

UNION ITEMS.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hoback and family were calling at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor Sunday evening.

Henry H. Becker was shelling corn on last Tuesday for Fred N. Baker which was delivered to the Stites elevator.

Miss Geraldine Russell and Mrs. P. F. Riha were visiting and looking after some business matters in Omaha on last Saturday.

Mrs. W. A. Taylor and Miss Marjorie Hoback were shopping in Nebraska City a week ago Saturday, going by bus and returning by train.

W. B. Banning was called to Tallmage on last Tuesday where he had some business matters to look after, driving over to the hustling city in his car.

W. B. Banning and Henry Rheuman were over to Lincoln on last Monday, called there to look after some business matters, they making the trip via their auto.

Harry O'Brien and family and Mrs. M. E. Duff, all of Cedar Creek, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Greene, where all enjoyed a very nice visit on last Sunday.

The home of Louis Crunk has been quarantined on account of scarlet fever, but it is reported that all are getting along nicely which is good news to their numerous friends.

Lee Farris, who makes his home just east of Union, is reported as being in very poor health at this time having just had a siege of the flu from which he has not entirely recovered.

The members of the Woman's Extension club met one day during the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Todd, and entertained for their families, including the husbands and the kiddies and enjoyed a very pleasant time.

Elmer Pike has been very seriously ill with an aggravated attack of pneumonia which he has been wrestling with for some time. Everything has been done for the patient, and at the last reports he was getting some better.

Jesse L. Pell of Omaha was a visitor in Union for a number of days during the forepart of this week where he was visiting with friends and as well looking after some business matters. It seems good to get back to Union after having resided in Omaha for a time. Say, Union is a pretty good place to live anyway!

A Visitor in Plattsmouth.

W. H. Porter and the good wife were over to Plattsmouth one day last week where they went to look after some business matters and called at the office of Robert Walling where they had some abstracts to look after, and found that gentleman out of town. When Mr. Walling returned he was notified of the call and took occasion to write Mr. Porter a letter in which he praised Mr. Porter as an ideal candidate for the position of sheriff, saying: "You may count on us giving you our support, both at the primary and the general election." The battle is on with ten candidates for the place. Should Mr. Porter win, he sure will make an ideal person for the position.

Will Hold Town Caucus.

The town caucus for the nomination of candidates for the election of the city officers this spring will be held on Friday night of this week, and as there is much interest in the coming election, it is expected that there will be a large and greatly interested crowd in attendance.

L. F. Kohrell Much Better.

Louis F. Kohrell who has been in the hospital at Omaha for the past nearly a month is reported as showing much improvement and is at this time able to be up and about the hospital and is expected to be able to return home the coming week. On last Sunday Mrs. Kohrell and their son, Albert Kohrell and wife, were over to Omaha to see the patient.

George A. Stites Very Sore.

From the attack of a crowd of ruffians who laid in wait for George A. Stites and under cover of revolver, enforced the surrender of a pint of hooch, which he had taken from a lad from Plattsmouth and which he was to use as evidence in his effort to clean up the town, and when the hooch had been surrendered, the four jumped on the Mayor, knocking him down and beating him brutally. He had a number of ribs broken. Had a stranger done that act, he would have been given from five to ten years in the state prison, but no complaint was made until time was allowed for the escape of the culprits or two of the principal ones when it was reported and the officers had arrived. However, one of the men, the one who administered the kicking, was still here and was taken into custody. The one arrested was taken to Plattsmouth where he was placed in jail until a hearing could be given and charges preferred. When a square shooter as the mayor of Union, George A. Stites, has to be beaten as he was last Saturday night, because he wanted to clean up his town and to save some of the young men from a life of crime, it is a shame that the ones who he had talked to as father and tried to make men of them, should endeavor to beat him to near death.

"This Is the Tale of a Shirt."

And shoes that became mittens, in the work shop at Minot, N. D. Red Cross, says the Minot Daily News.

"Shirt tales are being made into comfort tops, quilt covers, and the uppers of old-fashioned high top shoes become mittens in the hands of the volunteer Red Cross work shop. There is a special call for quilts and mittens.

"A shoe repair shop has offered to stitch free of charge, mittens made from old shoes.

"So the women at the Red Cross depot are appealing for old shirts, high top shoes, woollens and blankets, and stockings, the woollens and stockings used for lining the mittens.

"Many chapters outside the drouth area are giving help applying the knitting needles as in World war days."

As a result of an appeal from National Red Cross 52 chapters in 13 states of that area were preparing to ship 2324 knitted garments into Montana and North Dakota for needy children.

On to Washington this Bicentennial year. Annual convention, American Red Cross April 11-14th.

Since health is wealth, why not spend wealth for health? So reasoned a youngster in the 4th or 5th grade in an Indiana school. Putting his thoughts on a poster he received a prize for it.

If it takes a fifty thousand dollar man to guide a client, develop a coal mine, put a corporation on its feet, what is a teacher worth, who takes that boy of yours, guides him, develops him, puts him on his feet and makes a man of him?

The happiest people are those who must work to live. Fortunate is the man who has something to lick and the will to lick it.

Education is to know for the sake of living not to live for the sake of knowing, says Kate Douglas Wiggin.

Call for Prices on Maintenance of Gravel Roads

Take Bids April 1 Covering 600 Miles of Road—Three Bridge Projects.

State Engineer Cochran Tuesday announced that bids will be received April 8 on maintenance gravel for 967 miles of highways. This is in addition to the contract letting scheduled for April 1, when maintenance material will be bought for 923 miles. These two lettings will take care of approximately 1,900 miles, a large share of the Nebraska gravelled highway system. Any further contracting of maintenance gravel during the summer will be comparatively small unless spring rains cause great damage.

Gravel and bridge contractors are expected to flock to Lincoln in large number on April 1, when the highway department takes bids on three bridge projects, and about 600 miles of resurfacing or maintenance gravel. There are sixty-five maintenance gravel contracts to be awarded, scattered all over the state.

Need for early replacement of gravel lost during the winter has been pointed out by engineers since the snows disappeared, showing much material had been scraped off the roadways by blades and plows in clearing paths thru the winter's deep drifts.

The three bridge projects are as follows:

Widening of Platte river span near Bridgeport to make a twenty foot roadway. At present there is a single track with a turnout near the center. Steel and concrete are specified. Owing to technicalities, bids on this job were rejected a week ago.

Four treated timber trestle bridges for four stations on the Atkinson-Devere highway. Each bridge to be twenty-one feet long.

Installation of concrete floor and steel handrail on a bridge between Wolbach and St. Paul. The structure consists of three twenty-five foot spans.

Board Claims Right to Act as It Pleases

Says That It Is Subject Only to the Constitutional Provisions in Its Acts.

In the opinion of F. C. Radke and Clark Jeary, special counsel for the state board of equalization and assessment, "the violent effort of the attorney general to bolster up his position (his appeal from the valuation placed on pipe lines) by the accumulation of hypertechnical objections to the procedure of the board" should meet with summary rejection at the hands of the supreme court.

The board maintains that its figure was reached after taking evidence and from personal sources of information, and that it represents a valuation as nearly as is humanly possible on a parity with other taxpayers. The case is to be argued next Monday. The board defends the increase as just and proper, and says in conducting the hearing it was not required to follow judicial procedure.

It is contended that in the absence of evidence to the contrary, public officials will faithfully and legally perform their duties; that the board is a creature of the constitution, made up of executive officers, and operates under a self-executing section of that document; that the legislature cannot interfere with the performance of those duties, and that the board can act as it pleases insofar as it does not violate the constitutional inhibition against taking property without due process of law.

TRIES TO SAVE MRS. JUDD

Phoenix.—Bare possibility existed that the house to house canvasser aged father is conducting in behalf of Winnie Ruth Judd is not the tragic "wild goose chase" it appears. Legally, there would be no significance to the petition to commute his daughter's sentence from hanging to life imprisonment, even should the seventy-three year old Rev. E. J. McKinnell obtain 20,000 signatures. Actually, in the opinion of seasoned political observers, the petition may carry some weight, if a considerable number of signatures are obtained.

Asked about the progress of his pilgrimage, the aged man replied: "Please don't ask me for particulars. It is slow work. There's only myself to do it. It's too early to say. I will say that there are many persons who believe me when I tell them that I know my poor girl best, and I know she couldn't have done a thing like this, had she been in her right mind."

CONVICTED IN KIDNAP CASE

St. Louis.—The second man in the Alexander Berg kidnaping case was convicted Sunday when a circuit court jury returned a verdict of guilty against Edward Barume, ex-convict, and fixed punishment at twenty-five years in the penitentiary. The state had asked the death penalty. Two convictions, one plea of guilty and one mistrial have resulted since the arrest of five men for the abduction last November of the wealthy St. Louis fur dealer, who was held prisoner four days in a flat before being released after a promise of $50,000 ransom, which was never paid. Charles Heuer, alleged leader of the kidnapers, was convicted in an earlier trial and his punishment fixed at ninety-nine years in prison.
