

Methodist Sunday School Board Elects

J. H. Davis Re-elected as Superintendent of the Sunday School—Have Fine Meeting.

From Wednesday's Daily
The official board of the Methodist Sunday school, one of the largest schools in the city, met last evening at the church for the purpose of organizing for the ensuing year and to outline the plans for carrying on the Christian education work.

The following officers were named: J. H. Davis, general superintendent; A. H. Duxbury, assistant superintendent; Mrs. Adelaide Boynton, superintendent intermediate department; Mrs. V. T. Arn, superintendent of junior department; Mrs. J. H. Davis, superintendent primary department; Mrs. Harry White, superintendent of beginners and cradle roll department; Mrs. E. H. Wescott, superintendent missionary and temperance departments; William Heinrich, treasurer; Miss Florence Persinger, secretary; Miss Wilma Pickard, assistant secretary; Mrs. E. H. Wescott, chorister.

TAXES DO NOT OUTLAW

Attention has been called to possibility of confusion from the use of the term "outlawed certificate" (five years old and older) as used in yesterday's tax article published in the Journal. At least some taxpayers on whose properties certificates to Cass county have been written and later permitted to lapse might gain the idea their properties would stand relieved of the tax.

The law does provide that in the case of private certificate buyers, who pay face value of the delinquent tax to secure their certificate, instead of the mere 50 cents fee required of the county or city, if such private buyer neglects to foreclose within the five year period, he not only loses the right to do so, but the property is relieved of the taxes.

In the case of county purchased certificates, however, where no part of the delinquent tax is paid to secure the certificate, while the right to foreclose on such certificate may outlast in five years, the delinquent tax does not outlaw, and continues as an unrequited lien against the property.

TEAM HAS REST

The Plattsmouth high school first team will be idle this week as no game was originally scheduled for Friday due to the completion of the thirteen game schedule. An effort was made to have the Kearney Teachers College Preparatory team stop here Friday night on their road trip in this end of the state, but without success. The second team will play the Central High Reserves in Omaha Saturday night, and on next Tuesday night, Auburn will play here, while on Friday night of next week, Plattsmouth will travel to Schuyler.

The season is nearing a close when after next week only Glenwood, Blair and Wahoo remain on the schedule. The regional basketball tournaments will begin on March 8 and the tournament for this section will be held at Nebraska City and will thus make it possible for many local people to attend.

UNDERGOES OPERATION

Joseph Derhael, well known resident of this community, is reported as doing very nicely at the St. Catherine's hospital at Omaha, where he was operated on for rupture. The patient rallied and seems well on the highway to recovery.

Iowa-Nebraska Co. Holds Spring Conference

District Managers, Sales Supervisors of Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri at Lincoln.

Mr. E. L. McKinsick, who was presented with special awards for outstanding service by the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power company, and F. I. Rea, district manager, returned Wednesday from Lincoln where they attended a two-day spring sales conference of district managers, sales supervisors, district superintendents and salesmen for the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power company. At the meeting, which was attended by approximately 140 representatives from the company's fourteen districts in Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri and executives from electrical and gas appliance manufacturers and jobbers, plans for 1934 sales programs were outlined and the company's new advertising program explained.

Lowell R. King, Lincoln, president of the company, was a feature speaker and expressed belief that 1934 would see a general improvement in business conditions. Every indication points to this, according to Mr. King. Stress at the meeting was placed on sales plans for refrigeration, lighting, ranges and cleaners. Several speakers of national prominence in the gas and electric industry took part in the program.

The tremendous amount of money expended each year by the company for taxes was scored by President King who explained to the men that if electric companies did not have to pay taxes they could supply free electricity to every home for four months. These facts pertaining to taxation and other facts concerning the company, not generally known by the public, will form a basis for much of the company's advertising during 1934, Mr. King said.

From Wednesday's Daily
Ole Olson, the Weeping Water quarry man, was in the city for a short time today to look after some matters of business and visiting with friends.

In the North and South the honors were won by Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wurl and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hartford.

In the East and West the high scores were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Richey and Miss Minnie Guthmann and Mrs. J. A. Donelan.
