Masons Unveil Monument to First Grand Lodge

Number of Plattsmouth Masons Present at Bellevue to Witness the Unveiling.

From Tuesday's Daily
The members of the Nebraska grand lodge of the A. F. & A. M. as well as several hundred Masons from nearby points, were at Bellevue this afternoon to attend the monument unveiling, a part of the seventy-fifth anniversary of Nebraska Masonry.

It was at Bellevue in 1857 that the first grand lodge of Nebraska Masonry was established, although three lodges had been formed in the territory prior to that time on charters from other jurisdictions. The grand lodges of Iowa, Missouri and Illinois, were responsible for the establishment of the first Masonic bodies in the state and grand masters of the three states were at Bellevue today for the ceremonies.

The monument is in the form of a Masonic altar, made of granite and which was presented to the grand lodge by William S. Heller of Omaha in honor of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the grand lodge. The ceremonies were presided over by Harold H. Thom, master of Nebraska lodge No. 1, founded in 1855 at Bellevue and where it remained until in 1888 when the lodge was removed to Omaha.

The presentation was made by Mr. Heller and the acceptance made by John R. Tapster of North Bend, present grand master of Nebraska Masons. The principal address of the day was given by Hon. A. W. Jeffers of Omaha and covered a discussion of the Masonic order in Nebraska.

The Seventeenth infantry band of Fort Crook gave a short concert in connection with the ceremonies.

The party was composed of Harold Gauer, Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. John Gauer, Mrs. W. A. Heil, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Salsburg, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Jennings and family.

The Sattler ambulance was sent to Omaha and brought the patient to this city and out to the home of her daughter, Mrs. David Rutherford, with whom she made her home. The many friends will be pleased to learn of the return of this estimable lady and trust that she may soon entirely recover from her injuries and be able to be around as formerly.

SUFFERS SEVERE LOSS

Sunday morning a brooder house at the farm of William Wetenkamp, near Mynard, caught fire and was completely destroyed and 500 small chickens that were in the house were also burned to death. The house had just recently been built by William Wetenkamp, Jr., for the protection of the large number of small chicks that he was raising and he feels keenly the loss of the house and chickens. It is thought the brooder house caught from a small oil heater that was used to heat the building.

The Hatt building on the south side of Main street between Fourth and Fifth streets, is being repainted and decorated and made ready to be converted into a bakery. The building is owned by the Hatt family and the new bakery is to be established by Ralph Hatt, who has come here from Chicago to look after the arranging of the building and the starting of the business. Bathing Beaches Popular During the Hot Weather

Hundreds Flock to Lyman-Richey Sandpits Sunday to Enjoy the Cooling Water.

From Monday's Daily
The hot summer weather that is now prevailing has caused a general flocking of the residents of this city to the various bathing beaches in evenings and on Sunday.

Yesterday a crowd of several hundred were at the Lyman-Richey sandpits northwest of this city and where the cool waters in the pits made the day more pleasant for the heat-troubled city dwellers. This has become a very popular bathing spot in the past two years and is not a great distance from the city.

A large number of the youths of the city also have a bathing spot at the pits near highway No. 75 just south of the Platte river bridge that has proven very popular and where greater freedom from the crowds can be enjoyed.

The Murray bathing beach will open next Sunday with a general program of athletic events in addition to the pleasures of the beach. The bathing beach has been thoroughly overhauled for the coming season and will prove a pleasure spot for the residents of this section of Cass county.

REQUESTS HOPPER BAIT

Applications for poison bran to kill grasshoppers are coming into the department of agriculture from many sources. Secretary Felton has been asked by people in Lincoln to furnish bait to kill grasshoppers in flower gardens. A man at Bennet called to ask for 400 pounds of the bait, stating that grasshoppers are damaging his alfalfa. The department has no bait to give out indiscriminately. The secretary of the department prefers to deal only thru county boards.

Franklin county applied Tuesday to the state for aid in combating grasshoppers. The department has ordered a half car of bait for Dakota county.

Antelope county, which has bought two cars of bait, is to be given one car by the state. A car costs 1500. Antelope county, the only far northern county which has thus far been able to use its own funds, proposes to buy two more cars.

Secretary Felton has been informed that 40 percent of the grasshopper eggs have not yet hatched, so he expects to hear of an increase in some portions of the state. In western counties where no rain has fallen damage to green crops is reported worse than in counties where cold rains are supposed to have killed many young hoppers.
