Short Cooking of Vegetables Recommended. The first of three rules for cooking vegetables listed in a new Nebraska Extension Circular being published reads as follows:

"Prepare all boiled vegetables (except beets) in such a way that not more than twenty minutes cooking will be needed. If too large, cut into suitable pieces; if by mischance inclined to be somewhat fibrous, cut into thin slices crosswise of the fibers. Remember that five minutes cooking is often better than 20 minutes. How good raw cabbage and carrots are without any cooking at all, in salads! Why then, can not two-minute or five-minute, or ten-minute cabbage or carrots be eaten as happily? The answer is, they can, when you get used to them! Especially if thinly sliced or finely shredded or diced, so that they heat quickly, and keep their mild, sweet flavor."

Use Lime Sulphur Spray for Shot Hole Fungus. Rapid yellowing of leaves on cherry trees is probably caused by a fungus trouble known as shot hole fungus. Trees that lose all of their leaves now will be seriously weakened and may die next year.

As soon as the cherries have been picked, a lime sulphur spray should be applied to the tree. Liquid lime sulphur is more effective than dry lime sulphur. The liquid lime sulphur should be used at the rate of a gallon and a quarter to 50 gallons of water. If cherry slugs are still feeding on the leaves, 1 1/2 pounds of lead arsenate may be added to the 50 gallons of the spray.

Time for Clover Spray for Fruit. Cool rainy weather has retarded the codling moth. The next brood of moths was expected early since the first brood was early. Only a few moths have appeared yet. Another notice will inform you as to the peak of emergence.

If you plan to put on two cover sprays for this brood of worms the first should go on July 11-16 and the second 7 to 10 days later. These two sprays are advised for old orchards or where worms are serious. But, if you plan to spray only once more, delay until the next notice.

Another fungicide spray seems advisable considering the early scab infection and continued wet weather. Dry lime sulphur 2-3 lbs. to 50 gals. is safe if cool (below 85°). Use Bordeaux 2-4-50, if hot, and on Jonathan in any case to prevent frog eye.

Dry Groups Refuse to Indorse Mr. Hoover

Declare for Support of Prohibition Candidates—Party Chairman Quits.

Washington, July 15.—The national prohibition board of strategy today urged its member organizations to support "those candidates who believe that prohibition ought to be the law."

This advice was contained in a summation of campaign policy drafted by a subcommittee and approved by the board.

Appended was a resume of the record of the republican and democratic nominees for the presidency and vice-presidency with quoted utterances from them on the prohibition question.

It refrained from endorsing specifically any candidates. Behind this lay an effort on the part of one group within the board to have it declare at once for the re-election of President Hoover. This proposal was rejected by vote of the board when offered as an amendment to the subcommittee's statement.

Party Chairman Quits. The policy declaration set forth a belief that the question of retaining, modifying or repealing the prohibition amendment should be settled by the votes of the people, "in senatorial, congressional and legislative elections."

Asserting the resume of President Hoover's record made him out to be dryer than was warranted. D. Leigh Colvin, national chairman of the prohibition party, resigned from the board of strategy. He is pushing plans to put a strong, nationally-known home dry third party ticket into the field.

Three Divergent Views. Discussion which preceded adoption of the statement, revealed three divergent views. One group held for the policy finally approved. A second, led by Oliver W. Stewart of the Flying Squadron, urged immediate indorsement of President Hoover. A third, including Bishop

James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, and Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morals, held that a declaration for Mr. Hoover should be deferred until he utters his personal view on repeal.

The text was submitted this afternoon to the national conference of organizations supporting the Eighteenth amendment, for which the board serves as an executive committee. No action by the larger group was intended, however, as the board acts for it.—World-Herald.

Speculate on Smith Role New York.—"Al" Smith is likely to jump into his old role of campaign spellbinder this fall, but on behalf of the democratic gubernatorial candidate rather than the Roosevelt-Garner ticket. Since his last public pronouncement—"I shall support the democratic party"—there has been much speculation about what part, if any, he will take in the coming ballot drive.

His omission of the names of Governor Roosevelt and Speaker Garner from his statement of party loyalty led to the supposition he would be more a spectator than an actor in the 1932 political drama. But one of the "happy warriors" close associates said Smith has an active interest in seeing Lieut. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman nominated for the post he himself held for four terms, and then relinquished to Roosevelt. If Lehman is nominated, it was further stated, democracy's 1928 standard bearer very possibly might do some active campaigning for him.
