ENTERTAIN FOR FRIEND

Mrs. E. H. Wescott and Mrs. R. E. Hayes were hostesses at a very delightful afternoon party Wednesday, the event being in honor of Mrs. R. E. Bailey, who is to leave the city soon. The party was at the attractive Wescott home, "Sunnyside," where the bright hued garden flowers made a most delightful setting for the large group of ladies in attendance. The time was spent in visiting and social conversation, all of the party joining in their regrets at the forthcoming departure of Mrs. Bailey. During the residence of the family here Mrs. Bailey has been very active in the work of the Methodist church and her leaving will make a place hard to fill. At a suitable hour dainty and delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The invited guests were: Mesdames C. O. Troy, C. C. Wescott, W. L. Heinrich, Harry White, Frank Barkus, H. F. Goos, F. L. Cummins, E. A. Wurl, Howard Davis, Bert Coleman, J. E. Wiles, Otto Keck, William Baird, S. S. Davis, J. L. Tidball, A. S. Ghrist, A. H. Duxbury, William Hunter, V. T. Arn, J. S. Livingston, F. I. Rea, J. W. Crabill, R. A. Bates, Misses Marie Kaufmann, Amelia Martens, Alpha Peterson, Marie Hunter, Mia and Barbara Gerling, Olive Jones.

HERE FROM FLORIDA

Adolph Cechal, of Miami, Florida, arrived in the city Friday afternoon for a visit here with his mother, Mrs. Josephine Cechal, as well as the other relatives and friends in this city and vicinity. Mr. Cechal made the trip by auto and states he had a very pleasant trip, the weather in the south being pleasant and mild. Mr. Cechal has been located at Miami for a number of years and where he has business interests and property that have required his remaining in the south a great deal of the time.

HAS TONSILS REMOVED

From Thursday's Daily
This morning at the office of Dr. L. S. Pucelik, Leo Sikora was operated on for the removal of his tonsils. The operation was very successful and it is expected that within the next few days that the young man may be able to resume his usual activities. Dr. Pucelik was assisted by Dr. E. J. Gillespie in the operation.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS PLAN PUBLIC LAWN PARTY

The Lithani Camp Fire Girls are busy this week making arrangements for a public lawn party which will be held at the Lloyd Wolcott home, Friday afternoon, June 17th. Tables to accommodate a large number of card players, both in pinocle and bridge, will be placed about the spacious lawn. Refreshments are being planned for the occasion and details of the affair will be completed this week. The party is open to the public and is for the benefit of the Camp Fire.

The card playing will start at two o'clock. Tickets are on sale now. The tickets, which they are selling at 35c, provide for card playing and refreshments. Proceeds from the affair will be used to replenish the Camp Fire treasury. If you would like to entertain a foursome make reservations for your table soon.

THE MASONIC HOME ON THE MISSOURI

O the Missouri's rough and shady banks,
Stands the Home, in which I dwell,
Tomatoes, strawberries and popcorn grows—and parades
And breaks within, a morbid spell.

Harmony, the soul of life,
within;
Guards truth with a steady hand;
Directs the way, to freedom's kin,
And a brighter path, to a better land.

The mystic waves may lash in vain
And beat again, forsooth;
But love divine and stately truth,
Heals discord and soothes the pain.

The Home, a symbol of eternal rest,
What more can we say?
The storms may beat, within the nest;
As the fledglings devoutly pray.

That king of the forest supplies the shade
When returning from hill and glade,
There nature has so beautifully supplied,
The most lovely spot, it could betide.

When on his trestle board
He draws his last design;
And his working tools are heard,
To drop from his weary hands, benign.

Hiram's working tools, now laid away
But shall work again, another day,
In the realm of harmony, supreme,
When no discord can intervene.

Lindy Suspect is Identified by Dr. J. F. Condon

Ex-Convict and Friend of Suicide Maid, Named as Man Receiving $50,000 Ransom.

White Plains, N. Y., June 10.—Dr. John F. Condon, Lindbergh intermediary, was quoted by police Friday night as saying a picture of Ernest Brinkert, arrested ex-convict, was that of the "John" to whom he paid $50,000 ransom in a New York city cemetery, April 2.

Dr. Condon was taken by a White Plains detective to a drug store to await the arrival of Brinkert, who was being brought here from Mamaroneck, where he had been arrested shortly before.

Police said Dr. Condon would confront Brinkert in a test of identification.

Mamaroneck, N. Y., June 10.—Police announced Ernest Brinkert, wanted in the Lindbergh kidnaping, had been taken into custody here.

The apprehension of Brinkert was announced by Police Chief William Miller of White Plains, N. Y., who came here to assist in hunting the ex-convict and friend of Violet Sharpe, Morrow waitress who committed suicide earlier Friday after implicating him.

Miller said he would take Brinkert to White Plains immediately to be held there for New Jersey authorities.

White Plains is eight miles from Mamaroneck. Both are suburban communities in Westchester county, N. Y., near the Connecticut state line.

Englewood, N. J., June 10.—A waitress in the Dwight Morrow household, whom police believed had guilty knowledge of the Lindbergh baby kidnaping and murder, committed suicide Friday after disclosing the name of a man with whom she had gone on a mysterious trip the night of the kidnaping.

The waitress, Violet Sharpe, 26, dramatically drank poison in the home of the baby's grandmother as she was about to be questioned anew.

Police immediately intensified the search for her companion, Ernest Brinkert, whom they revealed for the first time had been under suspicion since March 2. A general alarm was sounded for the arrest of Brinkert, who was missing from his home at 50 Post road, White Plains, N. Y.

The waitress' sister, Edith, police said, sailed for England four days after a $50,000 ransom was paid in a Bronx cemetery by Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jafle" in the case. The sister had stayed for some time before the kidnaping at the home of Constance Chilton in Englewood, and Scotland Yard was asked to arrest her.

World-Wide Hunt.
Violet Sharpe had been employed by Mrs. Morrow for a year and a half. She had been questioned repeatedly since the child was stolen.

Friday the police came back to grill her again. She drank from a bottle of poison as they waited, and fell to the floor, her lips forever sealed.

In the early examination of Miss Sharpe she refused to tell where she had been on the night of the tragic crime. She wouldn't talk about a telephone call she had early that afternoon. She wouldn't reveal the name of the man she went out with. And the statements she did make were conflicting.

Police said nothing. Miss Sharpe's name was never mentioned in the case. But they concentrated all their efforts on breaking down her defiant resistance.—Omaha Bee-News.

VISITORS IN CITY

Mrs. J. R. Brown and daughters, Mary, Eleanor and Carolyn of Lakewood, Ohio, accompanied by Mrs. Harriet Hawn of Cleveland, and Miss Hazel Dovey of Canton, Ohio, accompanied by Tom and Jane Patterson of Wheeling, West Virginia, arrived by auto Tuesday evening to visit for several weeks with relatives here, Omaha and Lincoln.

They left Cleveland at 7:30 Monday morning and arrived here Tuesday evening at 8:30.

WALRADT FAMILY REUNION

The Walradt family reunion, which has become an annual event, was held in Riverside tourist park last Sunday and was attended by about fifty persons. Everyone brought along a fine picnic dinner and this was one of the enjoyable features of the day. After partaking of the feast, everyone had a good time visiting together.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ahl, pioneers of this locality and Mr. Ahl had the distinction of being the eldest on the ground. Mrs. Ahl was formerly Bertha Walradt, Mrs. A. C. Erickson and sons, Floyd and Cecil, were also present and helped to welcome the out-of-town visitors.

Among others present were Mrs. Mary Duff, of Cedar Creek and members of her family, Lee Walradt and family, Mrs. Al Jardine and family of Greenwood, the children of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ahl and their families, Verner Hill and wife, of Cedar Creek, Oliver Hennings, of Adams, and a number from this vicinity.

The youngest member present was the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ahl, a grandson of Ernest Ahl and a great-grandson of Henry Ahl and wife.

This is a very pleasant event each year and the families look forward to this getting together and the old time friends in Louisville enjoy seeing them return year after year.—Louisville Courier.

RECEIVES B A DEGREE

The Municipal University of Omaha graduated 113 students Thursday morning at the 33rd annual commencement exercises before a crowd which filled John Jacobus gymnasium. Dr. W. E. Sealock, president of the university, conferred the diplomas and degrees. Of the graduates, 48 received degrees while 65 were granted four, two, and one-year diplomas and teaching certificates. Included in the graduating class are twenty students who will officially receive their degrees at the close of summer work. Among them is Miss Clara E. Weyrich, who is receiving her Bachelor of Arts degree.

Miss Weyrich is teacher in the Junior high of the Plattsmouth schools and her many friends in the city will be pleased to learn that she has attained the degree that she has so earnestly studied to secure.

Sunday, June 13th, will be Father's day. Remember Dad with an attractive card of greeting. For sale at the Bates Book & Gift Shop.

Hoover Opposed to a Recreating of War Council

Replies to the Suggestion That National Defense Body Be Resurrected.

Washington.—Suggestions by eighty-six leading citizens that President Hoover recreate the old council of national defense as an economic measure drew an almost instantaneous reply from the president that "but few of these gentlemen are familiar with the law bearing on this subject." In a brief letter to Gen. Albert L. Cox of Raleigh, N. C., chairman of the defense committee of the American Legion, the president stated unequivocally that he would not revive the old time council. Mr. Hoover is known to be emphatically opposed to the recreation of the council.

The president's letter was issued in reply to a letter placed before him by Cox, bearing such signatures as those of Edsel Ford, August Heckscher, John Hays Hammond, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; Henry Stevens, commander of the American Legion; Clark Howell, publisher of the Atlanta Constitution; E. J. Weiser, Fargo, N. D., and a long list of prominent bankers and business men. Their letter stated in part:

"We believe, as you by your public statements obviously do, that a national emergency of the first magnitude exists and that it needs emergency treatment. We therefore ask you to set in motion that agency of the government especially designed for such a purpose. From 1916 to 1921 the council of national defense well earned the faith and confidence of the American people. No other agency is so well equipped to win this present fight."

The letter further pointed out that the council was "not intended" to expire with the completion of its task after the war, since it was created during peace time for a peace-time duty.

The president's reply said the chief executive believed "that if the signatories were fully informed" as to the advisory bodies already in existence they would not suggest a recreation of the old council. The president added he was "most desirous of receiving" from the eighty-six signatories suggestions for "any specific action" that might be taken to improve the economic situation.

Mr. Hoover attached to his letter an explanation a statement made to newspapermen last month, which they were allowed to use then without stating the source of their information.

In that statement Mr. Hoover said that with his cabinet, the Reconstruction Finance corporation, the federal reserve board, farm board and farm loan board, sufficient advisory bodies existed to obviate the need of another in the form of a council of national defense.

He stated further that the duties outlined for the council were "absolutely war duties," and that the act creating it would have to be twisted to allow its use in the present situation.—State Journal.

BONUS MARCHER IS JAILED

Alliance, June 9.—The march of a bonus army resulted in bloody noses for two ex-servicemen here Thursday and a jail sentence for one of them. Earl D. Hendricks, 35, who had left here with a band of veterans from Billings, Mont., Sunday night, got as far as Omaha and returned here on Thursday.

He accosted Edward E. Jordan, chairman of the local American Legion relief committee, on the street and berated him for refusing to feed Mrs. Hendricks and her two children during his own absence.

Hendricks and Jordan slugged each other repeatedly before police separated them. Jordan's ear was torn. Hendricks was sentenced to sixty days in jail by Police Judge Charles Jeffers.

REBELS ATTACK FEDERALS

Guatemala City.—A fresh revolutionary outbreak in Honduras, where a bitter political campaign is being fought altho the election is five months away, was reported in dispatches reaching Guatemala City. Rebel troops under command of Filiberto Zelaya, leader of the nationalist party, attacked federal forces in the department of Copan, the dispatches said. The government troops retreated and massed for a concentrated drive to retake the territory, near the place where more than three score were slain Tuesday in a battle between rebels and federal forces under General Umana.

FRANCE HIS OWN BOOSTER

Chicago.—President Hoover's only rival for the republican presidential nomination, former Senator France of Maryland, was busy around headquarters Thursday, posing for photographers and shaking hands with political leaders. France claims he has more actual pledged delegates than Hoover, and says he will make a fight on the convention floor on that basis. He takes himself more seriously than does anyone else.

Look to the Government for Aid in Dispute

Chicago Board of Trade and National Grain Corporation Counsel Need Assistance.

Washington.—The Chicago board of trade and the Farmer's National Grain corporation, accusing it of withholding illegally clearing house privileges, turned to the government to lead them out of the morass their own accumulation of evidence has thrown around them. Bewildered counsel appealed to the commission which has been hearing them by proxy for two days to set a definite line of procedure Friday.

The action was taken on motion of Carl Meyer, counsel for the cooperative, when attorneys for the board started grilling George S. Milnor, general manager of the Farmers' National, on stabilization operations. When the commission turned the hearing over to Elton Marshall, solicitor for the department of agriculture, counsel had agreed to hold in abeyance all testimony not bearing directly on the right of the Farmers' National to membership in the board's clearing corporation. Since then witnesses have been cross examined on everything from the names of the more than 300,000 farmers whose organizations hold stock in the Farmers' National to brokerage fees paid by the grain stabilization corporation.

There was some suggestion that unless the commission rules as irrelevant a great mass of the evidence the hearing may require the presence of additional witnesses or be transferred to Chicago. By trying to blast open the books of the Farmers' National, counsel for the board seem intent on proving its contention the concern is not a co-operative under the Capper-Volstead act but a government supported commission house.—State Journal.

APPROVE WAR BUREAU BILL

Washington, June 9.—Carrying two thousand more officers than the ten thousand sanctioned by the house, the 389 million dollar war department appropriation bill was approved by the senate and sped to conference with the other branch of congress. Fourth of the supply bills to pass both houses, it was sent on its way with a single day's debate, and final approval came without a record vote.

Upholding its appropriations committee, the senate rejected a house provision limiting to 10,000 the number of army officers, and agreed there should be 12,000, as now. Reversing its attitude toward other appropriation bills, it turned down 47 to 22 an attempt by Senator McKellar to send it back to the committee with orders to cut it 10 per cent from the 392 millions it carried as it came from the house.

Senator Norris assailed the training methods of the war department in the citizens' military training camps. Later in the day a proposal by the Nebraskan to eliminate $2,603,623 for the camps was defeated by 45 to 11.

CLAIM OMAHA IS ROBBER

Falls City.—Three victims of a recent Milwaukee holdup in which eleven persons were bound and robbed of $500, Thursday identified Sylvester Nielson of Omaha as one of the three robbers. Nielson is under arrest here.

The victim also identified a photograph of John Toth of New Jersey, who sawed his way out of the Richardson county jail here Wednesday, as that of another robber. Toth is still at large.

Nielson denied guilt altho he said he was near Milwaukee at the time of the robbery. He waived preliminary hearing and was returned to Milwaukee late Thursday by Sergeant Lewis Dieden of Milwaukee police to face charges of assault and robbery under arms.

BROOKHART RETURNS TO CAPITAL; SILENT

Washington, June 8.—Senator Brookhart returned by plane to the capital today from his Iowa home, refusing to discuss the victory of Henry Field, his opponent for the republican nomination, or his future plans.

The Iowan was asked by newspaper men if he intended to run as an independent.

"I haven't a word to say," he replied, with a broad smile. He announced he would offer tomorrow a resolution ordering the secretary of war to issue rations to unemployed veterans, which would apply to the bonus marchers in Washington and over the country.

A Real Home

IN THE planning and arrangement of our funeral home, we have been guided by one main principle: to provide in this establishment all the comfort and privacy of a fine residence, plus the added convenience of a building designed especially for the purpose.

When we remove the remains of a loved one from the shelter of the private home, it must be to a place where the same reverent, dignified atmosphere is maintained. This is the yardstick by which we measure our facilities, and nothing less will satisfy us.

Bereaved families find our mortuary to be indeed a "second home"—a place where their privacy is respected and their every need anticipated during a trying time.
