each member deposited her credit for the day in a box which is kept for the year and at the end the leader of credits will be announced. The winner will be considered the best informed woman on this year's work. During the business session it was voted to hold a cafeteria supper at the church the first week in March. Subscriptions to "Better Homes and Gardens" are being renewed by the society during February and March as a part of their means of income. Any subscription by friends will be thankfully received.
