

MURDOCK ITEMS

Frank Stander, of Omaha, was a visitor in Murdock for a short time last Wednesday evening, having some business matters here to look after.

W. O. Gillespie and A. H. Ward were in Plattsmouth last Wednesday, being called there to look after some business matters at the court house for a short time.

Rev. W. Norenberg, of North Loup, was visiting his son, H. A. Norenberg, last week, taking in the convocation at Lincoln, and coming on to Murdock for a short call.

Mrs. Dan Schlaphoff, who has been in the hospital at Lincoln, where she is under treatment and observation preparatory to an operation, is showing good improvement.

Mrs. W. E. Newkirk, mother of Mrs. Dr. L. D. Lee, who was visiting for a time in both Greenwood and Lincoln during the past week, returned to her home here on Wednesday of last week.

John P. Mockenhaupt, who has been visiting with relatives at Lincoln for some time, returned to Murdock on last Monday and is at this time visiting at the home of his niece, Mrs. O. E. McDonald and husband.

C. I. Long, who has the position of precinct manager of the Corn-Hog Jean program, accompanied by Mildred Schewe, were in Weeping Water last Tuesday and Wednesday evening, meeting with the other officers having the matter in hand.

Dr. L. D. Lee was in Alvo on last Wednesday, making a professional call at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Lewis, where a granddaughter was born to Mrs. Lawrence Bell, of Omaha, the daughter of Mrs. Lewis. Mrs. Bell (formerly Edna Lewis) and the little daughter are getting along very nicely.

Mrs. Henry Heinemann, who was taken to Lincoln, where she underwent an operation last week, is reported as making very fair progress towards ultimate recovery and it is hoped that she will be able to return home in the near future, with every prospect of complete recovery.

Mrs. W. T. Weddell Home
Mrs. W. T. Weddell, who was in the hospital at Lincoln for a number of weeks and there underwent an operation, has been able to return home, greatly benefited by the operation, and is making very satisfactory progress towards complete recovery. Her many friends are rejoicing with her in her very satisfactory progress. j29-3tMp

Believe It or Not
Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Schewe have a very fine flock of White Wyandotte chickens which they think are about the finest birds it is possible to raise. From appearance, their claim is correct, for on January 17th, one of the hens got overly ambitious and laid an egg which weighed seven ounces and measured 9 inches around the long ways and 8 1/4 inches around the short way. Some egg, we'd say.

Eagle Wins Over Murdock
The basketball fans of Murdock accompanied the high school team of this place to Eagle on Tuesday evening to witness the games between the teams of the two schools. The game between the first teams resulted in a victory for Eagle by a score of 28 to 14, while the Eagle second team also beat the Murdock reserves by a score of 24 to 13. Both were good, clean contests with the best of feeling and a splendid time had by all.

Visits Cousin Here
Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kuehn were host and hostess to four of the cousins of Mr. Kuehn on last Wednesday, when four Kuehn sisters of Malcolm visited here. The sisters were Misses Alvera and Paula Kuehn, both of Malcolm, and two sisters who are married and reside in Lincoln, they being Mrs. George Folts and Mrs. Martin Scheidey. All enjoyed the visit together and the sisters also called on Rudolph Kuehn and wife as well.

Former Citizen Dies in Omaha
Frank Martin, who has been interested in the advancement of Murdock ever since the beginning of the town, after a period of poor health, passed away at his home in Omaha early last week at the age of 88 years. Mr. Martin was first engaged with Henry Tool in the mercantile line, and later in both the Murdock Mercantile company and the Bank of Murdock, and was closely identified with the business interests of the town for many years.

Harking Back 100 Years
One hundred years ago there were plenty of log cabins in Ohio, Kentucky and all the wooded states even as far west as Iowa and Missouri—they marching abreast with the oncoming wave of pioneers to the west. With the settling of the country and the disappearance of much of the forests, the log cabins disappeared as did many other evidences of those early days. Still we hark back to the other times with now and then a reminder set before us in this modern age. That those times might be remembered and properly represented, W. O. Schewe, living northwest of Murdock, has erected a very fine cabin with the old fashioned fire place, but instead of the puncheon or dirt floors which prevailed in the early days, Mr. Schewe has modernized his cabin by providing a fine concrete floor therein.

The logs were obtained from the telephone company when they rebuilt their lines a short time ago. Over the fire place hangs the trusty musket of fifty and more years ago.

This well constructed and nicely appointed log cabin is located on the banks of a very fine miniature lake, with an island in the center thereof, on which there stands a lighthouse as a sentimental marking of the advance of the settlement in its march to the west. A very fine rustic type of bridge provides a passageway from the mainland to the island. Here the young people enjoy their skating and weiner roasts in the cooler portions of the year and their swimming parties in the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Schewe, the very emblems of hospitality, are ever doing all possible to entertain their friends when they come for a good time and surely they will be able to have it there amidst such beautiful surroundings. This cabin by the lake, the island and the light house all go to form a "bright spot" in a country that has been developed by the pioneers of other days and afford a scene of great beauty.

Every member is requested to be present at this meeting. AUGUST RUGE, Secretary. j29-2tMp

HAINS TAKE GAME

Last evening the Plattsmouth Storz basketball team were victims of the fast and sharpshooting Hain Electric quintet from Omaha, the score being 36 to 27 for the visitors from up the river.

The Storz felt keenly the absence of Donat, regular center from the game as he has been an important cog in the machine and a great force on the defensive work of the quintet. R. Vondra and G. Davis of the visitors were the chief scoring aces with Teare, former School for the Deaf star as a close runner.

For the Storz Krejci was the chief point getter, Rummel who usually is one of the big shots in the local scoring, being held to three field goals. The first quarter was close, both teams feeling out their opponents' offensive and defensive plays, the visitors leading 6 to 4 at the end of the period. At the half time the visitors had a score of 20 to 8 against the Storz.

The tabulated score of the game was as follows:

Storz—	FG	FT	PF	TP
Rummel, f	3	0	1	6

CWA Office Holders to Go, Says Hopkins

Candidates Also Out—Army Engineers to Be Administrator—Ban on Politics.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Harry L. Hopkins, civil works administrator, said today that any officeholders or candidates for office found in the ranks of CWA executives will be dropped immediately.

The statement was made during a discussion of the recent election to the state senate of a civil works administrator in a Rhode Island city. "I feel that such persons have no place in the organization," Hopkins said. "A man might be doing the best kind of work but if he is a candidate for office he should not be allowed to continue."

A Ban on Politics.
When the civil works program was started last fall, President Roosevelt directed that politics be barred. In spite of this injunction, Hopkins has had a great deal of difficulty with politicians' attempts to control placing men on jobs.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that President Roosevelt is withholding his request for another billion dollars for relief purposes until it had been determined on Capitol Hill whether the full sum should be requested in one lump, or it should be sought in several smaller allotments.

Hopkins also announced that he had approved allotments of 13 million dollars to be used to purchase materials in various states.

These included: Nebraska, $100,000; Iowa, $250,000; Kansas, $170,000; Missouri, $170,000; South Dakota, $100,000; Wyoming, $65,000.

To Use Army Officers.
Army officers will be placed in several of the largest cities of the country as CWA administrators within the next few days, Hopkins also said.

Hopkins explained that the army engineer corps has lent the administration a number of officers, and these men will be assigned to cities where there are now no administrators and to some others where a request has been made for an army engineer.

Hopkins declined to give the names of the cities, but said that some of them are "among the biggest jobs in the country."

BACHELORS POOL FUNDS FOR AN HONOR TABLE

Speculation was rife in Washington until the names of the bachelors who pooled funds to buy one of the ten honor tables at the President's Birthday Ball in the Shoreham Hotel January 30, was revealed. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., conceived the idea of the Bachelor Table, and his fellow hosts are equally well known throughout the United States. They are Mr. Horace Dodge, and Mr. Eliot Farrington, of Detroit; Mr. Arthur Straus, of Chicago; Mr. Walter Chrysler, Jr., Mr. A. C. Blumenthal and Mr. Nicholas Derosé, of New York; the Assistant Secretary of Treasury, Mr. Lawrence W. Roberts; Mr. S. Abbott Maginnis, the former United States minister to Bolivia; Major John G. O'Brien, Mr. Robert Jackson, and Mr. Will Rogers.

Hoover Bolters Given a Promise of Their Reward

Kindly Eyes of Administration Cast on Hiram Johnson of California and Others.

Washington.—The republican independents who helped to boost Franklin D. Roosevelt into the white house probably will find sympathetic co-operation at the headquarters of the democratic national committee when they come up for election next fall. How far this co-operation will extend has not yet been decided, but it was distinctly indicated by Chairman Farley of the national committee, Farley said he felt California voters would re-elect Senator Hiram Johnson. He added that his reference to Senator Johnson was a personal one, but that he knew enough of course, its voters will return Hiram Johnson to the senate.

Two other progressive republican senators, up for re-election this fall, are in a position similar to that of the California senator, who broke with his party to support President Roosevelt. They are Senator LaFollette, Wisconsin, and Senator Cutting, New Mexico, and the benediction of the Roosevelt administration probably will be welcome by both, particularly LaFollette, who apparently is facing a hard contest.

Altho it was said the administration had apparently not formulated a hard and fast policy with regard to the elections in November, it was pointed out that support of both LaFollette and Cutting would be in line with the course the president has pursued since he entered the white house. This was asserted by party members to be the permanent alignment of the liberal sections of the west and northwest, and elsewhere, too, with the democratic party.

Some liberals grew concerned over the fact that the postmaster general supported the candidacy of Joseph McKee, independent, in New York against Florella LaGuardia, an independent republican of long standing. It was pointed out, however, that LaGuardia had never formally announced support of Mr. Roosevelt during the presidential campaign, as had the California, New Mexico and Wisconsin senators. McKee also took a licking in New York. On its face this would lead to careful consideration before the administration allowed its name to be brought into another such contest.

In some circles close to the administration, it was felt, too, that the reorganization of the democratic national committee might have significance beyond the move to purge politics and government. Beyond saying he was "gratified and deeply appreciative" of the postmaster general's statement, Senator Johnson did not comment. Friends of LaFollette said it also had been suggested that he run as a democrat and that he had given this consideration. It was regarded as more likely, however, that he would enter the republican primary or a third party primary.

At the same time democratic leaders in congress indicated plainly that the administration was not adverse to spanking some party members, who were regarded as having given aid and comfort to the enemy by opposing vital points of the administration program. None of the democratic senators up for re-election this year apparently fall in that category, but it might apply to several house members, all of whom are candidates this fall.

HELD FOR STABBING

Gering, Neb.—Antonio Perez is awaiting trial in the district court on charges of having stabbed and cut Joe Kalena, Scottsbluff Mexican, with intent to kill and intent to wound. He pleaded not guilty in county court and was remanded to jail in default of $500 bond. Galena was wounded last Dec. 28.

BYRAN VISITS CCC CAMPS

Holdrege, Neb.—Governor Bryan braved a cold northwest wind Wednesday to inspect conservation corps camps at Red Cloud and Alma, and spoke before 400 men at the camps in praise of the work they are doing. The governor expressed hope that more camps may be established next spring. Inspecting the field work, he saw flood retaining dams built to raise the water table south of the Republican river, and other erosion control work.

He commented favorably on all the work and ate with the men at each camp. Clayton Watkins, Nebraska extension forester, accompanied him.

Death of Mrs. Charles Murphy

The death of Mrs. Charles Murphy, which occurred Monday, January 21, at St. Catherine's hospital in Omaha, came as a distinct shock to this community.

Mrs. Murphy, who has been in ill health ever since the tragic death of her son, Humphrey last September, had gone to the hospital for rest and treatment. A sudden change for the worse took place on Tuesday of last week and her family and close relatives were at once summoned. From that time until her death in the early morning of the following Monday they were constantly by her bedside, doing all that loving care could suggest for her comfort.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, January 24th, at St. Patrick's church in Manley. Solemn requiem high mass was sung by Rev. William Murphy, cousin of the deceased, assisted by Rev. Father Agius, of St. John's church at Plattsmouth, and the pastor, Rev. Patrick Harte.

A most beautiful and touching tribute was paid the many noble qualities of the deceased in the short but affecting sermon given by Father Harte at the close of the mass. The celebrant of the mass was assisted by the Manley choir. Two solos were beautifully sung by Miss Anna Rauth. Interment was made in the College Hill cemetery.

Mary Anne Tighe Murphy was born near Toronto, Canada, September 14, 1859. From there she came, as a young girl, with her parents to Clinton county, Iowa. Later the family moved to Cass county, Nebraska.

In November of 1884, the deceased was united in marriage to Charles Murphy, the young couple going to live on the farm three and a half miles from Manley, which has remained the family home for forty-eight years.

Mrs. Murphy is survived by six sons, John T., of Weeping Water; Charles, Frank, James, Joseph and Paul, all of Manley, and two daughters, Margaret and Anne, of Omaha, as well as two grandchildren, Helen and Thomas.

Her husband and one son, Humphrey, preceded her in death. The active pallbearers were the six sons, Honorary pallbearers were the brothers, Patrick, Michael, Albert and David Tighe and two brothers-in-law, John C. Murphy and Albert Peasinger.

Those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. William Tighe and Mr. and Mrs. David Tighe, of Council Bluffs; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tighe and William Tighe, of Bancroft; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Huse, of Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. David Tighe, Mr. and Mrs. John C. NOTES FROM HOBART, IND.

W. T. Distell has sent several copies of Hobart, Indiana, newspapers, in which are marked articles regarding various activities there, particularly the American Legion, of which Mr. Distell was commander during the time the family resided here. Another important activity spoken of in the marked articles is the Boy Scout cabin being erected by CWA labor, the same as here, and we note a meeting of all civic organizations was being called to consider plans for raising the necessary material money. Here, that problem has been largely solved by contributions totaling nearly $250 from the Rotary club and T. H. Pollock.

The Lions club of Hobart is sponsoring the birthday ball for President Roosevelt next Tuesday night, and has been making great preparations to make that a gala occasion. One of the interesting pictures was that of the Burlington's new streamline speed train, which will soon be placed in service. The Legion was sponsoring a dance last Saturday night at the Legion hall. Among the items in the local column of the Index, we quote: "Mr. and Mrs. Garold Holcomb, of Kankakee, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lugsch, of Plattsmouth, Nebraska, and William Lugsch, of Glenwood, Iowa, were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. William Distell and family."

PRAISE BIBLE LESSONS
Readers of Journal give expression of their appreciation of the work of L. Neitzel, prominent Bible student and teacher of Murdock.

I wish most heartily to enter my protest against the idea of eliminating from your pages the writup on the International Sunday school lessons by Mr. Neitzel of Murdock. It is one of the most important features of the Journal—both for individuals and the community. It is a most helpful and much needed article, for which there are many who look forward to its appearance every week. Very sincerely,
M. M. NICKUM.

Plattsmouth, Nebr., Jan. 24, 1934.

Gentlemen:
I, for one of many, should be very sorry to have you entertain the idea of taking from the Journal the very helpful serial each week, of the International S. S. lessons. By many it is considered the most important to the community, that you print. Respectfully,
MRS. R. E. YOUNG.
