

Alvo News

The Farmers Union local met at the Lyle Miller home last Monday.

The Seniors motored to Lincoln on Saturday to have their class pictures taken.

The election returns were taken to Plattsmouth Tuesday evening by John Skinner.

Charles Ayres chelled and delivered corn to the Rheolator elevator Wednesday of last week.

Thos. Stout took very ill at his home Sunday afternoon, but is some improved at this writing.

Miss Hazel Diekhute has made arrangements to teach at Ericson for the ensuing year. We are glad to know she has attained this position.

Several families were Lincoln visitors Saturday, including the Dan Reuter, Frank Cook, A. T. Snodgrass, Lyle Miller, Ben Swanson and Herman Bernerstein.

Friends of Jennie Nickel are very sorry that she is not improving as rapidly as they would like her to. It is hoped by her friends that she will soon recover.

The Camp Fire girls and their leader Miss Velma Barkhurst, took a hike on Wednesday evening after school and enjoyed themselves to their utmost extent.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bunting were over to Union on last Sunday, where they were visiting for the day at the home of Joseph W. Bunting and with other relatives.

Charles Gooden, L. D. Mullen, Attorney F. B. Frazz and others were over to Plattsmouth last week, they being interested in some matters before the state court.

Miss W. Bunting and Earl Bennett were over to Plattsmouth as witnesses in a case before the district court in which George Heston was bringing an action against the A. O. U. W. lodge.

Mr. Henry Bailey was a visitor in Alvo for a number of days during the past week, where she was visiting with relatives and friends and at the same time was looking after some business as well.

Mr. Olson, the operator at the Rock Island station has been feeling far from well and was compelled to lay off from his work for a time, during which Mr. Clamper, extra operator, was called to Alvo to relieve Mr. Olson.

John McVintie, who was ill for a long time with rheumatic rheumatism, and who has been getting about but gaining slowly, is at this time so far recovered that he is able to return to his work again, but is having to take things rather slow as yet.

The Juniors enjoyed a theatre party on Thursday evening at Lincoln, including the cast for the play and teachers. The Sophomores, not to be outdone, enjoyed a lunch at Antelope park on Tuesday evening and also attended a show afterwards.

The Reading club met at Mrs. L. R. Appleman's home on last Thursday with several visitors from Lincoln, Misses Anna Kirkpatrick, Charles Edwards and L. R. Appleman, sponsored the program including quilts, rugs and bookish subjects. A wonderful display was presented and enjoyed by the members. The next meeting will be April 21st, with Mrs. Eugene Barkhurst.

Buy a Fine New Car
Eugene Barkhurst has just purchased a new Chevrolet De Luxe sedan for the use of the family, and which is proving to be just the car which the family have desired and needed. It is roomy and will care for the transportation of all the family, and is a most sturdy wagon with beauty and great speed and above all economical.

Miss Della Sutton Home
Miss Della Sutton, who was injured about two months since in an automobile wreck near Omaha and who has been in the hospital since receiving treatment, was so far recovered that she was able to return home last week and is feeling very well with the exception of having a very decided limp when she walks and feeling some inconvenience in getting about. Miss Sutton is fortunate in that she was able to come out of the serious wreck as well as she has.

Try Out on Baseball
The baseball players of this vicinity turned out last Friday for a try-out at the national pastime, contested with the Greenwood team, having a Free Silver game with 16 scores for Alvo to one for Greenwood. The game was one which was enjoyed by all present, as well as the players. In a game with Eagle Alvo also won 27 to 3.

Enjoyed Evening Party
After school had closed, Miss Rose Marie Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Olson was given a party for her and her young friends by the parents. All the young folks enjoyed the occasion very much and the parents as well.

Junior-Senior Banquet
The Junior-senior banquet will be given on April 30th, with a get-together meeting of the two classes and at which the Junior class entertains the Senior class, which they are to be the coming year. This is very nice that the Juniors entertain the Seniors who are to close their school work here with the closing of this school year and go out into the world to make a career for themselves and to make the world better for their having lived therein.

Signs of the Times
The signs of the times indicate this and in fact that, but the signs prevalent in Alvo tell you where you can secure good goods at special bargain prices, always in effect in this thriving little city. "The Alvo Hardware and Implement Company" is a sign which graces the business house of Edwards and Elliott, and they mean just what their sign says, a good place to purchase hardware and implements. Try them.

"Nelson Market" appears on both windows of E. L. Nelson. This, too, is a very fine sign and one which calls attention to the business house of Mr. Nelson which is headquarters for groceries and cuts of all kind, including fresh meats. "E. Barkhurst and Son" on a graceful sweep on both the north and west windows of their store, adds grace and dignity to the place of business. This house is offering the best goods at prices which the cities cannot equal, for the overhead here is so much lower than in the cities. Also in these three places of business you will find better treatment all the time than will be shown you when you go out of town to trade.

FORMER CONGRESSMAN HERE
From Saturday's Daily
Hon. C. F. Reavis, of Lincoln, former congressman from the First Nebraska district, was in the city today to attend to some matters in the district court and incidentally visiting with the many old time friends. Mr. Reavis, since his retirement from congress in 1921, has been engaged in the practice of law in Lincoln and while still active in politics has not been a seeker after public office. He has just been selected as one of the republican delegates to the national convention from this district.

Back-to-Land Urged in Canada to Aid Jobless

Federal Census Indicates That There Are 32,767 Abandoned or Vacant Farms.

Winnipeg, Man.—A back-to-the-land movement as a means of providing the most logical form of relief for those affected by the economic situation in western Canada is meeting more and more with the approval of officials and those charged with the duty of providing for persons dependent on public help.

Last year's federal census shows that there are 32,767 vacant or abandoned farms in Canada. Thousands of these farmsteads are located in western Canada, and, in addition, there are millions of acres of hitherto unsettled lands.

Each of the provincial governments in western Canada proposes to institute some form of land settlement this summer. Considerable success was achieved with similar projects last summer. In the last 18 months, according to federal statistics, 44,000 people were returned from the cities to farms in the Dominion through the joint work of the two Canadian railways and the Department of Labor.

Saskatchewan has the most elaborate scheme to carry out this summer. It involves the settlement of between 1200 and 2000 families. Each family will be given stock and equipment up to a value of $200, and the farms will be under the supervision of a competent inspector.

Manitoba proposes to spend $50,000 on restoring the independence of some of the people now on relief by returning them to farm homes. The expenditure will be divided equally between the federal, provincial and municipal governments.

Similar plans are being considered in eastern Canada, as well. In Nova Scotia, the Provincial Government proposes to place unemployed miners on vacant farms. The Quebec Government is making efforts to secure the return of French Canadians who left their native country for the New England states and, on their return, plans to provide them with homes on old farm lands in settled parts of the province.

TO LECTURE AT MYNARD

Prof. Filley, head of the rural economics department of the University of Nebraska, is to be heard at the Mynard community club on Wednesday evening, April 20th, at their meeting on that date. Prof. Filley has devoted many years to the study of economic questions, particularly that of taxation. He will discuss the problems of the present day and his appearance before the Mynard club will afford the opportunity of hearing one of the best informed men in the state on the questions of the hour. Everyone should hear Prof. Filley.

WILL DELIVER LECTURE

Prof. Filley, head of the rural economics department of the University of Nebraska, will be a guest of the Mynard community club on Wednesday evening, April 20th, at their meeting on that date. Prof. Filley is one of the best informed men on economics in the state and will discuss with the Mynard people many of the problems of today and especially that of taxation which is today one of the greatest problems of the world.

Dated April 13, 1932.
D. H. McCLENNAN,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

BUILDING POP VENDING STAND

From Friday's Daily
Just west of the hamburger stand at Sixth and Vine streets, where the world goes by, where some are good and some are bad, and some are weak and some are strong, and many are thirsty, there is being a pop and soft drink stand constructed in the shape of a windmill, which should suggest refreshing drinks. The work is being done by Cordy Pitman, and is to be operated as the property of the hamburger stand.

Will Fight Kidnapers to Last Ditch - Lindy

Scene Shifts from Hopwell, N. J. to New York in the Lindbergh Kidnaping Case.

In a bold challenge threatening his son's kidnapers with a relentless manhunt unless they speed new negotiations to return the child, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh Thursday called the New York police into action to trace one of his $20 ransom bills.

The police department's "hands off" policy, previously calculated to "lose the path to a new ransom deal," was suddenly abandoned at the personal request of the flyer through his attorney, Col. Henry Breckenridge.

At the very time Police Commissioner Mulcahey indicated a crack squad to check clues at the East River Savings bank where the $20 ransom bill was first taken in, Colonel Lindbergh and Dr. John F. Condon, his intermediary, pursued a new contact with the kidnapers.

As the center of activity in the case switched from the Lindbergh home to New York city, Dr. Condon was accused in a series of mysterious maneuvers behind a new smoke screen of secrecy.

LEGION AUXILIARY'S RADIO BROADCAST

The "New England States Hook-up" which will carry word of the Legion Auxiliary's activities into every radio-equipped home in the entire nation, will start with a broadcast from Station WBBG, WAGL, and WROK, N. Y., Saturday night, April 16th, at 8:00 p.m.

The "New England States Hook-up" will continue the following night, April 17, with the New York department president and commander speaking from the same station.

During the following week, Mrs. O. D. Oliphant, past national president and Chairman of the national committee on national defense; E. E. Stafford, past national commander; Lemuel Dolles, past national adjutant; Miss Ida Adley, department secretary; Mrs. Jessie MacLure, national chairman of community service and unit activities; and Mary Frances Fall, eastern division radio chairman, will speak on programs from Stations WGR, WMAC and WNYC, in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. A number of nationally known musicians will appear on these broadcasts, among them Beatrice Breaque, who was an entertainer overseas during the war.

NOW LOCATED ON FARM

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Strader who have been making their home in this city for the past few years, that the children might have a better opportunity to attend school, recently moved to their farm southwest of Rock Bluff, where they are intensely interested in getting things straightened out and at the farm work. Homer is an excellent farmer and we are certain the knack of raising the best corn, hogs and cattle will be a feature of his farm work. The place was farmed for the past few years by L. E. Elliott.

MUSIC PROGRAM

A musical program will be presented at the high school auditorium next Wednesday night featuring the band directed by L. D. Hiatt and the pupils of the grade schools under the direction of Miss Cora Williams. Other music organizations of the schools have been previously featured in programs and this time the band and grade school organizations will have the spotlight. A complete evening program has been planned which will be printed later. A small admission charge will be made.

The Journal will appreciate your phoning in news items. Call No. 6. Thanks!
