

So We Kept Our Car!

One Woman Tells Another WE INTENDED buying a new home this spring, but you know how things were. So we painted up the old place and planted new shrubbery, and it really looks charming. Well, we were going to get a new radio, too—but we bought new tubes instead and it sounds good as ever. And we had figured on a new car, but the old one was gone over and fixed up so it runs like new—and there's thousands of miles left in it. Where did we take it? Why of course to Bible School Lesson Study!

Gifts for Building the Tabernacle

Ex. 35: 21-29

The text of the meeting, in last Sunday's lesson, was the beginning of the church. Today's lesson is an advanced step for a more permanent place of worship. This tabernacle served the Israelites until the building of Solomon's temple. The purpose of this lesson is to familiarize the Bible student with exterior interior contents and purpose, and the symbolism of the various parts. It should create a decided impetus toward generous giving to the Lord's Cause. Stewardship of time, strength, ability and influence as well as money, is taught. The plan was furnished by the great architect, God himself. Our limited amount of space does not permit of a complete description and its works of art. The size of the outer dimensions are: 150 ft. long by 75 ft. wide; the tabernacle itself was 45 ft. long by 15 ft. wide, divided into the Holy Place, and the Most Holy Place. The Holy Place was 20 by 15 ft., and the Most Holy Place 10 by 15 ft. The outer court was for the worshippers, the Holy Place for the priests, the Most Holy Place for the High Priest, who would enter once a year on the day of atonement. In this place was the ark of the covenant, a chest 45 by 27 by 27 inches, covered with gold inside and outside. Its contents was the two tablets of stone containing the ten commandments, Aaron's budding rod, a pot of manna, and the book of the law. The lid was solid gold, also called "The Mercy Seat." Two cherubim on the lid and between them flamed out the awful light of the Shekinah, the visible presence of Jehovah. The Holy Place contained three objects, a small altar overlaid with gold on which special incense was always burning, representing the prayer of his worshippers offered to the Divine Majesty within the veil. On the north side a small table, on which twelve loaves of bread were placed once a week, representing the twelve tribes of Israel. To the south stood the golden candlestick with seven branches, the perfect number, burning continually. In the court was the altar of burnt offerings, with a laver for washing the priest's hands. Here the sacrifices were offered, and its position signified that it is only through the shedding of atoning blood that sinful man can approach a sinless God. A description of the curtains, coverings, veils with its beautiful works of art; the embroidered ring with cherubim and flowers, but no animals, would take too much space. In it's symbolism and it's religious use, this pioneer cathedral was most impressive to the people of it's day. Would that the same could be said of all our modern churches! When Moses called for gifts, they came, every one "whose heart was stirred." Not all came, the unappreciative, the unspriritual, the worldly minded, the miser, could not see the need of such a costly structure. And all of this radiant beauty was to draw away from this sin-cursed world into the presents of God, this being but a shadow of that city and it's temple not made with hands, eternal in the heavens. The man that gets no joy and inspiration when worshipping in the House of God, does not know what true worship is. Nothing is to good for God. And God does not want any gift that is not given gladly. They all brought Jehovah's offering; it was no longer theirs. They regarded it as God's as soon as the call for it was made. The giving was not confined to men only. The question arises: where did the people get those precious stones, the silks, gold, silver and brass. God told them to ask for them from the Egyptians. There was work for all, as there is work for all in the church. Modern Missions for example are employing school teachers, doctors, nurses, farmers, carpenters, printers, as well as preachers. The high priest also was adorned with beautiful robes, a breast plate with twelve precious stones, each inscribed with the name of one tribe. Thus he carried the people on his heart when he appeared before God. So does every true Shepherd bring his congregation before the lord daily, as a priest, he pleads with God for them.

Two men deserve special mention as artisans. Bezaleel of the tribe of Judah and Aholiab of the tribe of Dan. They were men of genius and superintended at the work. The astonishing part was, that the people had to be restrained in giving, there was brought in too much. May we remember also, that we are held responsible in what way and for what we spend what God has given us.

in this game and a most interesting time. Better be there and get a good seat and see a real good game.

Last Saturday Jarvis E. Lancaster and Ray Harold were out to the home of Albert Murray in the Cedar Creek neighborhood where they provided the music for a dance which was given at the Murray barn and at which there was a large number of young people who enjoyed the occasion very much.

Mrs. Wm. Sporer, who has been feeling rather poorly for some time past was over to Omaha to see the specialist where she underwent a clinic with an X-ray which was rather strenuous and from which for a number of days she was feeling quite badly. Altho she was able to be up and around still she has been far from well.

On last Saturday night some one entered the offices of the Murray lumber yard, owned by George Nickles and securing some tools in the main sheds, bored holes in the panel and using a saw to make a hole, but not being able to open the door, broke the glass in the door, and entering, ransacked the place, securing 25c in money and a tape line.

A. D. Bakke of the Murray garage, was a visitor in Omaha on last Monday and was looking after some business matters, making purchases for the garage, both in auto lines and in the radio lines which he has many calls to look after. Mr. Bakke is the authorized agent and representative for the Crosley radio, and will be pleased to see all who are interested in a radio.

Fred L. Hild and family and Jacob Hild and family were over to Avoca last Sunday where they were enjoying the meeting of the Buck family which will appear in another column. Henry Hild also with the wife were there and after having visited for a while they also went on to Lincoln where they enjoyed the Livingston family reunion, Mrs. Henry Hild being a member of the Livingston family as well.

On last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brandt between Murray and Nehawka were gathered a large number of the members of the families and who properly celebrated the event. There were some fifty members present and all enjoyed the occasion of the get together. This is a happy practice of occasionally getting together of the family, and renewing the friendships, talking over the events of the past, enjoying the associations of the present and planning for the better things of the future. Chester Sporer with the family were down and enjoyed the gathering.

Pleasant Birthday Party.

Little Earnest Milbern, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Milbern, cancelled to pass his tenth birthday anniversary last Sunday and the event was celebrated by his mother giving a party for the young man with a large number of the friends there to assist in the visit and good time which they had. Games were played and they were such that all enjoyed them. At an appropriate hour a very delightful luncheon of good things were served. Besides the many friends who were there from Murray and vicinity there were the following from out of town, Dorothy and Mary Lou Fulton of Myrand, Helen Todd of Lamar and Master Wade Johnson of Lincoln. Master Earnest Stuart Milbern was highly pleased with the very happy afternoon which his friends gave him.

Ship Stock to Chicago.

Boedeker and Wehrbein, West, shipped some fifty-six head of cattle to the Chicago market, they going on last Sunday. These cattle were purchased some time ago, weighing about five hundred pounds and when shipped weighed an average of 1270. At the same time there were shipped by Boedeker & Wehrbein, East, the same number of very fine hogs which weighed on an average of 350 pounds. Mr. Glen Boedeker accompanied the shipment to see them disposed of.

Murray Red Cross.

The ladies of the Murray branch of the Cass county Red Cross chapter were held an interesting meeting on last Monday afternoon at the parlors of the Presbyterian church and were discussing plan for future work.

The Second the Same.

When some time since the Omaha Athletics came to Murray to play ball and had a surprise when they were trimmed nicely, wanted to try it over, which opportunity they were given only to be trimmed again last Sunday. Whether they were satisfied or not they had to take the results of the game and got no gate receipts.

Will Have Special Meet.

The members of the Christian church of Murray are to have a special meeting at the church on the com-

Many Marketing Sweet Corn

Just now there are many who have contracted with the Norfolk Packing company for the growing of sweet corn for packing, who are gathering and marketing their corn and hauling the same to Plattsmouth. Among those who are busy with the work are Dewey Boedeker, Orville and Glenn Todd and John Hobscheidt.

Enjoy Gathering at Cedar Creek

David Wilson and family of Wichita, Kansas, arrived last Saturday and will visit here for some time, and on Sunday all were gathered at the home of Grandfather and Grandmother A. J. Wilson of near Cedar Creek, where they all enjoyed a splendid visit. There were there for the occasion Font Wilson and family of Murray, A. J. Wilson and family of Union, Roy Beins and family of Myrand and Herbert Beins and wife.

Driven Into Ditch.

Shelby Sumner, who is the Mo. Pacific agent of Avoca, and the family on last Sunday hitched up their auto and going to Nehawka picked up the family of his brother, B. E. Sumner and away they went with the intention of going to Shenandoah where they were to visit the broadcasting stations of Henry Field and Earl May. They had proceeded nicely until they were coming to the junction of highway 75 at the Murray corner when a coupe came in their direction driven by a young man who was interested in some one in the adjoining field and kept trying to get the attention of the person in the field. The Sumner car drew to the side of the road and even into the ditch along the side in an effort to avert a collision, but to no effect, for the other car coming on with the attention of the driver on the person in the field, did not know of the presence of the other car until they came in contact, both in the ditch, with the result that the cars were jammed in such a manner that they had to be repaired before they could be used. The Sumner party thought that was enough, and returned to their respective homes at Nehawka and Avoca.

Murray Bible Schools.

Murray has two Bible schools, the Presbyterian and the Christian, the one at the Presbyterian church numbering 95 while the Christian school has about seventy. The superintendent of the Presbyterian school is Mrs. George Reike, there being the regular number of classes, and of which there are three adult classes, they being a ladies class of twelve, which is taught by Mrs. A. G. Long, and a mixed class taught by Mrs. Ralph Kennedy and also containing twelve members, and a young peoples class with a like number, taught by Mrs. J. C. Stewart.

At the Christian Bible school Mrs.

W. L. Seybolt is the superintendent and is also a teacher, having some twenty in her class. Mrs. J. F. Brendel is teacher of the adult class and has in her class some 20 members, while the young peoples class is taught by Mrs. O. T. Leyda and has some fifteen members in the class.

This is a good showing for the city of Murray with a population of less than three hundred and a membership of more than 160 in the Bible schools.

MURRAY TAKES THE MONEY

The Murray Red Sox challenged by the Omaha Athletics to a return baseball game, the stakes to be the entire gate receipts, yesterday afternoon took the money 13 to 7.

The visitors started the game with a two run lead which was tied in the second inning by the Sox and who were never headed after the second. The Sox ran wild in the fourth inning to annex six scores and in this frame Hopkins hit a triple and Newman a double which with two errors, helped the Sox toward victory. The visitors tried a rally in the ninth for three runs but were unable to seriously threaten the lead of the Murray citizenry hued tribe.

The box score of the game was as follows:

Table with columns: Murray, Athletics, AB, R, H, PO, A, E. Murray scores 13, Athletics 7.

NEBRASKA STATE FAIR

The strongest characters are not developed in warm climates where man finds his bread easy to get and where exertion is a great struggle; but rather in a trying climate, where it is an effort to obtain. The building of character requires sacrifice. The greatest men will ever be those who have risen from the ranks. It is said that there are ten thousand chances to one that genius, talent and all outstanding characters will come from a real farm home rather than from a palace. So we are not only depending upon our farms for the food we consume, but for the outstanding characters of our citizenship. The Nebraska State Fair—September 3 to 9—will show the results of many of Nebraska's outstanding characters.
