James A. Farley and Senator McAdoo have both endorsed Senator Hiram Johnson's Republican candidacy for re-election. This would seem to bear out what the Republicans have been thinking about Johnson ever since early in the summer of 1932.

DISMISSES COMPLAINT

From Wednesday's Daily
This morning the complaint filed some time ago against Harold Rhoden, charging him with stealing certain parts and accessories belonging to the auto of William Shea, Jr., was dismissed by County Attorney W. G. Kieck.

Affidavit was filed signed by William Shea, whose property was alleged to have been taken by the defendant Rhoden, to the effect that he had authorized in writing the defendant to see the articles or car and to pay himself for sums owing him. The filing of the affidavit of the complaining witness in the case made necessary the dismissal of the action by the prosecuting attorney.

Mr. Rhoden was brought here from Dallas, Texas, where he had been employed since leaving here several weeks ago.

Attorney A. L. Tidd appeared for the defendant in the action.

Bible School Lesson Study!

Sunday, February 18th By L. Neitzel, Murdock, Neb.

"Jesus' Power to Help of Jesus Meeting Human Need"

(Matt. 9:1-13)
The study of this lesson must include Chapter 8, to make a continuous story; there we find fourteen events for consideration:

1. The lepers need. Leprosy—a symbol of sin, incurable by human agencies; so is sin. The leper comes with faith—"If thou wilt"—Jesus "I will." The cure is complete—perfection.
2. The centurion's need.—Matt. 8:5-13. Here is a man of power, wealth and kindly character; had built a synagogue for the Jews, intercedes for a sick servant. Jesus says: "I will come and heal him." Jesus marvelled at the faith of this Gentile. He received according to his faith.
3. Peter's mother-in-law's need. Fever was destroying life; she is in need of a physician, he is at hand—one touch of his hand, and the fever left her—a complete cure, instantaneous, no lingering weakness, she arose and ministered to the household.
4. The Inquirers need.—Matt. 8:18-22. This man is willing to follow Jesus, who tells him to consider well before he makes his choice—it means to forsake all for an uncertain future—which requires trust in God's care. The poverty of Jesus was greater than that of the wild beasts and birds—they had homes but not the son of man. Will God provide for man's need? See Luke 22:35. Jesus asked his disciples: "When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked you anything?" And they said: "Nothing."
5. The disciples need. Even the closest to Christ have need of faith; and this lesson was brought home to the twelve as they crossed the Sea of Galilee, a sudden arising of a storm—the boat fills with water—Jesus asleep—the cry: "Lord, save us, we perish." "O ye of little faith." Do we trust him in the storm as well as in the calm?
6. The Demoniac's need.—Matt. 8:28-34. In the regions of Gadarra, east of the Sea of Galilee Jesus met two men possessed of evil spirits, they are dangerous to society, living in tombs, fierce—they meet Jesus—recognizing him the evil spirits are afraid of him—begging him if he drives them out of their human habitation to allow them to enter a herd of swine, which he did. Delivering these poor men, restoring them to their families and society closed him the door of helping these renegade Jews, who loved their swine more than their neighbors.
7. The paralytic's need.—Matt. 9:1-8. Returning from the foolish Gadarens, Jesus comes to Capernaum and meets another human being in need. Is he able to help him? We will see. He is in the court of a Jewish home, crowds of people fill the covered porch. The sick man has friends. Love finds a way. They ascend to the roof, take up the tile and let the man down before Jesus. A great act of faith. "Jesus saw

Nehawka

Raymond C. Pollard and wife took advantage of the fine weather last Sunday and drove to Lincoln for a visit with friends.

William Senf was called to Syracuse on last Wednesday, where he was looking after some business matters for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Stoll were looking after some business matters in Union last Monday, driving over to the neighboring city in their auto.

William Senf, who has had some corn stored in bins at the farm since shelling time, was delivering some of the grain to the elevator here on last Monday.

The Nehawka elevator, which is being conducted by James Palmer during the absence of Mr. Rough, who with his wife is visiting in the west, loaded out a car of corn last Monday.

Earl Troop and family, taking advantage of the fine weather on last Sunday, drove to Union for a visit at the home of Mrs. E. E. Leach enjoying the day and the very fine dinner which was served.

Fred Heebner has disposed of his farm located near that of Henry Wessell, between Nehawka and Union, Chris Madson being the purchaser. The latter's son-in-law will farm the place during the coming season.

Mrs. Elmer Philpot has been very poorly at her home north of town for the past few days and while everything possible is being done for her, she is not yet restored to health, although considerably improved.

Mrs. V. P. Sheldon entertained at a tea on Monday of this week for the benefit of the Nehawka Library which is now being built by CWA labor from material supplied thru contributions on the part of interested backers. This is the second of these benefit teas Mrs. Sheldon has presided over and from which a considerable revenue has been derived.

Miss Mary Troop, who is employed as a director of one of the departments of the state school at Beatrice, was calling on friends in Plattsmouth and north of Nehawka, being a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Troop of this vicinity. She left Monday morning to resume her work at Beatrice, being accompanied by Mrs. Lois Troop, of Plattsmouth. They were taken to Beatrice by Charles R. Troop.

Now Working at Hastings

Vilas Sheldon, Jr., who but recently graduated from the University of Nebraska, completing a four-year course of study in three and a half years, has accepted a very good position at Hastings and is enjoying the work.

Played Good Basketball

On last Friday there was much fun for the lovers of the fascinating game of basketball, with Nehawka and Louisville high school teams matched against each other, the result being: Nehawka, 20; Louisville, 18. In the other game of the evening between the town teams of the two towns, Nehawka was also the winner, the score being 35 to 32. The closeness of the score in both games kept the spectators on their feet much of the time, cheering the boys on to victory.

Entertained Class and Faculty
Lavone Stefens, Marion Huback and Bobbie Wunderlich were hosts to the High school of Nehawka and the school faculty on last Friday, when they gave a party at the Stefens ball. A most enjoyable evening was spent with a program and plenty of other attractions that made the evening pass all too swiftly. The students are looking forward hopefully to another pleasant get-together party such as this.

Wonderful Singing Club

Miss Ruth Jefferson, one of the teachers in the Nehawka schools and instructor of Music, has organized a Girls' Glee club that is making great headway in the art of vocal training. They kindly consented to sing at the services of the Methodist church and this fact being known, brought a much larger attendance at the services in the morning. The music and singing, of which their offering was a fine part, proved a strong drawing card and was greatly enjoyed by all who were present.

Enjoying Visit in West

A letter from Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rough, who are at Los Angeles, where they are spending several weeks, tells of them being on the go continually, visiting here and there and having no time for rest, or anything else. They say they are having the time of their lives and will stay as long as possible, but do want to get home in time to start their usual early spring garden, as they are lovers of the outdoors and enthusiastic gardeners.

Visited with Friends Here

Andrew F. Sturm was agreeably surprised last Sunday when an old time friend appeared for a short visit, coming on one train at six and leaving on another at eight. The visitor was none other than Mr. Perry, who had run a train thru Nehawka for many years and who was a friend and close acquaintance of Mr. Sturm and others residing in his vicinity. They visited together and talked over old times right up to the time of his departure for his home in Lincoln, he now being retired and residing in the capital city.

Albert Henry Wolfe

Albert Henry Wolfe was born on May 22, 1885, a few miles east of Union, where he spent his childhood. His mother died when he was a lad of tender years and after that he made his home with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wolfe, Sr., at Union, attending school at Union. As he grew to manhood, he engaged in the barber business and became a very proficient workman. During the greater part of his life he was employed in this occupation. In November, 1906, he was united in marriage to Miss Edna Munn at Nebraska City and to this union one daughter, Miss Gladys, was born.

When the call came for volunteers during the World war, he was in Portland, Oregon, at which place he promptly enlisted and became one of Uncle Sam's fighting men for the cause of freedom, serving his country honorably for the duration of the war, when he was discharged and returned to civil pursuits. The family moved to Avoca to reside and later came to Nehawka where they were employed to have charge of the telephone exchange, a position they held for many years, and which is still looked after by her wife and daughter.

A few years ago, Mr. Wolfe purchased the cafe at Nehawka, which he was conducting at the time of his sudden death.

His daughter, Miss Gladys, who became a beauty operator, had occasion to make numerous trips to Omaha for supplies for her beauty shop and carried a gun with her for protection. Receiving a complimentary ticket in exchange for allowing bills to be placed in the cafe, Miss Wolfe with a young friend attended the picture show at Weeping Water on the fatal Saturday night preceding the tragic death of the father and had returned just after midnight.

As she came in, she laid the gun on the desk at the telephone office, where the father was caring for the waitboard due to the mother not feeling well. Mr. Wolfe picked up the loaded gun from the desk and started to remove the shells, as he considered it dangerous to have a loaded gun around. As he was attempting to take the shells out, the gun was accidentally discharged, the bullet passing through the transverse section of the colon and the liver, lodging in the hip.

Mr. Wolfe was rushed to the St. Mary's hospital at Nebraska City, where everything possible was done for him, but on Monday afternoon his life ebbed slowly away.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Taylor, of Union, a very close friend of the deceased, and interment was in the beautiful Mt. Pleasant cemetery, where the American Legion, of which he was a member, fired their last farewell salute over the grave of this comrade whom they had all loved in life and wished to honor in death.

Carol Ann Pollard

Carol Ann Pollard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hall Pollard, was born on September 19, 1921, at Elmwood, Nebraska. She passed away at the family home February 6, 1934, at the age of 2 years, 4 months and 18 days. She was enrolled in the Cradle Roll department of the M. E. Sunday school of Nehawka, December 19, 1931.

She was awarded a Blue Ribbon in the Baby Health contest at the Cass county fair last fall but even such perfection did not enable her to combat the dread pneumonia which overtook her on January 19, and finally claimed her life. She was very patient during her suffering and all that loving hands could do could not keep her here, for God had will- ed it otherwise. Many times had the remark been made that "Everybody loves Carol Ann," and God loved her most of all.

She leaves to mourn her passing her father, mother, two sisters, Margie Ruth and Virginia, and one brother, James Hall, her three grandparents, Mrs. Ruth B. Pollard, of Nehawka, and Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Harris, of Union, besides a host of other relatives and friends.

Like a little ray of sunshine she flitted across the path of all who knew her and had a smile for everyone, which will be a pleasant memory through the years.

Her eyes were as blue as the Heavens.
The sunshine was in her smile;
Her life as pure as the dewdrops,
God loaned her to us for a while.

We'll miss her place at the table—
Each night her tiny bed;
Her constant childish prattle—
Most of all—her curly head.
God took her to be with the Angels—
And how could we ask for more?
For there'll be rejoicing in Heaven
When we meet on that other Shore.
—Her Mother.

The funeral was held from the home near Nehawka Thursday at 2:00 p. m., with W. L. Hobson and Son of Weeping Water in charge of the service and Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union officiating. Three songs, "When He Cometh," "Little Pink Rose" and "Beautiful Beckoning Hands" were beautifully sung by Lois Giles, of Plattsmouth, and Ruth Ann Sheldon, accompanied by Betty Sumner. The pall bearers were Randall Paris, Oren Raymond and Robert Pollard, all cousins of the deceased, and Deane Nutzman. Those at the funeral from out of town were A. H. St. John and family, Nebraska City; Mrs. Ella Daniel, Diller; Martin Johnson, Council Bluffs, Iowa; Mrs. Ida Creamer and Blanche, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Boyd, Mrs. Mollie Magney and Doris, all of Lincoln, and a large number of relatives and friends from Union and Avoca. The remains were laid to rest in the Mt. Pleasant cemetery north of Nehawka.
