STATE TO HAVE SEVEN CAMPS

Definite announcement that Nebraska will have seven CCC camps for the next six months was made by Col. Allen S. Peck, regional forester, with headquarters in Denver. "There is no question but what Nebraska camps have done some very important work," Colonel Peck said. "We hope they will be continued until March 31, 1935.

Colonel Peck said the camps at Chadron and Crawford will be discontinued and the camps moved to new locations. The camps at Red Cloud and Alma will be moved to Otoe and Johnson counties to carry on soil erosion and water conservation work. The latter will be for six months' duration after which it is hoped that they will be moved back to Red Cloud and Alma.

Another camp will be located in central Nebraska to work in erosion control demonstration area. Two biological survey camps will work at Valentine and at Crescent Lake bird refuge in Garden county. Two conservation projects will be carried on by camps in Knox county and at the Halsey forest in Thomas county. Colonel Peck said Nebraska camps will be brought up to full strength every three months.

Nebraska Cityan Shoots Wife and Then Kills Self

Small Daughter in House as Double Slaying Occurs Monday Night at Nebraska City.

Nebraska City.—Jim Osborne, 55, retired farmer, shot and killed his wife, about 50, at his home here Monday night and then took poison. He died a few minutes after neighbors came to the house, attracted by the shooting.

An 8 year old daughter of the Osbornes was the only other person in the house at the time of the shooting. Authorities said they were unable to determine immediately the cause of the trouble.

The Osbornes had lived in Nebraska City four or five years, and prior to that time lived on a farm near here. They are survived by several children, some of whom are grown.

City police said the couple had had trouble previously, and that Osborne had been missing from home for a time on about two occasions.

Mrs. Osborne was shot with a shotgun and it was believed died immediately. Authorities said the bottle from which Osborne drank the poison apparently had been in the house for some years.

TO HEAR CASE FRIDAY

District Judge D. W. Livingston heard the arguments on motions to strike certain parts of the answer of the state banking department in the application of the Bank of Murdock for a restraining order Saturday. The court sustained the motion as to several of the paragraphs of the answer and overruled others. The case will be tried before the court here on next Friday and it is expected that the hearing will take the best part of two days. This case has attracted much attention as it is the first action of its kind and will establish a precedent in law for other cases of a similar nature which have been started over the state.

MYNARD COMMUNITY CLUB

The Mynard Community club will hold their regular meeting on Friday at 8 p. m. at the community building. A program appropriate to Easter will be given.

Cities May Pool in Securing Insurance for FERA

Necessity for Protection of Interests in Compensation Insurance for CWA Workers.

State Labor Commissioner Matthews, holding that the state and its subdivisions, cities and counties, are liable for compensation for injuries or death of CWA workers, who will be relief workers after March 31, and being of the opinion that insurance for compensation is now offered by companies at a prohibitive rate, there is nothing to be done except carrying of such compensation risks by the state and its subdivisions, or the possible formation of a co-operative insurance pact by cities and towns. They are not required to buy insurance, he said. They can be self-insurers if they care to. The state is already a self insurer.

The only alternative he believes is a co-operative movement of subdivisions, cities and towns, to get together and put money in a common fund, if this can be done, to pay compensable liability. Insurance Director Herdman said his department has no legal control of compensation insurance rates or any other insurance rates.

"There is no law that recognizes the right of the state to engage in the insurance business," said Matthews, "nor is there any loophole whereby the subdivisions of state government can escape their compensable liability.

"The supreme court already has passed upon the compensability of relief workers. Enter vs. City of Lincoln is an instance. Senter was a relief worker, given employment at a wage and the supreme court decreed his compensability rested, not upon the basis of one day's earning power, but a six day earning power. Michigan court held that relief workers are not 'dollars.'

"The reputed announcement of insurance companies that a rate of $1.75 per man per week, irrespective of the number of hours per week the man is employed, will be exacting a premium for compensation coverage, starts the public. It means that a compensation coverage for 21,000 men the federal government will release from coverage will cost the employers $36,750 per week, $147,000 per month and $1,764,000 per year.

"At 40 cents per hour, for a 24 hour week, the 21,000 relief workers would receive $201,600 per week in wages. Thus the insuring agencies demand a premium equal to 16 2-3 percent of the weekly wage of the men. It would amount to $1,764,000 for a year's compensation coverage and would call for a sum for such coverage equal to death benefits on 1,378 men at a rate of $12.80 per week for 350 weeks to their dependents.

"With over 100,000 employees under the compensation law within this state last year there were only twenty-six fatalities. The 12,000 injured received total benefits in compensation of only $499,532. Therefore the proposed rates appear alarming and are absolutely prohibitive.

With withdrawal of federal compensation after March 31 on CWA workers there will be missed the constant supervision of federal safety agents who made it their business to instruct foremen in safety measures, said Matthews.

Thomas Fremont Jameson.

Thomas Fremont Jameson was born in Johnstown, Ohio, April 2nd, 1858. At the age of fourteen years he came to Cass county, Nebraska, and began work as an apprentice to a contractor, making his home at this time with his sister, Mrs. John Cobbert.

He was united in marriage to Mary L. Hobson on May 15, 1884. To this union eight children were born, five sons and three daughters. Four boys died in infancy and Verne passed away at the age of eleven years. His three daughters, Margaret Brendel of Rising City, Nebraska Mrs. John Bates of Rising City, Nebraska and Mrs. William Kidder of Sargent, Nebraska, are left to mourn his loss. He also leaves two grandchildren, Richard Brendel and Mary Louise Bates.

The Jameson family lived in Weeping Water until the fall of 1917 when they moved to Lincoln, that Grace might enter the university. On Jan. 29, 1925, Mrs. Jameson passed away after an illness of several years.

About two years ago, Mr. Jameson returned to Weeping Water where he might be near his old friends and the scenes he loved so well.

Since Christmas he had been in the homes of each of his three daughters. The past two months he had been with his daughter, Mary, in Rising City, Nebraska, because of failing health, due to diabetes and mastoid infection. On March 24, 1934, at 4:40 p. m. he passed from this life at the age of 75 years, 11 months and 22 days. His suffering was intense, but through it all he was so patient and hopeful. During his illness he wished so many times that he might return to Weeping Water to visit with friends if only for a couple of days.

Mr. Jameson was a home loving man and much might be said of the good that he has done and the interest he has taken in public affairs, he being at one time councilman and mayor of Weeping Water. He always took pleasure in pointing out the many homes he had built in Weeping Water and vicinity.

Mr. Jameson had been a member of Euclid Lodge No. 97 A. F. & A. M. since Dec. 20, 1897 and at the time of his death held the Jordan Medal, an emblem symbolic of his long membership in this order.

Beside his immediate family he leaves to mourn his loss four brothers, Sam of Lincoln; Frank of Ord; Jim of Tulsa, Okla.; and Ernest of Weeping Water; many nieces and nephews and a host of friends.
