WILL JUDGE CONTEST

The entries in the "A" contest, sponsored by the retail section of the Chamber of Commerce, has been turned over to the committee of judges and who will pass on the merits of the various lists submitted from the printed form published in the Journal some time ago.

There were a large number of answers submitted and which must all be tested for the correctness of the answers and which is no small task with the large number on hand. There was also a great many very elaborately prepared answers with artistic effort and which also must be considered by the judges.

The judges selected for the task are Fred I. Rea, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Robert Reed, president of the Plattsmouth

Woman's club and L. S. Devoe, superintendent of the city schools.

The list of winners in this contest will be announced later in the Journal as the judges complete their tasks.

Ask Medal for Deputy Sheriff of Cass County

American Flag Association Award Asked to Present an Additional Medal to J. E. Lancaster.

The request has been made of the American Flag Association for a medal for Jarvis E. Lancaster, deputy sheriff of Cass county for his part in the breaking up of the attempted bank robbery here Wednesday afternoon.

The request had been made that the medal offered for the most outstanding work in law enforcement be given to Deputy Lancaster by Attorney General Paul F. Good, Wednesday night, but the award was made Thursday morning to Sheriff Carter of York county.

The award to Sheriff Carter was for the capture of two bank robbers there in the year 1933 and for which the committee had voted the York county officer as the recipient.

The outstanding work of Mr. Lancaster in crushing the robbery in the act was such that the attorney general has recommended as has the committee that an additional medal be voted for his work as he single handed broke up the robbery, although two of the robbers were later captured by a posse of citizens.

PROJECT CLUB MEETING

The Pleasant Ridge project club met at the home of Mrs. Max Burmeister February 13th for an all day meeting, each member bringing a covered dish.

After the business meeting, club songs were reviewed and the club was favored by a duet, "Juanita," by Mrs. Paul Hill and Mrs. William Krager.

Our lesson, "Making Old Chairs New," proved very satisfactory, two woven chair seats were made at this meeting. Our project leaders had chair covers made in quilt block design, also quilted chair back covers which were admired by all.

Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Paul Hill March 13th. Assistant hostesses, Mrs. Censar Baumgart and Mrs. Frank Salsburg.

DIES AT MASONIC HOME

From Friday's Daily
This morning at the Nebraska Masonic Home, Charles Champlin, 73, passed away after an illness of some duration. Mr. Champlin was born at Chicago, July 15, 1864, and spent his early youth there before coming west and locating in Nebraska. He was a member of St. John's lodge No. 25, A. F. & A. M. of Omaha.

Mr. Champlin came to the Home September 7, 1931, and had since made his home in this city. He was unmarried and leaves only distant relatives to mourn his passing.

The funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Horton funeral home at Seventh and Vine streets and conducted by Plattsmouth lodge No. 6, A. F. & A. M.

GREGG CLUB MEETING

Another interesting meeting of the Gregg Club occurred Monday evening with William Slayman as Master of Ceremonies.

The following voice students who had participated in the Music contest at Peru, were enjoyed very much on the program: Margaret Taylor, Bernard Knoflicek, Margaret Yelick, together with Lois Giles in a clarinet solo. Mrs. L. S. Devoe and Miss Leona Hudson accompanied the above group of vocalists on the piano.

Rev. McClusky, the speaker at this meeting, gave an interesting discussion on "Ethics in Business," being exemplified by the expression, "Serving one's community."

He made an effective contrast between success as applied to the accumulation of money or "getting all you can" and success as brought about by "service to a community" and by a consequent patronage of the members of that community.

Another interesting feature of the evening was the working of short-hand cross-word puzzles. This part of the program proved both novel and educational.

One of the humorous phases of the entertainment was "Freak Letters," read by John Nottelman and Frank Bierl. The club enjoyed a good laugh at these cleverly written articles.

The club adjourned after tasty refreshments were served by the refreshment committee composed of Naomi Day, chairman, Delta Day, Carolyn Heide and Virginia Trively.

The following awards and certificates have been received during the month of February:

100-word Shorthand certificate: Lillian Sedlak.

40-word Competent Typist Certificate: Naomi Day, Carl Hula, Ernest Seitz, Francis Griffin and John Nottelman.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BILSTINE

From Thursday's Daily
The funeral of Mrs. Julia Ann Bilstine was held this morning at 9:30 following the services held at Denver Tuesday. The prayers were given by Father George Agius, pastor of the St. John's church and who also conducted the service at the grave at Oak Hill cemetery.

The deceased lady was born February 8, 1852 at Davenport, Iowa, and was married to R. R. Bilstine in 1869. Mr. and Mrs. Bilstine moved to Plattsmouth in 1876 and started a meat market, operating it for a great many years in the building that stood where the B. P. O. E. club house is now located. Mr. Bilstine later disposed of the market to E. A. Oliver.

Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Bilstine, Mrs. Julia Carstens, of Denver, Mrs. Clara Polin, of Lincoln; Mrs. Louise Rormeyer of Golden, Colorado; Mrs. Tillie Butler of Long Pine, Nebraska; Richard R., of Alliance; Fred W. of Alamosa, Colorado, and Robert, who passed away October 24, 1932.

Mrs. Bilstine had made her home at Denver since 1908 and passed away February 24, 1934.

Those who were here to attend the services were Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Polin of Lincoln, the sons, Richard R. and F. W. Bilstine, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shively and Mrs. R. C. Adams of Lincoln.

DESERVES THE MEDAL

Attorney General Good says Deputy Sheriff J. E. Lancaster of Plattsmouth "probably will be recommended" for the United States Flag association award to be made Thursday to the person in the state who has done the most for law enforcement.

"I feel that it would be particularly appropriate to award the medal of honor to Deputy Lancaster and feel that other members of the committee to make the selection undoubtedly will agree with me.

"If it is found that conditions of the award would prevent it going to Deputy Lancaster I shall ask the flag association to make an exception or award a special medal to the Cass county officer."

Good said Lancaster was nominated for the honor within a few hours after he shot and killed one of three bandits who were in the process of robbing the Plattsmouth State bank and frustrated the holdup.

Story of Cass County's First Legal Hanging

March First Marks Thirty-fourth Anniversary of the Execution of Harry Hill in This City.

From Thursday's Daily
Today was the thirty-fourth anniversary of the first and last legal execution held in Cass county, that of Harry Hill, hung for the murder of Matt Akeson, a farmer residing between Louisville and Weeping Water. The execution was carried out by J. E. Eikenbary, then sheriff of Cass county.

Judge C. L. Graves, who was a spectator of the execution, has preserved a very interesting account of the execution as well as the plea of Hill to the members of the Akeson family and which is reproduced below as taken from a newspaper of that date:

"Harry Hill was hanged at 9:08 this morning, and in eight minutes the physicians pronounced him dead. "After the drop had fallen there was hardly a movement of the body, and the one hundred spectators who witnessed the execution pronounced it a neat piece of work.

"The execution was held several hours earlier than Sheriff Eikenbary had originally intended, the change of time was made for fear that a mob might be on hand to tear down the enclosure.

"Hill passed a very quiet night, slept well and ate a hearty breakfast this morning. The last sacrament was administered by Father Roach of Lincoln, Father Nugent of College Hill and Father Carney of this city. His demeanor on the scaffold was a marvel of coolness and nerve, and as he ascended the scaffold he joked and chatted with those in attendance and shook hands with everybody. The fall was about eight feet and his neck was broken. There were about 100 persons present at the execution.

The Crime.
"The crime for which Harry Hill was hanged today was one of the most dastardly ever perpetrated in Cass county. Hill, in company with his pal, John Benwell, hired out in the fall of 1893 to Matt Akeson south of Louisville, as corn huskers. They worked for a couple of days and were then discharged. They left and that evening the two returned to the Akeson farm house. The family had just finished their supper when the two men entered the house and called upon the occupants to hold up their hands, at the same time began firing revolvers. Matt Akeson, the father, was shot through the left side, severing the main artery of the heart, causing instant death. Another shot struck the son, in the abdomen. Benwell was given a life sentence and Hill was sentenced to die.

"After the body had been cut down it was taken to the Unruh's undertaking establishment where it was viewed by two thousand people during the day.

Hill's Letter.
"In February, 1894, Harry Hill wrote the following letter to the Akeson family and placed it in the hands of Mr. C. Schlatter to be delivered to them:

"Mrs. M. Akeson and family:—I presume you will be quite surprised, on receiving a letter from me, one who has caused you so much misery, so much pain, so much sorrow, have caused so many tears to be shed in that peaceful home. As I set here in my cell this afternoon writing this letter which expresses my heartfelt desire, praying your forgiveness, asking that you and family, who are most deeply interested of any persons on earth, to forgive me, of the great injury which I have done you. And I deem it my duty to implore your forgiveness, to ask, to beg, and to entreat, that you now consider me as one of the thieves, who humbly confessed his sins to our Lord Jesus Christ only a few moments prior to being executed on the cross. Now confessing my injustice to you and beseeching your forgiveness so far as temporal pardon can be obtained. I can say truthfully before God and man, that I do not know who fired the fatal shot, that blotted out the life of the dearest one to you on earth, a husband. One whom we are taught in God's divine law to leave a father or a mother and cling to a husband or a wife, and I hope that you will be fully able to understand that I have considered both our deplorable circumstances before you determine your answer. Your answer on the one hand and in the light this prayer is asked, means well for both you and I. Your answer if granted, will go to swell your good works here on earth, and will be one act of your life which will be pleasing to God and will therefore be a benefit to you when you come to stand before your maker to be judged for your deeds on earth. And to me, if granted, will give me inward joy and ease to my conscience—that I may die, knowing that there is no hatred or biased vindictiveness existing against me, by any living person on earth. And I pray God that your answer either verbal or by letter, may be the same as that of our Savior to the thieves who said:

This day shalt thou be with me in paradise—I forgive you. "Thy very true, dear maternal friend, son and daughter, this is asking a favor which is hard for you to grant. But consider yourself in my place for just a moment and picture to yourself that if you were standing in death's door waiting for someone to come and tie the knot around your neck that was to blot out your life; consider then how you would feel if you would ask pardon of someone whom you had injured and they would say "No, I will not forgive you." Consider then the pain I suffer. The excruciating agony that I am undergoing. The penetrating misery, pain and sorrow that are piercing my very heart. Consider me then as I sit here in my cell, my eyes flooded with tears of sorrow, humbly asking you to forgive me. Consider me here in my cell with a contrite heart, prostrate—before God, asking that through his divine inspiration there may be a reconciliation and perfect harmony existing between us prior to the date that my soul is to make its exit from this world into God's divine and eternal realms. Grant, O God, that I may rely entirely on thy power and goodness. Thou canst and wilt assist me. This shall be my support and confidence in the midst of the most grievous afflictions. Keep me from sin and I am content to suffer all things else when assailed by violent temptations. And as I am in the midst of the shadow of death, I will place my trust in thee and fear no evil. Because thou wilt be with me. All I ask O God, is that my trial may be as pleasing to thee as they are painful to me, that by patient endurance they may become to me the way of penance and conduct me to salvation, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.
