Many Seek Work in Construction

Office of Contractors Thonged Each Morning by Men Eager to Secure Work.

The offices of the contracting company which is to lay the natural gas pipeline from Mynard to South Omaha, located in the O. K. garage building, is thronged each morning by men seeking positions in this line of work.

While there are but a few placed at work as yet, there were over 100 men at the office this morning when the superintendent in charge of the employment of the force arrived. A great many of the men that will be used in the more difficult part of the pipeline work have come here from the south and also there has been a deluge of other less skilled labor that has followed in the wake of the letting of the contract for the pipeline construction.

With a great many local people seeking places on the force of workmen of the contracting company there has been added the small army that has moved into the city. The applicants range from boys of fifteen and sixteen up to men of past middle age and apparently from all sections of the nation.
