Why the Sudden Change to Liquid Laxatives?

Doctors have always recognized the value of the laxative whose dose can be measured, and whose action can be controlled.

The public, too, is fast returning to the use of liquid laxatives. People have learned that a properly prepared liquid laxative brings a perfect movement without any discomfort at the time, or after.

The dose of a liquid laxative can be varied to suit the needs of the individual. The action can thus be regulated. It forms no habit; you need not take a "double dose" a day or two later. Nor will a mild liquid laxative irritate the kidneys.

The wrong cathartic may keep you constipated as long as you keep on using it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is at all druggists. Member N. H. A.

SAYS AUSTRIA GERMAN SOIL

Berlin.—The Austrian conflict was called a "clash of foreign powers on German soil" by Theodore Habicht, exiled leader of Austrian nazis. Bloodshed in battles between socialists and the Austrian government he characterized as a chapter in German history which "it is our indomitable will, shall be the last of its kind."

No matter on which side men are lying," Habicht asserted, "they are falling in the service of foreign interests opposed to their own people. It is untrue that elements of law and order are fighting against forces of destruction. What is happening in Austria is a clash of foreign powers on German soil, in which Germans, consciously or unconsciously are serving foreign countries as members of a foreign legion."

SHERIFF DIES SUDDENLY

Hernando, Miss.—Sheriff W. M. Birmingham, 52, of DeSota county, scene of Monday's trial of three Negroes sentenced to hang for criminal assault, died at his home of a heart attack. Sheriff Birmingham, by virtue of his office, was scheduled to spring the trap March 16, the date for the hanging of Ernest McGeehee, 23, Johnny Jones, 23, and Isaac Howard, 25.

Hopkins Studies Future of CWA; 200,000 Dropped

Federal Relief Administrator Drafts New Regulations for Relief Organization.

Washington.—The last payday for more than 200,000 civil works employees Thursday found Harry L. Hopkins trying to shape the organization's uncertain future should it be found necessary to retain some of the present force of 4,000,000 employees beyond the May 1 demobilization date.

Coincidentally, the civil works administrator and his aides were drafting new bills and regulations for the relief unit. These may set forth the policy already decided upon that those remaining on the payrolls after Thursday night are to be dismissed at the rate of 10 percent a week until demobilization is completed.

The president apparently has adhered to his determination to liquidate the hastily assembled employment organization by the end of April. It has been indicated, however, that thousands may be retained on the payrolls should the revival in industry looked for by the administration not materialize.

In that event, civil works might form the nucleus for the work insurance advocated by Hopkins and carefully prepared projects would be chosen for completion. CWA directors admit frankly that its primary aim has been to put men to work and that to do that any number of projects were undertaken which had little economic value.

Hopkins, who also is federal relief director, visualizes work insurance support as a supplement to unemployment insurance similar to the British system which levies a tax on both employer and employee. The government supplies in addition approximately one-third of the necessary funds.

The new CWA regulations are to conform to the provisions of the 10 million dollar appropriation measure carrying funds for CWA and direct federal relief. At civil works headquarters it was said the weekly dismissal of 10 per cent of the employees had been decided on but that it might be done thru field instructions or might be stipulated in the new rules. These will not be made public until the president signs the appropriation bill, probably Friday.

Conforming to Mr. Roosevelt's ideas, federal civil works are affected most by the first dismissals. The southern states will feel the brunt of the next series of demobilization orders. The fact that farming has begun in many sections there is expected to lessen the shock. Gradually, workers will be taken off northern state payrolls.

MURDOCK ITEMS

The family of L. B. Gorthey was at Weeping Water last Sunday, at which place they spent an enjoyable evening with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Jones.

The Rev. H. R. Knosp and wife were over to the home of Herbert Gehlerking east of Elmwood on last Wednesday, where they were visiting for the afternoon.

A. H. Ward and the family were over to Lincoln on last Saturday, where they were visiting with friends and Mr. Ward was looking after some business matters as well.

Eddie Craig and wife, with Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Friend, of Alvo, were visiting for the day last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Craig, of Liberty, parents of Eddie.

Harold W. Tool was a visitor in Plattsmouth early last week, where he had some business matters to look after and while he was there also visited with his friend, Edward W. Thimigan.

Mrs. Charles I. Long will entertain on February 22nd, Washington's birthday, the members of the Ladies Aid society of the Murdock church. All the members of the society are urged to be present.

A. H. Ward and family, Mesdames W. O. Gillespie and Matt Thimigan were in Greenwood last Sunday, where they were attending the funeral of the late Mrs. W. G. Renwanz, who died late last week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Work, of Omaha, together with their children, were guests for the week end at the home of the grandparents of the kiddies, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tool, where all enjoyed a very fine visit.

Miss Dorothy Mae Gorthey was a visitor with her little friend, Miss Dorothy Ellen Bornemeier, of Elmwood, over the week end, the young ladies being daughters of L. B. Gorthey and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bornemeier, of Elmwood.

Valentine day was celebrated by the young people of Murdock in numerous ways, including the sending of love missives, but in another way by Gerald Kuehn, who arrived at his 16th birthday and was receiving the greetings of his friends on this occasion.

There was a meeting of the country extension club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Stock Thursday of last week, where there was a good interest manifest in the work in hand and much interest also shown in the matter of the visit of the county leader, Mrs. Oscar Zink who was present and gave a very helpful talk.

W. O. Schewe and family and Paul Schewe and family were at Greenwood last Sunday, where they were in attendance at the funeral of the late Mrs. William G. Renwanz sister of the Messrs. Schewe, who died on the Thursday before. The relatives here have the sympathy of their host of friends in the loss of the sister and mother.

Fred Kinney, to get the year started right on the farm was in and secured a new set of harness for the faithful team and immediately went to the field to cut stalks and get the ground in readiness while weather conditions are favorable. By the way, the farmers all over the county are now hustling with the early farm work in order that they may be abreast of the season, for spring seems to be coming with a whirl.

Entertained Woman's Club Mesdames H. V. McDonald and Bryan McDonald entertained the members of the Woman's club on last Wednesday afternoon. A most excellent program had been arranged touching on the matter of repair of chairs and furniture in the home. The ladies got much good out of the lesson and enjoyed the afternoon as well.

Making Improvement at Church At the Trinity Lutheran church north of Murdock there has been some needed improvements made in the way of providing more room for the use of the church organizations a goodly amount of space in the basement now being utilized.

New Lumberman's Code The new lumberman's code calculated to aid in the restoration of more prosperous times has come into existence in the state of Nebraska. A meeting was recently held at Lincoln to discuss the code and later county meetings have been held, the one in this county being held at Weeping Water a short time since and largely attended by the lumber dealers over the county.

Harold W. Tool has been kept busy with the making of copies of the new code, which were wanted at once, and no time allowed for the passing of their preparation into the hands of the printer. So Harold did the work on his mimeograph, making eighty copies which he got out early last week. Many of the copies went to the dealers in other counties in this part of the state.

Bonfire Causes Excitement That Spring is approaching is evidenced by the horseshoe games, the kiddies playing marbles and as well by the cleaning up of the yards and the burning of trash which has accumulated during the passing of the year.

Fred Deickman was cleaning up the premises of a neighbor on last Wednesday afternoon and as the weather had been dry, the trash burned rapidly and it was feared that some of the buildings of the near neighbors would become ignited. Great excitement prevailed and all of the citizens were there and willing to help protect the town as well as save from destruction imperiled property. Little Larry Lee was there and sure he can tell all who do not know of it, all about the fire. Just ask him and he will tell you.

Received Injury in Accident While Chester Eiseeman was endeavoring to start the engine of a tractor he was desirous of using, the crank slipped from its place and being thrown by the power which was being exerted to turn the motor over, struck Chester in the forehead, inflicting an ugly cut, which was dressed by Dr. Lee and the injury now is on the way to healing.

Married in Kansas

A letter from Bala, Kansas, where Van Rosenow makes his home and where his parents reside, brings word of the marriage of this young man who has many friends and relatives here. The wedding took place on February 15th, the bride being Edna Schueller, a nurse who had just nursed Ivan's mother through a very severe stage of illness.

Received Accidental Injury

While Thomas O. Pollard, residing a part of the time at his home in Ashland, and the rest on the farm, was operating a corn elevator, the shaft broke and a tumbling rod was hurled through the air, striking Mr. Pollard on the side of the head. The accident rendered him unconscious for some time and required the services of a physician to mend the contusion. Mr. Pollard is taking a rest until the injury is well.

Grandma Obernault Celebrates.

Miss Lena Miller was born in Germany on February 10th, 1848, where she with her parents resided until she was fourteen years of age when they came to America where they have resided ever since. They landed at Plattsmouth when they first came and remained there for but a short time when they came out into the county and settled on a farm which they homesteaded a few miles north-west of the present town of Wabash, and where they made their home.

Miss Miller was united in marriage with Charles Obernault when they settled on the farm where Mrs. Obernault now resides with her daughter, Mrs. W. H. McBride and family. Grandmother Obernault celebrated her passing of her 86th birthday anniversary last week. She is not feeling so well but is able to get about and is pleased to meet her friends and visit with them.

Taken Suddenly Very Ill.

While L. Neitzel was looking after his work at the store he was taken very suddenly and seriously ill and had to be taken to his home where he has been confined to his bed since early last week. Charles Kupke, his very close friend, is looking after the store during the illness of Mr. Neitzel. His many friends are hoping that he may soon be over his illness and able to be about again and looking after the business and meeting with his friends.

Oscar W. Zaar Drowns.

Oscar W. Zaar, 64, farmer north of Murdock, who has made his home by himself, where he has kept house and worked. As has been his practice, went on last Thursday to the sand pits at South Bend where he had been fishing as he loved this sport. He drove over in his car and left the car standing nearby and arranged for a very pleasant reason in fishing, he loved the quiet occupation.

He had two poles and lines, one he put on one side and the other at the other hand. He had as the day grew warmer, taken off his heavy sheep-lined coat and folded it up, making a seat where he sat and enjoyed the fishing. He had continued thus during the day until the middle of the afternoon, when evidently he had been taken with a fainting spell or had stumbled as he sought to change position and had fallen into the water. Here after struggling in the cold water and with his heavy clothing on had drowned, he still had his cap on and when found by the searchers at eleven o'clock at night. As the car continued to set there at 6 o'clock the people living there made an investigation and found the evidence of his having fallen into the water. The friends and relatives were notified and a systematic search was instituted. A. D. Zaar and Martin Zaar were notified. The body was recovered at 11 o'clock.

The remains were taken to Ashland where they were prepared for burial. The funeral was held from the Christian church there and interment at the beautiful Ashland cemetery.

Oscar W. Zaar was born in Omaha November 8th, 1870, and with the parents moved to near Ashland while he was an infant and at the age of three moved to South Bend precinct where he had since made his home. Oscar W. Zaar was never united in marriage, but since the passing of the parents has resided on the very fine and well improved farm. For a time his sister, Mrs. Mathilda Henry, now of Ashland, resided with him, but with her marriage Oscar had lived alone. He made his home for some time with his brother, A. D. Zaar and wife, but just of late made his home alone. He was a member of the Fraternal Union of America in which he carried an insurance policy. He was a fine gentleman, a hard worker and kind to the limit with all and had a host of friends who remember him only to bless him for his kindness. His passing will be missed by his relatives and many friends.

He leaves to mourn his departure two brothers, Martin S. Zaar and A. D. Zaar, both residing near his former home; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Calder of near Murdock and Mrs. Mathilda Henry, making her home in Ashland.
