RE-ORGANIZED DRUM CORPS PRACTICES TUESDAY NIGHTS The American Legion Junior drum corps, in existence for the past year and a half, is being re-organized with the dropping from its ranks of some of the older boys while the second string group of boys who have been practicing on a different night of the week than the regular corps, are being brigaded into the old corps to fill the vacancies. The entire corps will now practice on Tuesday nights of each week.

C. A. Marshall was named as the chairman of a committee to look after the drum corps promotion at the last Legion meeting and will be assisted by several other Legionnaires, who will take turns in attending the weekly practice sessions, the same as is being done in the Legion Scout troop committee. Anton Bajcek, who has acted as instructor in the past will continue in this capacity, giving the boys the advantage of his expert knowledge of drumming.

All boys who have been in either the first or second corps as it heretofore existed and who desire to continue therein are urged to attend the weekly practice session tonight.
