Yes that was good advice for all, as this was the play that was presented by the Junior class of the Alvo high school on last Friday and Saturday nights at the Alvo high school auditorium, and which was attended by a large crowd of the people of Alvo and vicinity. So many in fact that it was feared the house would not be able to hold the listeners.

Files for County Commissioner

On Monday of last week, while R. M. Coatsman was returning from a trip to Omaha, he came via Plattsmouth and stopped at the office of the county clerk, where he filed as a democratic candidate in the primary for nomination as the party's choice for county commissioner of the third commissioner district. This is the second filing for this office, as William Bornemier filed a short time ago on the republican ticket. The incumbent in this office is Fred H. Gorder, of Weeping Water.

RELIEF FOOD STUFFS SOLD

Omaha.—Chairman Hall of the Douglas county federal relief board Thursday said that some recipients of relief bounty, in their eagerness to get some spare change, have been selling $1 bags of flour for 25 cents or 50 cents or whatever they could get, and doing the same with other food stuffs distributed by the government.

He issued a warning to restaurant owners who, he explained have been buying the foodstuffs, that "the committee will file a complaint seeking prosecution of any restaurant owner after this who buys federal surplus foodstuffs distributed in Douglas county."

Each article given out by the government carries a label notifying the receiver that the material is the property of the government and its sale or exchange is forbidden.

PROTESTS ELECTION

Newman Grove, Neb.—Stephen Quisset, property owner here, has filed a protest against Tuesday's city election on the grounds that candidates whose names appeared on the ballot were not nominated in sufficient time, according to law. He contends the nominations were made sixteen days before the election and that statutes provide they must be made at least five weeks prior to election. The protest was referred to County Attorney R. A. Johnson, the election was held, and the candidates elected. F. L. Fink was elected mayor, L. P. Christenson and E. W. Hallgreen were selected city councilmen, and R. A. Johnson and A. R. Rundquist were named to the school board.

Mine Operators Get an Injunction Against the NRA

Temporary Restraining Order Granted Coal Men on Code Amendment in Alabama Field.

Birmingham, Ala.—A temporary order restraining federal officials from enforcing a wage-raising, hour-reducing amendment to the bituminous coal code was granted by Judge Kennamer in U. S. district court to Alabama commercial coal operators. In granting the order, which he set for hearing on April 16 as to whether it would be made permanent, Judge Kennamer said: "This decision should not in any sense be construed as ruling that the national industrial recovery act is unconstitutional." He added that the points involved did not necessitate such a ruling.

D. A. Thomas, member of the Alabama coal code authority, announced after the order was issued that the operators would meet Saturday to decide whether to reopen the mines shut down Friday. Thomas said his opinion was that the mines would be reopened Monday. The injunction restrained U. S. District Attorney Smith from interfering with the operations of the mine wage and hour agreements existing prior to March 31. In the petition it was set forth that Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, was not made a party to the suit "solely because of his residence in the District of Columbia."

Effective March 31, General Johnson by executive order amended the code to raise wages and reduce the work week from forty to thirty-five hours for the coal industry. The amendment raised wages in Alabama fields $1.20 a day, and wiped out the differential previously granted southern fields.

William Mitch, president of district 20, United Mine Workers of America, said he was "astounded at the action of the court in granting an injunction against the order of the United States government. So far as the mine workers are concerned, we are co-operating with the government, and any action in the matter is to be decided in Washington. We will abide by such decision to the fullest extent."

Attorneys for the operators contended the amendment to the "discriminatory and confiscatory" and was invalid. Under the amendment, wages in the Alabama fields would be raised $1.20 per day, the hours cut to thirty-five a week, and the differential below the scale in northern fields would be wiped out.

UNTERMYER HITS MARGINAL CLAUSES IN STOCKS CONTROL

Washington, April 5.—Severe criticism of the stock market control bill was voiced to the senate banking committee today by Samuel Untermyer, one of the foremost advocates of federal regulation of the exchanges.

The lawyer who served as counsel for the famous Pujo banking inquiry in the house 29 years ago, recommended many changes in the bill, including drastic modification of its disputed marginal provisions.

He recommended that complete supervision of margin requirements be vested with the federal reserve board instead of attempting to write them into the law.

The rigid, uniform marginal requirements in the bill, Untermyer said, were written upon "a false basis," which he contended would have the effect of deflating the market.

Untermyer said that it would be a catastrophe if the bill were not passed, asserting "we have gone on too many years with a great financial institution a law unto itself."

A second revised draft of the bill was brought out today by Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel. He said this redraft was designed to decrease the hard and fast rules of the bill.

Republicans in Favor of Holding Earlier Meetings

Adopt Two Resolutions at "Harmony" Rally Held in Hastings—Called by Barton Green

Hastings, Neb., April 6.—One hundred and thirty-three republicans from practically corners of Nebraska disbanded here tonight after a meeting to which many came with fears for the future of the state organization but which turned out to be little more than an informal rally.

The meeting was called by Barton Green, chairman of the Lancaster county republican committee.

To two resolutions adopted they attached considerable importance. One extended to Nebraska National Committeeman Charles E. McCloud, and Nebraska National Committeewoman Mrs. M. D. Cameron, a request for a call for meetings at strategic points over the state, at which plans for the coming campaign might be mapped out, and the other called on the state committee to consider at the next convention the possibility of going on record in favor of an amendment to the state primary election law to permit the holding of county and state conventions prior to the primary election.

McCloud, Smith Absent.
The idea of the early meetings came from Green. His original motion embodied recommendations that the county meetings be called for the election of delegates to the state meeting, and that at the state meeting two candidates for each elective office be recommended and an expression had on suggested plans for a platform.

This met with strenuous objection from William Stauman of North Platte, a candidate for congress in the fifth district; Ted Metcalfe of Omaha, candidate for governor, and others.

National Committeeman McCloud and State Chairman Bob Smith of Omaha were not in attendance. Metcalfe was the only candidate for a major office present.

Attacks Secrecy

Green pleaded with the delegates to turn the party back to the people and to end secret meetings. "I demand," he said, "that the public be informed of both sides of all questions and not just the results of a secret conference. I demand that all machine candidates be closely scrutinized and the fact that they have served the machine well in the past is no recommendation to me."

BIG ORDER FOR STOCK FEED

Nebraska City.—Enough bran to give a dish of breakfast food to every adult American and sufficient molasses to cover a stack of wheat cakes for every adult, will go into a special livestock ration to be turned out here for the next three months to fill an order placed by the department of agriculture.

The order was placed with the G. E. Conkey company here. Specifications call for 10,000,000 pounds of the feed, or five trains of fifty box cars each. The order will be shipped into the drought stricken areas of North and South Dakota for distribution.

Placing of the order will result in employment of many men, according to George Eicher, manager of the plant. About ten men will be immediately placed on a night shift to make possible continuous production. Work will get under way as soon as the government-purchased ingredients begin rolling into Nebraska City.

BANDITS WORK FAST

Omaha.—Working at top speed, two bandits netted $10 per minute in two robberies staged in a five block radius. The men struck first at the Flatiron hotel, where they obtained $20 from O. E. Warrick, night manager. Seven minutes later they held up the Drake Court pharmacy, where the loot totaled $50.

Conklin Bound Over on Charges of Defrauding

Land Commissioner's Ouster Asked of High Court—Nine Janitors Give Testimony.

From Saturday's Daily
Lincoln, Neb., April 6.—State Land Commissioner Harry P. Conklin, his deputy, J. H. Wehn, and his former janitor foreman, George Lane, late today were bound over to district court here for trial on charges of conspiracy to defraud the state in handling janitor pay rolls at Nebraska's 10 million dollar capitol. Bond for each was set at $10 thousand dollars.

Municipal Judge John L. Polk ordered them held for trial on 12 counts after the state sent a parade of witnesses to the stand to tell of paying $10 or more a month apiece to Lane or Conklin out of their state salary warrants.

A week ago today Judge Polk bound Conklin over for trial in district court on 11 counts of a perjury charge. Attorney General Paul F. Good said the charges heard today will be tried before the perjury charge, probably about May 7.

Nine Janitors Testify.
Good, who is pressing the criminal charges, staged a surprise move this morning by filing a quo warranto action in the state supreme court, to oust Conklin for alleged violation of his oath of office and failure to remit collected public funds properly. A total of $2,476 alleged improper collections is involved.

The state offered testimony today from nine men who had been employed as janitors. All except one of them, Leo Lukowski have been discharged since the criminal charges against Conklin were instituted. The nine men told either of Conklin or Lane telling them their salaries would be a certain amount, that their checks would be for a larger sum and they would have to remit the difference for the campaign fund.

In most cases, they testified, the money was paid to Lane but there were a few instances where Conklin was accused of receiving the money.

2 Tell of Repayment

Several janitors testified that at one meeting Conklin said he knew nothing of what Lane had been doing, but felt responsible and would pay them back. Two of the witnesses said they were repaid. Fred Nettelbeck acknowledged return of $125 and Edward P. Voboril of $60.

Several janitors told of being called into Conklin's office and asked to sign a prepared affidavit that Conklin had no knowledge of the "sick-ins."

Frequent references were made in the testimony to statements by Lane and Wehn that Conklin had been to heavy expense for his campaign and that it cost him five thousand dollars.

TO BAN BORDER COMMUTERS

Washington, April 5.—By unanimous action, the house committee on immigration today reported favorably a bill introduced by Representative Schulte of Indiana to restrict, until 1936, the habitual commuting of aliens to the United States to work in American shops and business houses.

Schulte said enactment of the bill by the house would mean the restoration of approximately 51,000 jobs to American workers by temporarily shutting off workers, particularly from Canada and Mexico and other contiguous territory, from commuting into the country to work.

He declared thousands of American workers are being deprived of employment by the commuting practice. He mentioned Detroit as a specific instance where jobs there are held by persons from nearby Windsor, Canada.

ROAD WORKERS ASSAULTED

Melvin, Tex.—Bill Johnson, highway worker, was battered to death with a six-shooter and Reuben Corbell, a fellow workman, was beaten seriously by two men and a 12 year old boy whose automobile they pulled out of a muddy road. Corbell said the men's automobile carried ammunition and a machine gun, and, after the attack, sped away toward San Angelo.

Mrs. Matt Thibman having to close the eating place to care for the home, as the men folks are busy with their work in the country, being now engaged in the construction of a new residence for Mr. Wendt. However Mrs. Thibman continues to serve meals at their home.

Getting New Station Operating

Charles Ward, who has maintained a filling and service station west of the juncture of highway No. 1 and highway No. 24, has constructed a new station at the exact juncture of the two highways two miles south of Elmwood and now has the station about completed. During the early part of last week, A. H. Ward, a nephew of Mr. Ward and the manager of the Deep Rock bulk station at Murdock, was over installing the plumbing of the new station and making the necessary connections in order that the new station might be opened in the near future.

Mr. Ward is one of the most liked men and having conducted a station near the present location is well acquainted with the trade. His new location at the juncture of the two highways is a most pleasing one and should assure him of a large trade when the paving work is completed and through traffic is again being routed over O street.

Thousands have Ended their Bowel Worries by taking this advice!

Can constipation actually be overcome? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say the many thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not likely to cure your constipation with salts, pills, tablets, or any of the habit-forming cathartics. But you can correct this condition by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

THE LIQUID TEST:

This is the way many men and women have made their bowels as regular as clockwork in a very short time.

First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord.

Simple, isn't it? And it works! The right liquid laxative brings thorough bowel action without using force. An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely used for both adults and children) is syrup pepsin. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help, as in the case of mineral drugs.

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. The dose can be measured, and the action controlled. Pills and tablets containing drugs of violent action are hard on the bowels.

If there are children in your household, don't give them any bad form of laxative, but use a healthful, helpful preparation like syrup pepsin. Its very taste will tell you it is wholesome, and agreeable to the stomach. Delightful taste, and delightful action; there is no discomfort at the time, or after. Ask your druggist for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, all ready to take.
