Some boys are active and do not want all the earth, unless it is they want to run it and E. A. Leesley had one of this kind, which he was in the act of delivering to E. L. McDonald. As he neared the destination the animal jumped from the conveyance and scooted across the field of

Mr. Stander, which they were passing. While the price of hogs is not so high, Mr. Leesley did not want to lose the animal and called Mr. McDonald who hastened to the scene of the excitement to assist in running down the fugitive. It fell to Mr. McDonald to go through the field, and leaving his car with the switch key therein he bolted across the field and right into the melon patch with lots of fine watermelons and muskmelons therein, but no hog. While the hunt was going on, Mr. Stander looked and there in the field where the choicest melons were ripening saw a man and also the auto parked along the road thereby, so he went down and made a new parking place for the car, the said new place being in his barnyard, and also removed the key from the car.

No hog was found, and so "Mac" sauntered back to where he had left the car, only to find it missing. A search revealed it in the barnyard and he hastened there to know why the removal. He was told that when he settled for the melons he could have the key and his car. "Mac" was amazed until he realized that he had been made the butt of a very practical joke and all was ironed out satisfactorily. However the boys persist in twitting "Mac" about the matter.

On last Thursday morning two truck loads of cattle from Sutton were overturned here and the cattle spilled out with but very little damage to either the animals or trucks. The cattle were herded into the barn of E. A. Landon while the trucks were righted and afterwards the cattle were loaded and away they went to the market at Omaha.

A peculiar thing about the accident was that two years ago while he was on his way home from a western trip, Mr. Landon got his car into a ditch near Sutton, and this same gentleman pulled him out. When Mr. Landon asked what his bill was, the man said, "Nothing; we are not making anything by others' misfortune." However, Mr. Landon tossed him a dollar, anyway. Now comes the opportunity to repay the kindness in kind.

Since the operation she has been doing only fair and is still in the hospital. The many friends of this good woman are hoping she may soon recover and be able to return to her home. Mr. and Mrs. Mathis have the sympathy of their host of friends here.

On Friday evening, Sept. 16th, a group of relatives and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Leesley to surprise them on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. There were thirty-five present at the celebration. The evening was spent playing cards, singing and visiting. The bride and groom received several bouquets. They all sang "My Wild Irish Rose" and the groom presented the bride with a ring. Ice cream and cake were served at midnight and all departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Leesley many more happy years of married life.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bronkow, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bronkow, Mr. and Mrs. William Whitlatch and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Grady and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grady, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Scheehan and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Olsen, Bill Leesley and Mr. and Mrs. George Leaver and daughters.

There will be nature study and hand work groups. Meetings will be held every two weeks. The next one will be on Wednesday, Sept. 28th, at 8 o'clock at the school house.

In a baseball game at Alvo Thursday, September 15, Greenwood was defeated 8 to 4. All the students of the Greenwood High school attended the game. Greenwood's regular team has not yet been chosen and a few changes will be made. "Better luck next time, boys."

Roosevelt Hails Hiram Johnson as Progressive

Given a Tumultuous Welcome on Arrival at San Francisco—Two Talks Today.

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 22.—Franklin D. Roosevelt arrived in San Francisco tonight on his western campaign tour and was given a tumultuous welcome by crowds which lined Market street.

A band played "Happy Days Are Here Again" and "Anchors Aweigh," as the automobile bearing the New York governor made its way to the Palace hotel.

Another crowd jammed the lobby of the hotel, where a visit by Governor James Rolph, Jr., of California was the only official matter of business on Mr. Roosevelt's evening program.

A speech in Sacramento, the state capital, in which he paid high praise to the republican independent senator, Hiram Johnson of California, marked the high spot today of the round of activities that brought Mr. Roosevelt to San Francisco.

The democratic candidate, speaking in the city in which the republican senator was born, indorsed the views enunciated by Johnson—"that a government that thinks only of a favored few and that forgets farmers whose homes are being taken away from them, and toilers whose wages have been decreased to the danger line, 'is unworthy of the name and unfit to govern.'"

Mr. Roosevelt said, "I believe in this doctrine myself 100 per cent." From Rear Platform. Johnson has been a frequent and outspoken opponent of many of the policies of President Hoover.

The brief speech of Mr. Roosevelt at Sacramento was made from the rear of his special train during an hour's stop.

Governor Roosevelt will remain here until 10 p. m. tomorrow night, at which time he will depart for Los Angeles.

His program for tomorrow includes an address before the San Francisco commonwealth club at noon; attendance at a reception by the democratic women's organization of San Francisco at 3:30 p. m., and a discussion of campaign issues in a public address at the civic auditorium at 8 p. m.

At Sacramento, as at all the other stops in the day's run down the Sacramento valley from Portland, Mr. Roosevelt invited republicans to come under his banner.

"I Welcome Them." "Prominent members and thousands of the rank and file of the other party," he said, "have declared their belief that the principles I stand for are the principles of genuine American progress.

"I invite them. I welcome them, and I pledge my faith to the principles that have brought us together."—World-Herald.

NEW FOREST FIRES FOUGHT

Boulder, Colo.—Forest fire fighters faced a battle on a new sector when alarming reports reached Boulder of a blaze in the middle St. Vrain region north of here. The fire, burning on both sides of the middle St. Vrain, was reported to have destroyed 1,600 acres of timber land over an area a mile wide and three miles long.

As rapidly as they could be spared crews were sent from the Nederland-Tolland fire, now believed to be under control, to the new blaze. Sheriff Robert V. Blum and District Forester Allen S. Peck said 200 men had been sent to the scene.
