

Murray Lady Passed Her 87th Anniversary

Mrs. Sadie Oldham Quietly Observes Event at Her Home—Has Witnessed Many Changes.

Mrs. Sadie Oldham, nee Sadie Story was born on April 10, 1847 in Canada and came to the United States in 1854 when she was seven years of age and where she has resided within a few miles of where she now lives in Murray, for the past eighty years, was quietly celebrating her 87th birthday on Tuesday of this week at her home and was being greeted by her many friends.

When Mrs. Oldham, then Miss Story, came to Nebraska it was a territory and was not admitted until afterwards. She found a country infested with Indians and it was here that she lived during the trying times of the civil war from '61 to '65. Her father, Mr. Story, built the house sewed from native logs across the Missouri river by John Latta and pinned together with wooden pins. The house at this time is occupied by Wm. Brintner.

Miss Sadie Story was united in marriage with Lee Oldham, the 19th day of November, 1871, the year of the disastrous Chicago fire which necessitated the building of a new city and a greater one. When this couple were married they resided on a farm southeast of the present town of Murray, but there was no town there. Their post office then was Three Groves. Mr. Oldham moved the house in which they then resided to the farm which they now occupy, a half mile north of the present home on which Harry McCulloch resides. A portion of the house was moved to the present location of the Oldham home and was added to by a school house in which Basil S. Ramsey taught school and Mr. Lee Oldham was a student. They also added other portions and which was converted into the house in which they now reside.

During her life of eighty years in the vicinity of Murray she has passed through many experiences, roaming hand of Indians, the events of the civil war, the reconstruction period.

Two daughters came to bless the home, both growing to womanhood. Fay, passing away from years ago just following the war during an epidemic of Spanish influenza, the other, Mrs. A. A. Young, living in Murray.

This home has entertained many prominent democrats in the past and the Hon. William Jennings Bryan spoke to a large crowd from the porch of the home during the famous silver campaign in 1896. When Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was a student in the school of aviation at Lincoln he came to Murray and secured a landing field on the premises of Mrs. Oldham and here W. G. Boedeker, Dr. G. H. Gilmore and O. A. Davis took rides with the now famous aviator.

Mrs. Oldham has suffered two major injuries during her life, but yet is enjoying life, and it is the wish of the many friends that she may enjoy many more happy years.

Murray Christian Bible School.
At the Murray Christian Bible school on last Sunday there was a goodly number of people there to enjoy the lesson study and as well to do what they could for the furthering of the best interests of the Bible school and church. There were 86 present at Bible school and almost as many at the church service.

Re-caning Chairs.
Putting the lessons which have been taught by the 4-H club workers and their instructors, the ladies of the Christian church were re-caning some chairs for the Christian church during the week.

Had Excellent Meeting.
The Achievement program which was put on at the parlors of the Christian church last week was a success beyond the fondest expectations of all concerned and was much due to the earnest work of Mrs. Ellen Spangler, who had direct charge of the very fine program which was put over and was in numbers as well as in interest and capable work far ahead of any other meeting of this or a similar kind in the county.

This corn was purchased at a premium from seven to eight cents above the prevailing market price and which has afforded those who possess this kind of corn with a good market. This institution is one which is very beneficial both to Murray and the country within many miles of here. While much of the corn is sealed it allows those who have not sealed their cribs to dispose of the cereal at a very favorable price.
