

UNION ITEMS.

D. Ray Frans has been painting the interior of the home, adding to its attractiveness.

Willis Eaton, of near Union, was a visitor in Plattsmouth last Saturday night, where he was visiting with friends.

Willis Eaton was looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth last Saturday and was meeting with his many friends while there.

Dinner guests at the W. B. Banning home Sunday were Misses Mia and Barbara Gering, of Plattsmouth, Mont Robb and daughter, Augusta.

The children of A. W. Carr and wife have been confined to their home with an attack of mumps, but are getting along very well at present.

Chris Madsen was shipping cattle to the Omaha market on Tuesday of this week, they being delivered at the market by W. H. Porter, the trucker.

Charles L. Greene was looking after some business matters in Murray for a short time last Monday afternoon, driving over to the neighboring town in his car.

R. D. Stine, the merchant, was a visitor in Plattsmouth last Saturday, where he had some business matters to look after for a short time, driving over in his car.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rice, of Plattsmouth, were visiting in Union last Sunday and while here were guests at the home of their daughter, Mrs. John Fitzpatrick and family.

Lucaan Banning was shelling one of his cribs of corn last Monday, a portion of the grain being retained for feeding purposes and the rest marketed at the Stites elevator.

Edgar Newton and wife and their small son of Plattsmouth were visiting for the day last Sunday in Union, being guests at the home of Mrs. Vesta Clarke, where all enjoyed a very fine visit.

The children at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Stine have been having the whooping cough and have been compelled to remain at home until such time as the disease may no longer be contagious. They are reported as getting along nicely.

As the farm which Joe Greene is to farm this coming summer has had no house located thereon, the owner, Mr. E. O. Listen, of Elmwood, is having a house built. Mr. Greene has been busy with the excavation for the basement and now has that part of the work completed and ready for the laying of the foundation walls.

Preparatory to the placing of the crushed stone on the street in front of the office of George A. Stites, he has been having some workmen clear out the ditch which crosses the Missouri Pacific property on which Mr. Stine has his filling station. Thus, when the street is completed, it will not be necessary to tear it up to get it in shape for carrying the storm waters. The hard surfacing of the main street along each side of the project and has been accomplished by OWA labor thus relieving the taxpayers of having to pay for the work other than the cost of the materials used.

Back in the Harness

C. E. Withrow, veteran newspaper man, who has published a number of different newspapers during his long years of labor in this line, was over to Palmyra, where he was formerly engaged in this business, later disposing of his newspaper there, but has had to re-possess the publishing house and will now conduct the paper again. He made a trip there on Monday to complete the arrangements for taking over the plant the first of April and will again be back in the harness.

Visited Friend Here

Byron Baker, of Weeping Water, who has been at Savannah, Mo., for a number of weeks, receiving treatment for his health, returned home last Monday, stopping off for a short time in Union to visit his friends, John and James Fitzpatrick and their wives. Mr. Baker was feeling much improved on his return from the sanitarium.

New Man at Helm

The Trunkholz Service Station in Union has a new manager at the helm and one who will sure look after the interests of the firm for which he works, rendering every convenience to the patrons of the station. He is Daniel Reynolds, a very genial man, always ready to greet the public with a smile.

Seriously Ill at Home

Henry Pearsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Pearsley, who for some time was confined to his home with an attack of pneumonia, from which he improved for a time, has suffered a relapse and his condition has been very critical the past few days, causing grave concern to the family and friends. The best of care is being provided and all are hoping he will rally from the effects of his trying siege of sickness.

Sells Pool Hall Fixtures

The pool hall fixtures of Mr. Swanson, erstwhile business man of Union, who has been away for some time, were sold last Saturday, being purchased by A. W. Propst, who is the owner of the building where the fixtures have been stored since the discontinuance of the business.

Teacher Ill with Measles

Miss Dorothy Foster, one of the teachers in the Union schools, was recently exposed to measles and not knowing of the fact failed to take preventative measures and so contracted the malady herself. She has gone to her home in the country to recuperate from the malady and her teaching position is being looked after by Harriet Leach.

Has Attack of Small Pox

Little Ruth Ann Finkle, who was a student in the Union schools, was taken last week with an attack of small pox, being taken immediately to her home in the country, where she is being cared for. The school room was closed for the day and the room fumigated and all the students and teachers required to undergo vaccination or to remain away from school for two weeks until the time for contracting the malady should expire. With the precautionary measures being taken, no trouble is looked for, however.

Attend O. E. S. Meeting

Mesdames Joseph Banning, W. H. Porter, Mary Havenridge and William Barrett were in Plattsmouth on Friday of last week, where they attended a meeting of the Order of Eastern Star and enjoyed a very fine afternoon and evening.

Visited Friends Here

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Giles, former friends and near neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip F. Rihn, when the two families resided at Hugo, Colo., a number of years ago, starting out from their home at six o'clock in the morning, continued to drive throughout the day, finding they had covered a goodly portion of the distance by the time evening shadows began to fall, concluded they would keep on and make their destination of Union that night. They arrived in Union at about ten o'clock, having made very good time. Their visit to the Rihn home came as a surprise. After a short stop here, they drove to Omaha, for a visit with a brother of Mr. Giles and from there went to Missouri, where Mrs. Giles also has some relatives. Those in the party included Mr. and Mrs. Giles, an unmarried daughter, another daughter and husband and their small son.

Much Ado About Betty

The playlet which was put on by the Union schools last Friday night attracted much attention and a good sized crowd of spectators. All were well pleased with the play and the acting ability of the young folks taking part.

Missionary Program Sunday

The missionary program given at the Baptist church on last Sunday morning, March 25, with Mrs. W. B. Banning in charge, proved to be a very interesting service. Miss Ora Clark at the piano gave the opening prelude, followed by the hymn, "Send out the Light," by the congregation. The scripture was read by Mrs. Jennie Frans, followed by prayer by Rev. Taylor.

The speakers introduced by Mrs. Banning included Mrs. Cross, who reviewed the work of the Home mission organization in the Methodist field, also the domestic Missionary Society and the local missionary work; Miss Barbara Gering, an active worker in St. Luke's Episcopal church at Plattsmouth, who told of the mission work being conducted in Episcopal church circles, stressing in particular the United Thank Offering of the Women's Auxiliary at home and abroad and the importance of this thank offering; Mrs. Charles Garrison, who told of the work in the Baptist mission field over the world, and what the local missionary society is doing for this work.

Special musical numbers during the services included a duet, "Help Somebody Today," by P. F. Rihn and Miss Augusta Robb and a solo, "God So Loved the World," by Miss Robb.

Woman's Club Meeting

The Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. Fannie Elkenbary on Tuesday evening, March 21. Mrs. Todd was leader for the book "God's Gold." In the absence of Dorothy Foster, Mrs. Foster gave a review of the book, "How to Read Shakespeare."

Eleven members responded to roll call, with one guest, Mrs. Cross. The president appointed Mrs. Rihn and Mrs. Todd as delegates to the district convention in Plattsmouth April 3d and 4th. Others hope to attend this district meeting.

It is not the habit of this club to serve refreshments at its meetings, but Mrs. Elkenbary, who responded to roll call with an original poem on "Home," gave us special hospitality by serving delicious sherbet and cake. Needless to say, it was much appreciated by all in attendance.

The April meeting will be with Mrs. Charles Garrison.

Dr. J. O. Latta of Clay Center is Honored

Community Pays Special Tribute to Physician Who Has Served Them for Thirty-two Years.

The Clay County Sun, published at Clay Center, Nebraska, in its recent issue paid special tribute to Dr. J. O. Latta of that place, the paper giving special honors and the business houses of the community joining in the honor of this community leader.

Dr. Latta comes from one of the pioneer families of Cass county and was born and reared near Murray, where his uncle, S. F. Latta, still resides and who feels very happy over the honor that has come to his nephew.

Mr. S. F. Latta also has another nephew that is engaged in the medical profession, Dr. Bert Latta of Hastings, who has been a frequent visitor at Murray and assisting in the care of his aunt, Mrs. S. F. Latta, ill since last October.

The tribute to Dr. J. O. Latta, taken from the Sun, is as follows:

In the confines of the space allotted for a complimentary story of Dr. J. O. Latta it will be impossible to do much more than give the great local humanitarian further assurance of the high regard in which this community holds him.

Dr. Latta was born in Murray, Nebraska, August 9, 1877, the son of a homesteader, thus becoming at once a pioneer and a native son. The family moved from Murray to Kewasaw where the subject of our story graduated from the local schools and served an apprenticeship in a Kewasaw pharmacy. In the drug store he came in contact with doctors, and a natural inclination was made a life's determination when he was given intimate knowledge of the power for humanitarian service which is given the country practitioner.

His parents looked with favor upon his ambition and he was able to secure his four year course in medicine by small aid from them and many hours of hard labor at what ever he could find to do to make an honest penny. He boasts that while becoming proficient in anatomy and materia medica he also gained the reputation of being the city's best dishwasher, a dependable super in the local theatres, and as good a grocery delivery boy as ever won favor from a back door contact. He graduated with the class of 1900, and immediately after established himself in Clay Center.

In 1904 he was united in marriage with Miss Ada M. Bayinger, a popular local girl and the union was blessed, blessed indeed, with a daughter, Miss Inez, who is now instructor in dramatics in the Grand Island city schools, and a son "Billy" who is in the Clay Center schools. Upstanding, parent loving children, who have been almost as much of a pleasure to the home community as to their parents.

Outside his professional routine Dr. Latta has always taken an active part in every thing which promised community benefit. He has served upon the state insane commission and for many years has been on the county insane examining board. For more than a decade he served his city well on its city council and for four years was at its head. It was during the doctor's term as mayor that our second great municipal improvement, our paved streets, was undertaken. He has always been an active member of the Chamber of Commerce, is now its president, and takes a live interest in Masonic activities and Knights of Pythias work.

All of these things relative to our esteemed neighbor are of interest, but they are only incidental to the real life of the great, self-sacrificing man whom this community honors in this issue of The Sun. For thirty-two years he has served us night or day, regardless of weather conditions or prospect of remuneration, regardless of our social standing, regardless of anything, other than that we needed his service. He has brought our babies into the world for us and nursed our mothers back to health. He has been with us in neighborly sympathy when our loved ones have slipped beyond the power of human skill to relieve. He has gone down into the valley of the shadow with us time and again and courageously battled that family circles be saved intact and home ties remain unbroken. He has lived with us—as one of us for more than three decades and with each passing day found firmer entrenchment in our affections, and from miles around will come echo of the words spoken today by this community when they say to Dr. Latta that we love and respect you and yours and pray that your sojourn with us may extend far into the future and be filled with nothing but peace and prosperity.

TRUST NOT TOO DEEPLY

Dame Nature, good snot that she is, is flirting around once more. All much arrayed in gala togs, her springtime garb she dons; Just setting the style for Easter, as she's often done before In days agone when we trusted her to clamp stern winter's bonds.

But O, she is a fickle jade, full of caprice and wiles, Bestowing favors broadcast on the sinner and the saint; Enticing victims to her side with fullness of tears and smiles, And leaving a soul of credent faith in sadness and distraint.

A bland cajolery in her mien, and with sophistry sublime, You don your glad rages on your back, and follow her train, To find yourself a mile from home without a wee thin dime To buy shelter in a taxi from the chilly wind and rain. "K"

BOYS ARE PAROLED

The two Greenwood school boys who were brought here in connection with the robbery at the Talcott home at that place, have been released under parole for their offense. The boys were sixteen and seventeen years of age and heretofore had been fine students and young men of the very best character. In view of the fact, Judge D. W. Livingston, on the advice of County Attorney W. G. Klock, withheld the sentence on the two and entered an order paroling the boys to Rev. Robert Murphree, pastor of the Methodist church at Valley, a leading in Boy Scout work.

HOLD CLUB MEETING

The Happy Home project club had a social meeting at the home of Mrs. Wm. Meisinger Tuesday afternoon, March 20 when they elected their officers: Leaders, Mrs. August Kaffenberger, Mrs. Harry Meisinger; President, Mrs. William Knutsen; Vice-president, Mrs. Rudolf Meisinger; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Franz Peteriet; social leader, Mrs. Henry Albert.

After a delightful meeting the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Rudolf Meisinger, served a very delicious lunch. MRS. RALPH MEISINGER, Club Reporter.

HERE FROM MANLEY

Mrs. J. F. Coiffure Styles

No more enchantingly feminine coiffures were displayed in a public style show of the Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers' Association in Chicago Wednesday than the coiffures "Fantastique" worn by Catherine Weary (left) and the "Cocktail" hairdress worn by Kay Griffin. The riot of small curls and the chic flower tucked in among them won wide approval. Its advantage, according to the young women who modeled it, is the ease with which it can be cared for.
