GIVE SPLENDID CONCERT

From Saturday's Daily
The Vesper choir of Morningside college of Sioux City, Iowa, last evening at the First Methodist church gave one of the most pleasing musical entertainments that has been offered in the city.

This choir, composed of some thirty-six voices is under the direction of Lester McCoy and is one of the best known musical groups in western Iowa. The membership is composed of the music students of Morningside and among the members is Miss Jean Hayes of this city, a freshman at the college.

The rain and storm which broke at the time the concert was about to be held, prevented a large number from attending, but those who braved the threat of the rain enjoyed a rare musical treat that they will long remember.

The choir will appear this evening at Springfield, Nebraska to which point they departed this morning. It had been hoped to have the choir here this evening if the weather conditions did not permit the travel to Springfield, but it was found that the roads were in good shape and the group left to resume their tour.

The choir was guests of the ladies of the M. E. church here at dinner and luncheon at the church parlors Friday.

Sketch of Life of Andrew Hoffman, Deceased

Last Services for the Departed Held at Weeping Water, His Long Time Home.

From Friday's Daily
The funeral of the late Andrew Hoffman, 79, was held at the home in Weeping Water last Saturday afternoon.

Andrew Jackson Hoffman was born in Wayne county, Indiana, October 15, 1852, and departed this life April 27, 1932, at his late home in Weeping Water, Nebraska, after several weeks illness at the age of 79 years, 6 months and 12 days.

When a small boy, he with his parents came to Jasper county, Iowa, where he grew to young manhood. In the year 1876 he united in marriage to Miss Charlotte Batlin, and to this union ten children were born. Five of the children preceded him in death.

In 1887 he moved with his family from Iowa to a homestead in Kansas, where the trials of pioneer life were experienced by this couple and their family. In 1905 the family moved to Cass county, Nebraska, where they have resided ever since.

Early in life he professed his faith in Christ as his personal savior and remained true to that faith until his death.

He leaves to mourn his passing his faithful companion and five children: Arthur and Oscar, of Weeping Water, Nebraska; William, of Kneaville, Iowa; Mrs. Mabel Steinhauer, of Lincoln, Nebraska; and Frank Hoffman, of Lodge Pole, Nebraska. He also leaves to mourn his departure, sixteen grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends.

Last Saturday afternoon, April 30, the funeral services were held at the home, Rev. J. B. Starkey, of the Mennonite church, in charge. He took for his scripture reading the 14th chapter of John. A quartette composed of Messrs. R. I. Compton and Melvin Rich and Mesdames Sam Rector and Melvin Rich, sang "In the Sweet By and By," "Some Time We Will Understand," and "Does Jesus Care." Mrs. Harold Baker accompanying on the organ.

Palbearers were close neighbors and friends of the family: Carl Day, C. E. Pool, John Murphy, Louis Ehlers, Henry Smith, Sr., and Charles Ward. Interment in Oakwood cemetery, W. L. Hobson & Son in charge.

HORSES REPLACE TRACTORS ON CASS COUNTY FARMS

Frank Salberg, assessor of Eight Mile Grove precinct, was a caller at the Courier office Monday. He says the assessment of farm products will fall off almost 50% from last year's values. The low price of hogs, cattle, corn, wheat and everything usually listed on the farm will be responsible for the decrease. Mr. Salberg volunteered the information that farmers of that precinct are using horses to do their farm work, while the tractor stands idle in the shed. "It takes from $4 to $5 a day to operate a tractor," said Mr. Salberg, "and the farmers have not the money."

He was asked the approximate number of tractors owned by the farmers of Eight Mile Grove precinct and he placed the number from 60 to 70. In one neighborhood he visited fourteen farm homes and found thirteen tractors which he listed for assessment. Not one of them was being used.—Louisville Courier.

We Know It's True

But its nice to have some one tell us that it is

A man who hasn't been doing much trading in Plattsmouth, brought to us his "Values Up — Prices Down" circular we mailed the other day, with quite a number of the bargains checked.

He said, "I've heard that I can do just as well or better here than I can by driving miles or sending away, so I've come to be convinced." He was so pleased with the values he found that his purchases included many more items than he originally intended to get, because, he said, he didn't know that any store in Cass county carried such a large and comprehensive stock at such rock bottom prices.

If you didn't scan that big ad thoroughly, be sure and do so at your first opportunity.

"Thar's gold in them thar hills," said a prospector, and we repeat "There's savings in every item in that ad."

RATE HEARINGS ADJOURNED

Chicago—The interstate commerce commission's hearing on grain rates adjourned Friday reopening in Kansas City May 11. For three weeks the western carriers have presented evidence of losses and decreased business in support of their proposal for generally drastic higher rates on grain products. Already, the growers have offered two witnesses: Gov. Shafer of North Dakota, and C. E. Luff, president of the Farmers National grain corporation. But the big drive of agriculture against the proposal of the western lines will open with the Kansas City hearing.

Former Gov. Reed of Kansas has prepared the evidence to depict plight of the farmer, aided by the public service commissions of the important grain producing states.

Business will improve only as we contribute to its improvement by exercising our purchasing power.
