From Thursday's Daily
The declamatory contest to decide on the Plattsmouth high school students to compete in the sub-district contest to be held at Auburn, on Friday, March 25th, was held last evening at the high school.

A large and well pleased audience enjoyed the interesting program and the various fine offerings of the students. The program was quite long, opening at 7 o'clock, there being a large number of entries in each of the various classes.

The oratorical class had the opening of the program and the young men taking part displayed real talent in their work as speakers. In this class William Wetenkamp was the winner of first place, his selection being, "Why Lindbergh is a World Hero." George Adam was winner of the second place with, "Football," and Stuart Porter, third with "The Allied War Debt."

In the extemporaneous class Miss Madge Garnett, who was winner of the honors at the sub-district contest last year made the first place with her selection, while John Becker was awarded second place and George Luschnisky, the third place. The contestants were given their subjects an hour before the contest and required to speak six minutes. The showing of the contestants was very fine.

The dramatic department was one that covered a number of excellent selections from the dramatic field. Greth Garnett, winner of the first place gave "The Bishop's Candlesticks," the dramatic adaption of the story of Victor Hugo. Helen Virginia Price was second place winner with the selection, "At Dawn," while Janet Vallery was third with "Wheels of Time."

Lame Duck Proposal in Mr. Bryan's Hands

Receives Certified Copy for Submission to Nebraska Legislature When it Convenes.

Governor Bryan has received a certified copy of the proposed Norris "lame duck" constitutional amendment which is to be submitted to the state legislature for adoption within a period of seven years. The governor had recently said he would like to see Nebraska be the first state to adopt the amendment. Since then the Virginia legislature adopted it before it was officially submitted, but such adoption is not deemed official and may have to be done over again.

"I am strongly in favor of the adoption of the amendment by the Nebraska legislature at the earliest possible moment," said Governor Bryan, "and should a special session of the legislature be held this amendment could be submitted, but I don't feel, as we have seven years in which to act, it would be justifiable to incur the expense of a special session for that sole purpose."

"Nebraska should feel proud that it had part in putting over the submission of the amendment in congress," suggested Lieutenant Governor Metcalfe, who had called on Governor Bryan.

The certified copy of the amendment came from Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, with the request that the governor cause it to be submitted to the Nebraska legislature, and to certify the result of such submission. It is entitled "A joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution of the United States fixing a commencement of the terms of the president, and vice president and members of congress and fixing the time of assembling of congress."

PUBLIC SHOWS CONFIDENCE

Washington.—Public confidence in government securities and a desire to put funds in that sort of investment caused the government's offer of 900 million dollars in treasury certificates to be oversubscribed nearly four times in two days. Secretary Mills announced that the treasury certificates of indebtedness offered to the public Monday brought in subscriptions totaling $3,402,725,500 before the books were closed at the end of business Tuesday.

The 3 1-8 percent certificates to mature in seven months were sought for a total of $952,619,500 while the 3 3-4 percent certificates which matured in one year brought total subscriptions of $2,450,106,000. The secretary did not say how much of the total subscriptions had been accepted, but it was believed the amount probably would be slightly above 900 million dollars.

LINCOLN 'DOING ITS BEST' ON CAR LIGHTS

Lincoln, March 10.—Lincoln's police force is "doing the best it can" to enforce laws on automobile lights, Mayor Frank Zahring stated in answer to a request from the Lincoln council No. 104, United Commercial Travelers, for "more strict enforcement of infractions of the automobile head and tail light laws.

An average of 15 motorists operating cars without proper lights are arrested daily, the mayor estimated. In a report submitted him by Police Chief Walter Anderson for November and December, the following is shown:

During November, 460 drivers who had been tagged reported at police headquarters their lights had been repaired. During December, the number was 447.

ICE IS DELAYING SHIPPING

Cleveland.—Ice floes in Lake Erie held fast a government dredge and its crew of forty, threatened to destroy thousands of dollars worth of commercial fish nets and were responsible for one wintry rescue. The towing tug California brought in the fish off shore from Cleveland after an hour's stubborn battle thru the snow swept floes.

On board the New York were Capt. Charles Abel and six members of the crew. The New York was unable to reopen a way thru the ice on its return from a day of fishing. The government dredge Taylor was fast in the ice off Star Island reef near Put In bay, between Cleveland and Toledo, and rescue crews from the coast guard station had been unable to get closer than two miles of the vessel.

Recover Part of Loot Taken at Begley Home

Deputy Sheriff Becker and County Attorney Kieck Find Goods at Council Bluffs.

Wednesday afternoon Deputy Sheriff Ray Becker and County Attorney W. G. Kieck were at Omaha and Council Bluffs, investigating leads in the robbery of the J. T. Begley home here last Thursday, finding a part of the clothing taken.

The deputy sheriff and Mr. Kieck visited the home of William Corrado, who was arrested at Omaha Monday as a suspect in the case, but found none of the articles taken from the Begley home. The officers, however, learned from the estranged wife of Corrado, the addresses of a number of friends and associates of the suspect, which uncovered a part of the loot.

Visiting the home of a friend of Corrado at Council Bluffs, the officers located one of the suit cases taken from the Begley home as well as several of the dresses of Mrs. Begley that had been left at the Council Bluffs home by Corrado and a brother. The persons at whose home the dresses and suit case was found had no knowledge of the crime, stating that Corrado had come there and asked to leave the suitcase and contents for a time. It was also claimed that a brother of Corrado had taken a part of the stuff and gone to Waterloo, Iowa, apparently to dispose of the loot.

While the officers had traced the movements of Corrado here to such a point that it indicated his presence in the neighborhood of the Begley home on the date of the robbery, they had not located any of the loot until Wednesday afternoon. Corrado had denied all knowledge of the robbery, altho he had not denied being in the city on the date of the robbery on last Thursday.

Ask Gravel of Road North of Weeping Water

Committee Visits Governor Bryan to Seek Three Miles of Gravel on Important Route.

From Friday's Daily
A committee of the business men and prominent residents of Weeping Water were at Lincoln the first part of this week to interview Governor Bryan and the state department of public works on a gravel proposal.

The resident of Weeping Water and vicinity are asking that a three-mile stretch of highway north of that city be graveled, this connecting up the highway to Louisville and making a much shorter and more convenient route to the north.

This three miles has been left ungraveled and it is felt that it should be completed this year in order to give the residents of that section a much better highway to Plattsmouth, Louisville and Omaha.

Those who formed the committee were Mayor T. L. Davis, G. R. Binger, J. J. Meier, W. L. Hobson, F. J. Domingo, County Commissioner Fred H. Gorder, Charles Voightmann and A. Yocem.

MURRAY FIGHTS SALES TAX

Oklahoma City.—Governor Murray telegraphed Representative McKeown at Washington Thursday, expressing opposition to a sales tax, altho both McKeown and Representative Cartwright of Oklahoma, had advised the governor adoption of an oil tariff might be endangered if they did not support the tax.

"In good conscience I cannot advise voting for a sales tax under any plea in time of peace," Murray said. "For the democratic party to endorse the record of a democratic house for enacting a sales tax would defeat the party and I, for one, would oppose such endorsement. Moreover, forty-two cent tariff on oil would merely raise revenue and only partially aid the independent oil producer for the amount is not equal to the difference between the cost at home and abroad."
