

UNION ITEMS.

George A. Stites was looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth last Monday afternoon, driving over to the big town in his car.

A. R. Dowler, of Nebraska City, a salesman for the Propst Chevrolet Sales company was looking after some business matters in Union last Monday afternoon.

Edward Dowler, who is engaged in the trucking business and who injured his back while at work, was a visitor in Union last Saturday night, looking after some business for a time.

Charles L. Greene and family were in Murray last Sunday and again on Monday morning, Mr. Greene went over to the neighboring town to look after some business matters for a short time.

Miss Mary Chase and friend, Miss Mildred Albin, both of South Omaha, were visiting in Union over the week end and were guests while here of Frank and Anna Bauer, where all enjoyed a very fine visit.

Messrs Homer Hunter and Ollie Atteberry were over to Elmwood last Monday morning, where they went to work on the preparation of the roadway for paving, which is expected to begin in a short time.

Fred Faltschman, of Manley, was a visitor in Union last Monday, coming to purchase a good milk cow and hearing of the excellent herd owned by F. W. Martin and Ben Martin, came to view them and to purchase one.

Mrs. Lydia M. Davis, of Plattsmouth, was a visitor in Union last Saturday afternoon, coming to see her son, Joe Davis, but he being at work on the O street quarry, she could not see him and returned to her home at Plattsmouth.

Henry H. Becker was a visitor in Omaha Tuesday of this week, taking his son, Donald to the doctor, as he had been home for some time and the doctor had asked that the lad be brought up for examination. Donald is getting along very fair, which is good news for the family.

Louis Tigner, a son of Charles Tigner, of Culbertson and nephew of E. E. Leach, of Union, came down from Fort Crook, where he has been located as a member of the C. C. C., for a week end visit at the home of his uncle. After a pleasant visit here, he returned to Fort Crook Sunday evening.

Jay H. Austin was a visitor in Plattsmouth for the day last Monday, being called as one of the members of the jury panel for the April term of the district court as was also Chas. Swan. Both were hoping they would not be chosen on the jury to try the first case before the court, the murder trial of Joe G. McMaken.

Al Hathaway, who has been making his home at Dorchester and Sutton for some time past, later coming to Lincoln, then to Omaha and lastly to Murray, where he spent most of the winter at John Hobeck's, was visiting with friends in Union during the past week. From here he went to Lincoln and on to Crete, where he will make his home during the summer.

Received Merited Promotion Philip F. Riba was over to see his friend, Santa True, who was so badly injured some time since and also visited with his old time friend, Joseph Lidgett, who has been poorly for some time. Mr. Lidgett tells of a letter from his son, Henry, who is in the navy, which tells of his passing a good examination for promotion and being placed on a speed destroyer and assigned to the fleet which is soon to go through the Panama canal and will cruise on the Atlantic ocean during the coming six months.

Returned to the West Dr. J. L. Barritt, who was at Oatman, Nevada, on a business trip for some ten days, returned home last week and was immediately called back to the west to look after some matters that it had not been possible to attend to while he was there.

Purchased New Car Vance Harris, who in the pursuit of his business is called over the entire state, was in Kearney a few days ago, where he bartered to buy a car and being made an exceptionally good offer, he accepted and purchased a new two door six cylinder Chevrolet, which he brought back home with him, leaving the car which he had been using in the west.

Visited Parents Here Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Busbey were guests for a few days at the home of the parents of Mrs. Busbey, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Upton, Mrs. Busbey visiting with the parents while the husband was looking after some business matters at Falls City during the latter portion of the week, coming to Union for the week end and returning to their home at Lincoln for the beginning of the week's work.

Replanted Clover Field Hugh Warden, who is one of the very best of farmers, sowed some 27 acres to clover to renew the land and just after he had gotten the crop in and it was ready to germinate, the high winds came and with the dust storm blew the dirt away and the seeds as well, carrying them to the neighboring farm in the windward.

Mr. Warden came to town and purchased enough seed to resow the lands, hoping for better fortune this time.

Making Home in Union A. H. Austin, who arrived in Union a short time since, is making his home here and will stay for the summer. He and his son, Jay Austin, are keeping house together and Uncle Gabe, as he is familiarly known will do the cooking, which makes a good pair. Mr. Austin, Sr. came to Union first a good many years ago, when it was but a trading post and is well known by a large circle of friends and acquaintances here and all over the county.

Santa True Better Santa True, who was severely injured by being kicked by a horse recently, has been showing some improvement during the past few days, but for a considerable time after the accident was in a serious condition. He had heard a commotion in the stable at night and went in to see what the matter was, when a ferocious horse let drive at him. He was unconscious for quite a time and might easily have been killed. After regaining consciousness he mustered his strength to crawl to the house

Gas Prices are Lower The owners of automobiles and trucks in and about Union have been enjoying a reduction in the price of gasoline since the first of this week. The regular gas, which had been selling at 17.4 cents, dropped to 14 1/2, and the competition gas that sold at 15.4 cents is now selling at 13 1/2.

Installs New Furniture John Fitzpatrick and wife, who operate the cafe furthest up the hill, have just installed a series of cafe booths, which provide a separate place for a party or family. The new fixtures were made by Joe Bauer and their installation makes the cafe a most up-to-date and attractive place.

Many New Signs A traveling sign painter dropped into Union last Monday and was busy for a time with the painting of new and renewing of old signs. Among those who had signs painted were John Fitzpatrick and Dean Gillespie.

Enjoy Family Gathering At the home of Mrs. Westley Clarke there was gathered last Sunday all the relatives in this section of the country. There was a brother of Mrs. Clarke, N. R. Kennedy, and a sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hinds, and two daughters and a son of Council Bluffs, Iowa, the family of Ira Clarke, Fred Clarke and family, King Clarke and Mrs. Vesta Clarke, of Union, Edgar Newton and family, of Plattsmouth, and Carl Dummerstorf, of Council Bluffs. That they had an excellent time goes without saying.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE Miss Beulah Sans, one of the very efficient teachers in the Murray public school, was given a very pleasant surprise on last Friday. Miss Sans has taught the primary grades for the past twenty-one years, and by her loving kindness, and her understanding ways has greatly endeared herself in the hearts of the many little folks whom she has taught, as well as their parents. The mother of one of her little pupils, remembering that she would celebrate her birthday on Friday, conceived the idea of giving her a birthday dinner, so quietly spread the news to the rest of the mothers, hoping thereby to show to Miss Sans, something of their appreciation of what she is doing for their little folks. Accordingly, these mothers stealthily entered the school building by means of a back entrance, each with a well laden basket of delicious food which was quietly spread upon a long table in the auditorium. When the gong sounded, dismissing the school for the noon hour, Miss Sans found upon opening her door into the hall, that she was soon surrounded by a large group of ladies singing the happy birthday song to her, which was a complete surprise to her as well as to her little pupils. After the shock of the surprise was passed they were all ushered into the auditorium, where with the other teachers in the school, all enjoyed the birthday feast together. The centerpiece on the table was a lovely decorated birthday cake which was baked by one of the mothers. The thoughtful mothers had prepared a lovely birthday gift which was presented by the children as a gift from them. The noon hour was all too short, but was greatly enjoyed by all, and upon taking their departure Miss Sans expressed her grateful appreciation to the ladies, who in turn wished for her many happy returns of the day, and many more years of teaching the kiddies of the Murray primary department.

Dr. H. G. Koch Pays Visit to City Schools

Professor of Secondary Education at University Speaks to Rotary and Schools.

Dr. H. G. Koch, professor of the secondary education from the University of Nebraska, spoke before the Rotary club Tuesday, April 17, and visited the Plattsmouth schools.

In Dr. Koch's talk before the Rotary he spoke of the University in 1869 and showed how it had developed from a small institution to one that now has over 10,000 enrolled. He pointed out that graduating classes had grown from 3 in number to 1,300. The University of Nebraska has a faculty of 370 members; a physical plant valued at $9,000,000 and taxes for the state of Nebraska for the University are 70c for each thousand dollars in valuation; 10 colleges and 3 schools. Dr. Koch branched into public education showing that within the recent decade the population of the United States has increased 100% while the high school enrollment increased 1,000%. The number of teachers in the United States are proximated at 5,900,000 with $9,000,000 boys and girls in the public schools. Of particular interest was the personal touch in which he mentioned several families of Cass county who have attended the University of Nebraska. The Pollard family in Nehawka has more members of this family who have attended the University of Nebraska than any family in the state. There are 69 students from Cass county in attendance with 7 from Plattsmouth. Dr. Koch emphasized that everyone in our state is touched in some way, either directly or indirectly, by this higher institution. Following Dr. Koch's address at Rotary he visited all of the rooms of the schools and expressed approval of the fine program that is now being carried out. He was especially impressed with the many activities both in high school and in the grade schools.

He spoke at 3:20 to the high school student body and the senior class. Outlining prospective courses for those who expect to attend college and checking the credits of University entrance. He addressed the teachers of the Plattsmouth schools at 4:10 on the enriched curriculum, showing how the level of living of the child may be raised or lowered depending upon the educational program. He thought that more lessons should be taken from actual life and that education should be real living and dynamic. His address was greatly enjoyed by all teachers.

This is part of the services that the University of Nebraska is giving to the schools of the state hoping to bring about a closer contact between this higher institution of learning and the public schools of Nebraska. His itinerary was arranged by C. K. Morse, assistant director of extension, who spoke recently in Plattsmouth for University night.

AN APPRECIATION To my many friends who remembered me so loyally and so beautifully in tokens of love and expressions of sympathy during my late illness, I wish to extend my highest appreciation and heartfelt thanks. It will be a happy service for me to return to anyone or all of you, the same sympathy and encouragement should opportunity for such ever arise. Again I thank you, and again. CORA WILLIAMS.

Drifting, Helpless, to Doom

While doctors ponder and ponder, and painstaking scientists toil, Loretta Sitkowski (left) and Genevieve Liss slowly drift toward doom. They are afflicted with maladies for which science, for all its heroic labors, knows no cure. Loretta, 6, suffers from lymphatic leukemia, a disease of the bone marrow and spleen which causes an abnormal supply of white corpuscles and a diminished number of red corpuscles. Genevieve, 1, has scleroderma with calcinosis, a condition in which abnormal amounts of calcium are deposited in the tissues, due to malfunction of the parathyroid glands. Dr. Karl Meyer, medical head of the Cook County Hospital in Chicago, brought the two together. Loretta and Genevieve looked at each other, understood, smiled, were friends on the dark current bearing them to the same port.
