Moore, a brother of our townsman, N. W. Moore, who came down from Omaha, was able to kill one of the wolves, which gave this gentleman a great kick. There will be another hunt the coming Sunday starting at the Cascade school as the northwest corner and comprising some thirty-six square miles, or a six mile square.

WHAT THE TREES TEACH

I am taught by the Oak to be rugged and strong
In defense of the right, in defiance of wrong.

I have learned from the Maple, that beauty to win
The love of all hearts must have sweetness within.

The Beech with its branches wide spreading and low,
Awakes in my heart hospitality's glow.

The Pine tells of constancy. In its sweet voice,
It whispers of hope till sad mortals rejoice.

The nut-bearing trees teach that 'neath manners gruff
May be found 'sweet kernels' as in their caskets rough.

The Birch, in its wrappings of silvery gray,
Shows that beauty needs not to make gorgeous display.

The Ash, having fibers tenacious and strong,
Teaches me firm resistance, to battle with wrong.

The Aspen tells me with its quivering leaves,
To be gentle to every sad creature that grieves.

The Elm teaches me to be pliant yet true;
Though bowed by rude winds, it still rises anew.

The Lombardy Poplars point upward in praise,
My voice to kind Heaven they teach me to raise.

I am taught generosity, boundless and free,
By showers of fruit from the dear Apple tree.

The Cherry tree blushing with fruit of crimson red,
Tells of God's free abundance that all may be fed.

In the beautiful Linden, so fair to the sight,
This truth I discern; it is inwardly white.

The firm-rooted Cedars, like sentries of old,
Show that virtues deep-rooted may also be gold.

$26,000 FIRE AT FREMONT

Fremont, Neb.—Between fifty and sixty Fremont residents were thrown out of work Sunday night when the plant of the Jerpe Commission company, wholesale poultry house, was damaged by fire. Officials of the company said the loss amounted to $26,000. Company representatives said the plant employed eighty persons, but that only about thirty will be retained pending rebuilding of the plant next spring.

Stock destroyed included 25,000 pounds of poultry ready for the eastern market and $7,000 worth of packing boxes. The poultry was valued at $3,500 and the damage to the building estimated at more than $15,000.

About 60,000 pounds of live poultry was saved from the flames. Origin of the fire was not determined immediately, but company officials believed it started in a packing room.

Mynard Club Has Fine Record of Achievement

Regular Meeting Held and Review of Fine Work That Club Has Carried Through CWA.

The Mynard Community club held their regular monthly meeting on Friday evening at their hall in Mynard, being presided over by Lenore Cook, vice-president, which was largely attended by the members and their families as well as a goodly number of visitors.

A large part of the meeting was taken up by the business meeting as there were quite a number of important items calling the attention of the club. Among these were facts and figures presented by Will Nolte, assisted by Roy Cole, showing the tremendous increase in coconut oil importations, which comes in duty free, from the Philippine Islands and which, as was shown to the audience by chart, amounted to 632 million pounds during the period from 1930 to 1934. This amount of oil, it was shown, would displace the lard from 23 million hogs or nearly one-third of the total annual production of hogs in the United States. It was unanimously voted that the president of the club appoint a committee to draft a set of resolutions, to be sent to our congressmen and our two senators, calling their attention to these facts and imploring them to take the necessary action to remedy this serious situation which is undermining our dairy and hog industry. Will Nolte, H. A. McKelvey and Roy O. Cole were appointed on this committee.

During the business meeting a vote of thanks and appreciation was given Wm. A. Robertson, attorney of Plattsmouth, who has so willingly donated his time in giving legal advice and drawing up the necessary instruments for the club for their various transactions.

Due to the resignation of President-elect Jean Spangler, it was necessary to have an election to fill the vacancy; this being done and the votes counted it was found that Sherman Cole was elected, president of the club for the ensuing year. Members of the various committees will be announced later.

After the business of the club was transacted the meeting was turned over to Raymond Cook as chairman of entertainment for the evening. Several numbers were rendered by the Mynard Community Concert orchestra which was enjoyed by the audience. Two beautiful vocal duets were given by Misses Dorothy Yost and Florence Lancaster with Miss Margaret Long at the piano. These talented young ladies are from Murray and the audience showed their appreciation by their hearty applause. Mr. Harry Neilsen, our genial superintendent of the county farm, was called upon for a few remarks regarding the operation and maintenance of the farm which so few of us really know much about, (the we probably would have known by now had Hoover been re-elected), and as the facts and figures as presented by Harry were interspersed with witticisms and amusing incidents, his talk was enjoyed by all. One fact he wished impressed deeply on the minds of the boys and young men present, was that nearly all of the male residents there were there because of the whisky and alcohol habit.

The humorous part of the program was given by Garnett-Tritsch & Co., who presented a comedy skit which was greatly enjoyed by all.

Before adjourning it was announced that Ray Cook would present his Musical Mynard Minstrels on the nights of Feb. 15 and 16 at the Mynard club room. Those who have attended previous minstrels directed by Ray will agree that the public will get their money's worth in entertainment. Later announcement will be made in the Journal regarding this entertainment.

The Mynard Community club, which is regarded as one of the outstanding clubs of its kind in the state, has accomplished a great deal in the line of improvements this winter. With the aid of CWA funds, together with subscriptions from those interested, they have added a room 14 feet by 18 feet for dressing rooms and storage purposes, a new heating plant, capable of heating a building several times the size of the present one, and have redecorated the interior of the auditorium. They have also cut a back door and passageway to the kitchen which will add much to its convenience and also as a safety exit in case of fire. Last, and by no means least, is the purchase, by the Community club, of the E. J. Richey property, being Lots Nos. 15, 16 and 17 of Long's Addition to Mynard, to be cleared off and put into shape mostly by CWA workers, and developed into a community athletic field and picnic grounds, with tennis courts, horse-shoe courts, kitchen grounds, etc. The purchase price for this property was $200 and Mr. Richey was very highly commended for his donation of $50 towards it and for the liberal terms made the club which enabled them to secure this property to fill a much needed want of the community and village.

Recently a CWA inspector looked over the Mynard Community club project and was loud in his praise for what had been accomplished with so little funds and by the use of so little skilled labor. Credit for this is due, almost entirely, to H. A. McKelvey who was appointed foreman through the efforts of the project committee and who did a great deal of the necessary carpenter work, besides overseeing the work to keep down costs wherever possible. With continued good weather it is to be hoped the project will be completed within a couple of weeks.

Chicago Rids Itself of Mobmen in Few Months

Original Twenty-six Public Enemies Pretty Well Disposed Of, Completing House Cleaning.

Chicago.—None of the original public enemies went about the town actively engaged in the gangster business. Somebody slew William "Three Fingers Jack" White last week and, for all practical purposes, Chicago had completed its heroic house cleaning.

It was on Sept. 16, 1930, that the Chicago crime commission branded the twenty-six most infamous mobmen and predicted they would be exterminated. Racketeer reaction was a raucous "Oh, yeah?" They were wealthy, enjoying a thriving trade, paying for influential connections. Conservative observers felt that riding the city of the outlaw lords was a noble, but almost impossible task. But it seemed to have been accomplished.

Here is the status of the twenty-six marked men: Five are in prison; seven are fugitives; five are dead; six have apparently retired from the crime lists; three have disappeared.

Al and Ralph Capone, Jack Guzik, James "Fur" Sammons and Terry Druggan are lodged in penitentiaries. Lawrence Mangano, Rocco Fannelli, Joseph "Poppy" Gerardo, Leo Mongoven, Vincent McErlane and William "Klondyke" O'Donnell are fugitives on charges ranging from vagrancy to murder, and James Beichastro is under a jail sentence. Joe Aiello, George "Red" Barker and White were slain. Myles O'Donnell and Frank McErlane beat the long odds favoring gangsters' violent deaths and died from natural causes.

Frank Lake, Druggan's beer twin, is in the ice business in Detroit. Frank Diamond, the Capones' brother-in-law, George Moran, Edward "Spike" O'Donnell and Jack McGurn are gunless men about town, voluntarily reduced to the commonplace level of their less notorious neighbors who now lawns and snip hedges about trim brick bungalows. Joe Salitis is one of Wisconsin's gentlemen farmers. Tony "Mope" Volpe, Danny Stanton and Frank Rio have dropped from official sight.

But they strut no more—these twenty-six original public enemies—into the melodrama of Chicago's underworld.

And Chicago has another accomplishment to hold up before the eyes of the world.
