Supposedly Starving Man at Glenwood Gone

J. Leslie Hall Seeks Greener Fields
as He Is Exposed for Previous Similar Stunts.

J. Leslie Hall, organist, picked up on the outskirts of Glenwood three weeks ago after he had collapsed, he said, from hunger, has left town.

He left after his benefactors discovered the circumstances of his arrival in Glenwood were suspiciously similar to those of his arrival in Columbus, Neb., in 1932.

In Columbus, according to a telegram to Sheriff De Moss of Glenwood, from the president of the chamber of commerce in Columbus, Hall was picked up fainting on the edge of town; he was feted for several weeks, and finally left with $40 collected at a benefit concert.

In Glenwood, Hall told a story of being refused assistance in Omaha because his hands bore no evidence of manual labor.

Confronted with the information from Columbus, according to Harold Stanathan, hotel proprietor, Hall said he had been earning a good living for five years by similar tactics.

Stanathan ousted Hall from his room in the hotel, and when he last saw Hall, he said, the latter was headed in the general direction of Kansas City.

DEATH OF MASONIC LEADER

Frank Wilcox, 74, who escaped death a year ago when his car was struck by a train, killing his wife, died Monday evening from the effects of a stroke. He had recovered from injuries suffered in the accident February 25, 1933.

Mr. Wilcox, who lived at 206 South Twenty-ninth street, Omaha, was an insurance man and secretary of Nebraska lodge No. 1, A. F. & A. M. Long active in Masonic circles, he was a past master of No. 1 lodge.

The accident in which Mrs. Wilcox died occurred at Thirtieth and Boyd streets. Their car was struck by a freight train.

Mr. Wilcox was well known in Plattsmouth and was a member of the board of control of the Nebraska Masonic Home here.

Surviving are a son, Paul H., four daughters, Mrs. Mabel Hadley, Mrs. Mildred Pennington, Mrs. Margery Woodward and Mrs. Catherine Swanutt, all of Omaha; four brothers, Charles E., Brigham, Utah; Burt A., of Denver, Colo.; Walter E., of Hastings, Neb.; and Newell R., of Omaha; a sister, Miss Stella Wilcox of Plattsmouth, Neb.; seven grandchildren and a great grandchild.

The body will lie in state in the Commandery room of the Masonic temple from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. Thursday. Funeral services will be held there at 2:30 p. m. At the request of the deceased, Past Master Edgar L. Hoag will conduct the services.

David Northrup, L. O. Schneiderwind, R. J. Jones, A. B. Kaas, H. E. Koontz and Clark Noble will be pallbearers.

A. R. HOLCROFT DISCUSSES "PRICE" AND "QUALITY"

"Starting mash may be cheapened in two different ways. The ingredients and worth may be cheapened, or the expense of distribution to the consumer may be lowered," states A. R. Holcroft, manager of the Feeders' Supply Depot, in discussing "Price and Quality."

The Feeders' Supply Depot, at 28th and K streets, South Omaha, manufacturers and distributors of Poultry Mash for the past 20 years, have decided upon lowering the distributing expense and combating the depression by selling starting mash to the consumer at wholesale, whether in one sack or carload lots, at a price which means a big saving to poultry raisers.

This is made possible by eliminating all resale and handling costs and profits and by offering a popular, widely known mash at from 50c to $1.50 per sack below the price asked for any starting mash of like quality.

Super-Mash is not a cheap mash, but as the name implies, is a "Super Mash" which, for a number of years has proven superior in starting or growing chicks.

Super-Mash rightfully enjoys the reputation of being the most satisfactory starting and growing mash sold in this territory year after year.

From 10 to 20 per cent less Super-Mash is required than of most other mashes, many of which are manufactured primarily for the purpose of an outlet for mill by-products such as bran, shorts, etc.

Read the Feeders' Supply Depot advertisement in today's Journal and check the analysis and prices with that of any other mash offered you—then take into consideration that Super-Mash is always fresh when you get it.

Cass County Farm Bureau Notes

Copy furnished from Office of County Agent Walmscott

Plant Windbreaks This Spring.

Windbreaks planted this spring on Cass county farms should be located where they will protect the entire farmyard from the north and west. Farmers here are planning on establishing many such windbreaks as S.400 Clarke-McNary seedlings and transplants have already been ordered. Applications remain open until April 1.

Usually it is best to have a windbreak 50 to 100 feet back from the buildings in order to avoid the danger of snow drifting in the yard. Available space governs to some extent the width of the planting but it should consist of from four to eight rows of trees of at least four varieties, including one or two rows of evergreens.

Farmers in the past have found that trees should be planted in loose soil because the first activity of a newly planted tree is to extend its root system and the top can spread and develop only as the roots spread.

If a tree is planted in a small hole dug in hard soil, growth is slow. The root system should be spread out and thoroughly packed in moist soil. A bucket of water should be poured around each tree immediately after it is planted. The planted area should be kept free from weeds and grass and the top soil loose by regular cultivation and hoeing.

Chair Re-caning Clinics.

Now that the old fashioned cane furniture has become new fashioned and is so popular, many homemakers have resorted from the garret and cellar their old broken cane chairs. Many of these chairs will be re-caned by the women themselves at a series of re-caning clinics.

Two of these clinics have been scheduled for the Christian church, Elmwood, March 28th, and the Mynard Community building, March 29th. Miss Mizpah Douglass, state specialist in home beautification will assist with the Elmwood clinic.

4-H Club Majors in Summer

Clothes and Room Improvement
In each Nebraska county with a home agent, training will again be given to 4-H club leaders in beginning and second year cycle projects. This year in Cass county the beginning cycle project is "Summer Clothes for the 4-H Girl," and the second year cycle is "Problems in Room Improvement." There will be a series of two training meetings held. Clubs should be organized now to get the most help for the club leaders.

Girls 13 years of age or over starting a new project should enroll in "Summer Clothes" club and those enrolled in girls room should continue with "Problems in Room Improvement." For those under thirteen starting this year "Learning to Cook" will put them in line for the cooking cycle project next year. "Learning to Sew," fix-it and canning are the other home economics projects in which leaders' training will be given if five or more clubs of a kind are organized.

Next year's beginning cycle is foods. "Learning to Cook" is the club recommended for girls under 13 years of age, starting home economics clubs this year. Leader-training work is planned for these leaders. Members finishing this club will be able to do better work in 1935 when the "How and Whys for Young Cooks" will be the beginning cycle club.

Mix Your Own Chick Laying Mash

The following recommend chick and laying mash mixtures can be mixed on the farm for about 50c per 100 pounds. The chick mash mixture is as follows:

Yellow cornmeal	400 lbs.
Shoris	200 lbs.
Bran	100 lbs.
Pulverized oat groats	100 lbs.
Alfalfa leaf meal	80 lbs.
Meat and bone meal	75 lbs.
Dried skim milk or dried buttermilk	50 lbs.
Salt	10 lbs.

For early season use, add 1% good grade cod liver oil. Mix fresh every week. Direct sunshine whenever it can be provided without chilling chicks. Cod liver oil is after all only a substitute.

Green feed (alfalfa, clover, lettuce, lawn clippings, etc.) cut in short lengths. When liquid skimmed milk or liquid buttermilk is kept before them at the time it is not necessary to use the dried milks.

A good laying mash mixture is as follows:

Corn	400 lbs.
Oats	200 lbs.
Wheat	200 lbs.
Alfalfa meal	100 lbs.
Tankage	150 lbs.

Weeping Water

Charles Mutz who recently held a sale was a visitor in Omaha early this week where he was considering accepting a proffer of employment offered him there.

H. K. Frantz, the merchant, was called to Lincoln on last Tuesday and during his absence the Rev. E. S. Pangborn was assisting in the conduct of the store.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Sitzman were over to Plattsmouth on last Tuesday where they were looking after some business and were as well visiting with friends and relatives.

Mrs. John Habel of Manley was looking after some business in Weeping Water on last Tuesday afternoon and as well was visiting the cemetery here, looking after the resting place of loved ones.

Mrs. George Olive who has been so ill for so long was able to be out in the sun on last Monday, it being an ideal day which she enjoyed and which was very fine for assisting in the returning health of Mrs. Olive.

Raymond Hart has not been feeling the best and has been kept to his home east of town by reason of a very severe attack of the flu which he has been combatting. He is feeling some better at this time, however.

Robert Bestor and Francis Heath-erington, both of Plattsmouth, were over to Weeping Water early this week where they were interesting the young democrats in the joining of the Young Democrats club of the county.

Dr. L. N. Kunkel and wife were over to Union on last Tuesday afternoon where they were visiting at the home of the parents of the doctor, and where they went to see the Rev. Kunkel who is very poorly at this time.

The dual firm of business men, Askew the shoemaker and Abrams the harness maker, who operate their business on west Main street, say that business is good at this time and that they are kept very busy coming in so fast, and also say, thank you.

David Olive, the young lad who was injured by being struck by an automobile some time ago is getting along nicely and was able to have a portion of the cast removed and expects to have the remainder removed soon. He is thankful for the returning health.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jones and family who make their home in Lincoln where Mr. Jones is engaged in the barber business, were visiting in Weeping Water on last Sunday and were guests of the parents of Mr. Jones, Arthur H. Jones and wife. They drove over for the day and enjoyed a very fine dinner at the Jones home here.

Enjoyed Birthday Anniversary.

Peter H. Miller, the cream station man, was celebrating on last Sunday the passing of his birthday anniversary as he was born on March 18th, 1867 and was just 67 years of age. There were there for the occasion his son, James Miller and family of Plattsmouth, Peter Miller, son, and Chris Hansen and family. A very pleasant time was had by all. Congratulations and best wishes were expressed by all present.

Aged Woman Answers Call.

Mrs. Edna Thielemann, one of the old residents of Weeping Water and one who was highly respected and had many friends, passed away at her late home in Weeping Water on last Thursday at the age of 89 years. She was born in Missouri on April 25th, 1845 and had resided here for many years. She was a member of the Menonite church, where funeral services were held prior to the return of the remains to the former home in Missouri, the funeral being held on Monday of this week.

Will Act in Co-operation.

The Brotherhood of the Methodist church of Weeping Water which is a very active organization, working in co-operation with the church, will at this time sponsor a musical festival early in May in co-operation with national music week, when they will hold a four day entertainment, one of which will be conducted by the members of the Weeping Water schools. Keep the dates open, for you sure will want to attend. The Weeping Water band under the new organization and under the direction of Dr. L. N. Kunkel, will give their initial concert at one of the evening performances of the Brotherhood.

Accepts Position as Salesman.

Uncle Ben Binger, brother of G. R. Binger, who has been making his home here for the greater portion of the winter, has accepted a proffer from the Cole Motor company to act as salesman for the Ford autos and has been disposing of a number of cars of this excellent variety. Early this week he and Mr. Troy L. Davis were over to Omaha to secure a new V-8, the very latest of a motor car which was driven home by Messrs. Davis and Binger.

Will Cease Farming.

F. A. Zeisen and wife who have been engaged in farming west of Weeping Water will discontinue farming and are to hold a sale in the near future and will make their home in town and engage in some other occupation.

Concludes the Series.

The Rev. E. S. Pangborn, pastor of the Methodist church of Weeping Water and also Nehawka will this Sunday conclude the series of discourses which he has been delivering for some time, the concluding discourse will be on the subjects the last seven words of the Saviour while on the cross. The concluding subject will be "It Is Finished," which will be delivered in the morning of the coming Lord's Day and in the evening the title will be "Unto Thee I Command My Spirit." Better be there and hear the conclusion of the series of discourses. Communion will be observed and members received into the church as well.

William Arthur Bouton.

William Arthur Bouton was born in Henry county, Illinois, September 21, 1863 and would have been seventy-one years of age this coming September. When but an infant he with his parents came to Nebraska to make their home and located east of Louisville where they lived near the Glendale church and where the young lad attended school and where he became united with the Christian church. When sixteen years of age the family moved to the farm where he lived for the remainder of his life on highway No. 1, east of Murdock. Here he was united in marriage in 1898 to Miss Etta Silverthorn. To this union was born four children, two sons and two daughters, one daughter dying in infancy, the others Mrs. Albert Kleiser, Lyle Bouton and Ralph Bouton surviving.

Mr. Bouton, who had been a hard worker during the greater portion of his life, was in poor health for the past number of years and which kept him from much active work recently. He was stricken with paralysis Monday, March 19th, during the morning and passed away in the afternoon at 3:30. The remains were taken to the Hobson funeral home at Weeping Water. The services were held at the funeral home, conducted by the Rev. Ralph Pinkham, pastor of the Congregational church and interment at the Oakwood cemetery in Weeping Water on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Bouton made his home on the farm where he passed away for fifty-four years, and was ever a good citizen and an excellent neighbor.

PLANE IN FATAL NOSE DIVE

Denver.—Meryl Day, Denver teacher, was killed in the crash of an airplane piloted by William S. Reed of Grule, Neb. Reed incurred a fractured skull and physicians said he probably would die. Witnesses said the plane went into a nose dive and crashed a few minutes after it took off from municipal field. It fell from 250 feet. The ship belonged to Reed, who was taking Day for a short pleasure ride on the outskirts of the city. Day died a short time after he was taken to a hospital.

Miss Dorothy Hall, a friend of Reed, told authorities she narrowly escaped being a passenger in the wrecked plane. She said Reed invited her to ride with him and then decided to take Day up first and return for her later. Day, who was 28, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Yvonne Day, former Denver newspaper woman.

No better town in which to reside than Plattsmouth.

PLAN TRAINING CAMP

The local representatives of the Citizens Military camp have received the announcement that the summer camp will be held at Fort Crook from August 1st to 31st this year.

The seventh corps area of which Nebraska is a part, will have, it is estimated, 4,600 members of the various camps in the area and which should make the allotment of Fort Crook camp from 500 to 600 student soldiers for the thirty day period.

The ages of the camp members will be from seventeen to twenty-one and a great many of the young men of the community will avail themselves of the opportunity of attending the camp this year.

J. A. Capwell is the local representative of the C. M. T. C. in Cass county.

RETURN TO HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Erl Teepell, who have been enjoying a short visit here with the old friends and neighbors, returned Sunday to their home at St. Paul, Minnesota, after a most delightful time here. While in the city they were guests at the H. M. Soennichsen home as well as meeting the many friends over the city. They were taken to Omaha by Miss Mathilde Soennichsen and Mrs. Christine Kirkpatrick, the party stopping for the afternoon program at the Joslyn Memorial.

Albert C. Henning of Cedar Creek was in the city Saturday afternoon to spend a few hours looking after some matters of business and while here was a caller at the Journal office to enroll as a reader of the paper for the ensuing year.

HATCHING SEASON BUSY ONE

The Brink hatcheries located at 11th and Rock streets, is one of the busy places in the city at this time as the spring hatching of chickens are coming off and the thousands of little chicks makes a very interesting sight. The plant has a 30,000 capacity for hatching and this morning one of the hatches was coming off, there being 3,200 of the little chicks hatched by noon and others coming during the day. The hatchery has done a large volume of business throughout this section.
