

Eight Mile Grove Church is Wrecked

Interior of the Building Is Gutted and Wrecked by the Hands of Vandals.

The Eight Mile Grove church, located southeast of Mynard, one of the oldest meeting houses of the county, has been practically wrecked by vandals. It was discovered Tuesday when Sheriff Ed W. Thimgan visited the church to inspect the damage.

The church interior was a complete wreck and the building to all intents, practically destroyed for use as a church or meeting house. The windows of the building had all been broken, the plastering of the church destroyed, and someone getting into the attic of the building broke the lath and plastering of the ceiling. The railing that had stood around the platform had been torn off and used to serve as a means of helping destroy other parts of the church. Several bricks had been hurled through the organ, the clock torn from the wall and the works strewn over the mass of debris on the floor of the building. The stove was overturned and this also had been broken while the chimney of the building had been pushed over and the bricks used in the destruction of the interior. Hymn books were torn and scattered over the ruins of the church. Even the Bible of the church was hurled around in the wreckage of the once neat and attractive country church.

The church is located near the Eight Mile Grove school and the cemetery where many of the pioneer residents are at rest. The church has not had a regular pastor for a number of years but was used frequently for funeral services and occasionally church services on Sunday when some supplying minister would come there for services.

The surroundings of the church have grown up to weeds and for this reason the extent of the destruction was not noticed until yesterday when it was reported to the sheriff. It is thought that the destruction was probably the work of someone in that locality and the matter is being thoroughly investigated by Sheriff Thimgan.

ROTARY CLUB MEETS

The Plattsmouth Rotary club held their regular weekly luncheon Tuesday at the Hotel Riley and with Searl S. Davis in charge of the program which was on "Rural Relations."

Rev. W. A. Taylor, of Union was the speaker of the occasion and gave a very interesting talk, discussing the activities of the Rotary in visiting the various neighboring communities, the building up of the friendly spirit among the communities. He also discussed the crime wave of the country and the necessity of all civic bodies joining in the move to crush out crime of all kinds.

Miss Vestetta Robertson favored the members of the club with two very delightful piano numbers which were much appreciated by all of the club. The occasion being the birthday of Dr. P. T. Heinemann, president of the club, the proxy was given a pleasant surprise when several cakes were presented to him, the wives of several of the members having prepared the dainty treat for the event.

NEBRASKA STATE FAIR

So long as we call Nebraska our home, we should at all times not only be willing to give the best we have for the future development and prosperity of our commonwealth, but to hold a regular old camp meeting where we may testify to Nebraska's greatness and tell the story to others less fortunate. There are farms for sale in Nebraska of course, but the best evidence of a satisfied people is the fact that you find fewer farms for sale than most any other state. The Nebraska State Fair, September 3 to 9, will testify Nebraska's greatness.

DELIVERS CORN HERE

Ruben Groesser, one of the farmers from the vicinity of Weeping Water, was in the city today, having delivered 1,459 bushels of corn to the cattle feeding yards of the Norfolk Packing Plant. The corn will be used in the feeding of the 800 head of cattle that are now being cared for at the new yards. The cattle feeding yards makes a good market for the Cass county farmers in corn and hay and other lines of feed necessary in the fattening of the cattle.

Hessian Fly Dangerous in County
Although Cass County wheat was slightly damaged from Hessian fly this year, great danger is lurking for the man that does not observe the fly-safe date this year.

The results of the Hessian fly campaign two years ago saved thousands of bushels of wheat in the county this year, however there are a few fields badly infested due to early seeding or volunteer wheat. These fields with a very small per cent of infestation in others will prove to be a bad situation to the wheat grower if he does not take precautions this year. There is hardly ever a year when we do not have a small infestation but not enough to cut the yield but this does mean that favorable weather can give us a great infestation if control measures are not followed.

The recommended measures are:
1. Plow infested stubble early. Follow plowing by disking or harrowing to close to the soil spaces and imprison any "flaxseeds" in the buried stubble.

2. Disk later to destroy volunteer wheat and thus reduce the available material on which the midsummer brood of flies may lay eggs, and the resulting "flaxseeds" may winter over.

3. Delay sowing until the fly-safe date for your county is announced by the College of Agriculture. The Hessian Fly lives only a very few days, and lays its eggs almost entirely on young wheat. If sowing is delayed until nearly all of the flies have emerged, very few will be present to lay eggs when the wheat comes up.

4. If infested stubble cannot be plowed and volunteer wheat disked up early this fall, damage from the fly may be greatly reduced by plowing and then harrowing or disking such fields early next spring. To be effective, this should be done before April 1.

Judging Girls Selected

Theresa Bierl, Plattsmouth, and Marjorie Zink, Murdock, clothing judges, and Beatrice Williams and Dorothy Bagg, food judges, will represent Cass County in the 4-H judging contest at state fair.

These girls were the two high placing individuals in their respective groups at the try-out. Fourteen from the county competed in these two divisions.

Completed One Hundred Per Cent

Two of the Learning to Sew 4-H clubs and two cooking clubs have completed their work and filed final reports. The Learning to Sew girls were under the leadership of Mrs. Ray Reasoner, South Bend, and Mrs. Margaret Todd, Murray. Both of these clubs finished 100 per cent. A first year cooking club under the direction of Mrs. Frank Taylor, Alvo, have also completed their summer work 100 per cent.

All final reports and leader's summaries for home economies 4-H clubs should be filed by September 1st.

Organize Now for Women's Club Work

Cass County Extension women's clubs who expect to take the home demonstration project work as offered by the College of Agriculture Extension Service and the local Farm Bureau for the coming year should have their application blanks in before August 27th. Thirty four clubs have already indicated their desire to get the work.

Thirty seven clubs in Cass County were enrolled in the extension project work last year when they studied "Make The Home Attractive." Local clubs enrolled in the work this year will take the "Live At Home" project as will club women in all parts of the state. The project is expected to give suggestions to the homemaker about household savings.

During the year, the women will study various means of saving practices. The first lesson in September will deal with aids in home nursing, making the old clothes new, spending the holidays at home, the summer meat supply, use of dairy and poultry products, and home baking, are other topics to be studied. The community achievement days will be held in the spring.

Any group of five or more women interested in taking the work may obtain further information at the Farm Bureau office.

W. C. T. U. Holds Picnic Party and Program

Officers Are Elected for the Year by the Union—Mrs. Charles Troop Elected President.

The W. C. T. U. held a very interesting meeting on Monday afternoon at the First Methodist church, the ladies being compelled to change their first plans of staging a picnic party at the F. G. Morgan home.

One of the chief matters of business was that of the selection of the officers of the Union, the following being named:

President—Mrs. Charles Troop. Vice-President—Mrs. W. L. Propst.

Secretary—Mrs. V. T. Arn. Treasurer—Miss Elizabeth Spangler.

Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. J. E. Wiles.

Mrs. John F. Gorder read a very interesting paper on "The W. C. T. U. Will Fight Repeat of the 18th Amendment," as a part of the business session of the Union, while Miss Olive Gass talked on "The Position Taken on Major Issues by Two Presidential Candidates." Mrs. R. B. Hayes discussed the "National Conferences of the Women of the U. S.," and Mrs. J. E. Wiles closed that portion of the program with "The W. C. T. U. Opposed to Change in the 18th Amendment."

Following the regular business session the members had the pleasure of a fine program of music and readings, given by the young people of the Union. Miss Marjorie Arn opened the program with a piano number and also played the accompaniment for Miss Mildred Hall who gave two vocal offerings, "Sweet and Low" and "All Through the Night." Miss Edna Mae Peterson was heard in a clever reading, "Too Late for the Train." Miss Jean Hayes gave a very charming vocal offering, "In Maytime," that was much enjoyed. A vocal trio, composed of Marjorie Arn, Mildred Hall and Jean Hayes was heard in three selections, "One Fleeting Hour," "Lassie O'Mine," and "Sandown."

The afternoon closed by the serving of the picnic luncheon.

Bonding Company Surrenders Wanted Man

Frank Senevey of Greenwood, Charged with Liquor Offense, Now in Jail.

From Wednesday's Daily
Frank Senevey, a resident of the vicinity of Greenwood, is now in the county jail to serve a sixty-day sentence which was given him in 1931, being surrendered to Sheriff Thimgan Tuesday by the bonding company that had gone his security.

Senevey was arrested in August, 1931, by Deputy Sheriff Rex Young and brought to this city, having at the time of his arrest 136 quarts of beer and other liquor in his possession. When he was arraigned here in the county court he first pleaded guilty to the charge and received a sixty day sentence in the county jail. Later he appealed the case to the district court and was released on bond supplied by a bonding company. When the matter came for hearing in the district court the appeal was dismissed on the grounds that the appeal could not be made after the plea of guilty in the lower court.

When the appeal was dismissed and the sentence to be put into effect, the man could not be located and from that time until yesterday he was at large. He was located Tuesday near College View by representatives of the bonding company and at once brought to this city and lodged in jail to serve out the sentence of the court.

SUES FOR $7,400 DAMAGES

From Tuesday's Daily
An action was filed in the office of the clerk of the district court today entitled, Raymond Bachmann vs. Ed W. Thimgan, Mae Palmer, Charles I. Long, H. A. Tool and W. C. Thimgan.

The plaintiff in his petition sets forth that he was in operation of a confectionary at Louisville, that on March 8, 1932, the defendant, Ed W. Thimgan, sheriff of Cass county, appeared at his place of business and dispossessed the plaintiff of the building in which he was operating, locking the door of the building and turning the same over to Mae Palmer, the owner of the building. It is alleged that the dispossessing was done without legal writ or court order and that the plaintiff was humiliated by the proceedings. By reason of the depriving of his place of business and injury to his reputation the plaintiff requests that he be given the sum of $7,400 in damages.

At the time of the alleged ejectment Sheriff Thimgan was serving a writ of replevin issued in the county court in favor of Mae Palmer and against the plaintiff in the present action, Raymond Bachmann. The other defendants in the present action are the bondsmen of the sheriff.
