

GREENWOOD

The Rev. W. E. Goings, who is still so poorly that he cannot care for the church work, was a visitor in Louisville for a few days last week.

John C. Lomeyer was looking after some business matters at Plattsmouth on Tuesday of last week, driving over to the county seat in his auto.

Elmer Coleman, of Ashland, was visiting for a short time on Tuesday of last week, visiting with Miss Catherine Coleman and E. A. Landon.

Dr. N. D. Talcott was called to Lincoln last Wednesday afternoon, where he had some business matters to look after and was also visiting with his many friends in the big town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Armstrong and the Rev. W. E. Goings were visiting and looking after some business matters at Lincoln on last Monday, they driving over to the big town in their auto.

James Greer, who is at the Bailey Sanitarium taking treatment for his health, was visited by a number of his friends from Greenwood early last week, who found this excellent gentleman feeling much improved.

Mrs. Elmer Coleman, who resides in Ashland, has been troubled with ill health recently and went to the hospital in Omaha, where she underwent an operation last Monday and has since been rallying nicely. It is hoped that she may soon be able to return to her home.

Undergoes an Operation
Miss Vera Anderson, who has been in very poor health for a number of weeks, went to Omaha a short time since, where she entered the University of Nebraska hospital to undergo an operation for the restoration of her health. She came through the ordeal in splendid shape and has since been showing good improvement and it is hoped by her many friends that she may soon be able to return home completely cured from her trouble.

Served a Fine Supper
The ladies of the Methodist church of Greenwood served a delightful oyster supper at the church parlors on Thursday evening of last week, which was enjoyed by the membership and many others of the good people of Greenwood and vicinity. The proceeds will be used in the furtherance of the church work.

Uncle Sam Aarons Sick
During the past week, Uncle Sam Aarons, whom it will be remembered was mail messenger for a few years, carrying the mail to and from the Greenwood postoffice and the Burlington station, has been feeling quite poorly for some time and last week was confined to his home and bed for the greater portion of the week. His many friends are hoping he may soon be back in good health and able to be out and around again.

Still at Hospital in Omaha.
Mrs. E. A. Landon, who has been at the hospital in Omaha for the past few weeks, where she has been taking treatment and is under observation, was showing good progress towards recovery, but a week ago was not feeling quite so well. Later in the week, however, she had gained again, giving the relatives and friends renewed hope for her early recovery.

X-L Club News Notes
The club meeting was opened by the singing of "Nebraska" and "Dreaming." Mrs. Harry R. Drake called the meeting to order and led the meeting since Mrs. Creamer and Mrs. Lewis were absent. Mrs. Ross called the roll. Each member answered with some early recollection of their childhood.

The lesson on "Happy Homes" was greatly enjoyed by all. It proved to be a most interesting discussion.

Following this there were many amusing games led by Mrs. Drake. An enjoyable lunch was served. Eleven members were present. Mrs. Snyder was our visitor.—Zolla Hoffman, Reporter.

Passing of John Armstrong
John Armstrong passed away last Wednesday, at his home in Greenwood, after an illness extending over the past two years. He was born at Galva, Illinois, November 1, 1865, of Scotch-Irish parents and at the time of his death was 69 years, 2 months and 23 days old.

Mr. Armstrong had been a resident of Nebraska since 1869, when as a small lad he came with his parents to settle on a homestead a few miles northwest of where the town of Greenwood was located later. The trip was made in a covered wagon, a popular mode of travel at that time. After three weeks on the road, the family arrived at the John Dade homestead May 14, 1869. Two days later his father homesteaded an 80 acre

Small Incomes Tax May be Made Higher

Deduction for Earned Proportion Also to Be Asked—Bill is Now Being Drafted.

Washington, Jan. 24.—An upward revision of the normal income tax rate on small incomes may be recommended to congress within the next week by the house ways and means committee in a tax bill which has the support of the treasury department, it was learned today.

Accompanying the proposal of an increase in the normal rate will be a recommendation that income tax payers be allowed a deduction for earned income so that the net effect of the tax increases will be to emphasize the burden carried by unearned income such as dividends, interest and investment profits.

Some revision of the income surtaxes also may be suggested at the same time.

The Basic Purpose.
The basic purpose being sought by the treasury and the ways and means committee is reported to be to make an allowance for earned income without reducing the revenue collections from the income tax. To do so the rates will have to be revised upward.

At present the normal income tax is 4 per cent on the first four thousand dollars of net income and 8 per cent of the remainder.

The new recommendation, it is reported, will be to combine these two rates into one which will be close to 8 per cent. This new rate will apply on all net income with a reduction allowed for income earned from wages and legitimate business profits.

Bill Being Drafted.
In addition the recommendations may involve an excess profits tax for industry, a restriction holding that investment losses can be deducted only from investment gains and a similar restriction as to partnership losses.

The allowance for earned income, it is understood, will be that a certain percentage of a taxpayer's income derived from wages and similar sources may be deducted from his net income on which he figures his tax. What the deduction will be was not disclosed, however.—World-Herald.

Thousands of cans of Plattsmouth packed foodstuffs are being consumed daily throughout the middle-west and south.

GREEN FIGURES BANKRUPT

Hollywood.—Hollywood produced a multi-starred drama last year that never will be shown on the screen—the bankruptcies of 1933. Figuratively it was a 5 million dollar creation involving a galaxy of producers, actors, actresses, directors and writers, caught in the shifting sands of cinema fortune. Federal court records show the screen notables and ex-notables who asked the court to declare them insolvent reported liabilities aggregating near the 5 million mark, and assets of less than half that amount. The development of the talking pictures caused a number of producers, actors, actresses, writers and directors to lose their fortunes. They were unable to adapt themselves to the new type of entertainment. Others are now trying "come backs."

Jesse L. Lasky, the veteran producer who has started many to stardom, listed liabilities of $2,020,024.24 of which $894,869 were in unsecured claims. Assets were listed at $134,718.93.

Another veteran producer, Mack Bennett, was the second largest bankrupt, listing assets at only $2,795.81 and liabilities at $1,692,379.62.

Dorothy Reid, widow of Wallace Reid, recently declared herself insolvent, listing assets at $2,023.36 with liabilities amounting to $77,349.69. Others who fell by the financial wayside during the recent months are Pauline Frederick, Bobby Agnew, Pat Somerset, Pat O'Malley, Esther Ralston, Alan Crosland, William Farnum, Jeanie McPherson, William M. Connelman and Nina Wilcox Putnam Elliott.

Tax Bill Shaped to Close Leaks in Revenue Dyke

Measure Probably Will Be Reported from the Committee to House by Next Wednesday.

Washington.—A tax bill drawn to meet administration requests for a closing of revenue gaps, a more equal distribution of the tax burden and to produce 200 millions more revenue annually neared completion in the house ways and means committee. It is designed to tighten the income tax law thru changes in administrative provisions but as thus far approved it also alters the income tax rates, revises the capital gains and losses provisions, subjects personal holding companies to heavy levies and continues consolidated corporate returns with an increased penalty tax.

Following a conference with Secretary Morgenthau to obtain the final views of the treasury, the committee yielded to the request of the department head to drop its plan to deduct depreciation and depletion allowances to corporations. By this action, about $85,000,000 of estimated revenue was dropped from the bill as originally drawn. However, various minor administrative changes recommended by the treasury were adopted, which, it was estimated would round out a 200 million dollar measure.

Chairman Doughton announced the bill probably would be formally reported to the house for action next Wednesday. However, there are several minor items yet to be decided upon. Doughton said all action thus far was tentative. However, on the major items decided upon, formal votes were taken and they are expected to remain in the bill.

A slight reduction on lower incomes was effected but those in the higher brackets were increased on a graduating scale. This change is expected to bring in $36,000,000 additional. Under existing rates the treasury estimated revenue from income tax in the fiscal year 1935 would amount to $1,265,000,000. Whether the income tax changes would be made retroactive so as to cover incomes of 1933, on which returns will be made in March, has not yet been decided.

A flat 4 percent normal income tax rate on net incomes—that is incomes after the deductions allowable have been made, according to whether a person is married and has dependents—of $4,000 was approved. This eliminates the existing 8 percent levy on the second $4,000. Instead, a surtax beginning on net incomes over $4,000 at 4 percent on those of $1,000,000 and more is imposed. The present surtax begins with 1 percent on net incomes of $6,000 and ranges to 55 percent on those of $1,000,000 and in excess, making the maximum tax 63 percent.

Thus a net income in excess of $1,000,000 with the 4 percent normal and the 59 percent surtax, under the new bill will bring in $636,746 compared with the present $591,103 return.

An amendment offered jointly by Representatives Bacharach, republican, New Jersey, and Samuel B. Hill, democrat, Washington, to allow a 10 percent reduction on the net earned income not in excess of $8,000 was adopted by the committee to aid small income taxpayers. For administrative purposes, $3,000 net is allowed for earned income, but the taxpayer must prove that any part of the remaining $5,000 is earned income. The present exemptions of $2,500 for a married man; $1,000 for a single man, and $400 each for dependents are retained.

Thus, if a man makes $5,000 gross and is married, his net earned income, with the exemption is $2,500. The Bacharach-Hill amendment then allows a 10 percent reduction on the net, or $250, and the tax is assessed on $2,500. It was estimated that this would save the small income taxpayers about $10,000,000 annually.—State Journal.

AMOUNT IN ERROR

In the account of the annual meeting of the board of county commissioners appearing in the Journal, it was stated that the board had allowed $2,500 to the Cass County Agricultural society, which was incorrect.

The society had filed the request for the annual appropriation of $2,500 and a special amount of $250 for repairs and painting of buildings. This was taken up by the board and the amount of $2,000 allowed and the $250 to be taken up later if the special funds can be secured from CWA or PWA appropriations.

Alvo News

John Elliott, of the Alvo Hardware and Implement company was looking after some business matters in Lincoln on last Wednesday afternoon.

John Coleman, the carpenter, was making some alterations in the post-office so that the work could be done the better and with less labor.

Turk Norris shipped a number of very fine cattle to the South Omaha market on last Wednesday evening, which were hauled by Messrs. Coatsman and Skinner.

A very fine time was had at the dance last Saturday, which was sponsored by the younger set of Alvo, and at which there was a large crowd present to enjoy the gathering.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Bouton, of Weeping Water were visiting for a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reuter, where all enjoyed the time spent together most pleasantly.

W. H. Warner was a visitor in Omaha on last Wednesday, going over to look after some business matters and to secure some repairs for his threshing machine, believing this to be a splendid time to get them in shape so they will be ready when the time comes.

Mr. and Mrs. John Banning were visiting and looking after some business matters at Lincoln on last Wednesday afternoon, the lumber yard and coal business being looked after by Joseph Armstrong during the absence of Mr. Banning.

Group number one of the Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church of Alvo held a very successful food sale on last Saturday at the store of Elmer Rosenow, which was well patronized and which brought the ladies much profit for the use of the church.

Some youthful sports who were bent on having a good time so far forgot the propriety of society that while passing the car driven by E. D. Friend they came a little too close and swatted his car, breaking out two spokes of one of the wheels of his car. He was not able to tell who they were, however.

New Daughter Arrives
At the home of Mrs. Lizzie Lewis, her daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Bell, of Omaha, gave birth on last Wednesday morning to a very fine daughter, weighing 9 3/4 pounds. The mother, who was formerly Miss Edna Lewis, and the little daughter, are both getting along nicely.

Visiting at Havelock
Mrs. Joseph M. Armstrong was a visitor for a good portion of last week at Havelock, where she was spending the time at the homes of her children, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bennett and family. Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Armstrong and family and the family of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Armstrong. Mrs. Armstrong enjoyed her visit very much as did also the children and families whom she visited.

Taking a Business Course
Miss Velma Barkhurst went to Lincoln last Monday, where she entered the Lincoln Business College to take up training for a business career and is liking the work very well.

Attended Banquet in Lincoln
There was a goodly delegation of the members of the Methodist church of Alvo in Lincoln last Monday evening, where they were attending a very fine program and a banquet given by the First Methodist church of the capitol city.

Wanted to Come to Alvo
A man from Omaha, who was looking for a place to engage in business was in town last Monday, looking for a location to establish a cream and produce station and viewed several places, promising to return later to make arrangements for some one of them.

Advised of Mother's Death
Sherman Wolfe received the sad news last week of the passing of his aged mother, Mrs. Wolfe, of Ashland, who had arrived at the advanced age of 86 years and who had not been in the best of health for some time. The funeral of this aged woman was held on Wednesday afternoon, burial being made in the Ashland cemetery.

Mrs. Wolfe had resided in this and adjoining counties for many years, being one of those hardy pioneers who had no small part in developing the country from its raw prairies to a highly cultivated state, productive of all kinds of foodstuff and meat with which to feed the world. All honor to this noble woman and others like her who sacrificed and endured in order to make a fertile country for their descendants to enjoy. She has left behind a heritage of good deeds that will live long in the memory of those who knew her.

From Thursday's Daily
Judge C. S. Wortman of near South Bend was here today to attend to some matters of business at the court house and visiting with friends.

In Hollywood Ring

It seems that Max Baer is not the only dispenser of fisticuffs to "go Hollywood." Here is Carl Brisson, native of Denmark, who fought 72 ring battles before he decided to become an actor. He is well known on the English stage and screen and has the distinction of having once punched the Crown Prince of Germany, whom he taught boxing.
