THE STRANGER'S STORY

He neared the lawn seat where I sat,
And with a pleasant smile,
Excused himself for intruding
On my time a little while.
He spoke of his journeyings to and fro
And of many parlous times
He'd encountered in his odysseys
In dreary, uncharted climes.
His language was refined, and with
A timbre all its own—
The story closed—I raised my eyes,
And found myself alone.
I've sought him many days since then,
To learn who he might be—
His story I'm giving straight to you,
Just as he gave it to me.

His Story

"Long I've wandered, worn and weary,
Through the darkness, bleak and dreary,
Fraught with sounds and shadows eerie,
Echoes of days long gone before.

"Searching the range of abysmal space,
Hunting a loved and long lost face—
A figure of enchanting grace
And a charm forevermore.

"Whilst the mists are slowly lifting,
As my bark floats, idly drifting,
Through the waves, forever shifting,
On toward an unknown shore.

"Ever the harbor bar seems nearing,
And the storm-beat clouds are clearing,
Distant murmurs reach my hearing—
Echo repeating evermore.

"Come now a hush on the turgid sea,
Like the quiet of an eternity,
As a sound is borne across the lee—
A muffled tone I hear no more.

"A faint word—like a far off bell—
But the message that it had to tell
Was soft as the toll of a funeral knell—
An adieu from my lost Lenore."
"K"

Mrs. J. A. Murray and son, George, of Omaha, former residents here, were in the city Saturday afternoon for a short time visiting the old friends and enjoying the motor trip from their home.

WANDERER IS ARRESTED

Early Sunday evening John Hart- sel, claiming Newcastle, Wyoming, as his residence, was gathered in by Officer David Pickrel as he was wandering up Main street and taken to the city jail for keeping for the night. The man had wandered into this city late Sunday afternoon and had acquired a fine collection of canned heat jag. He was held until this morning and then ordered to leave the city and return no more.

SAYS THREATENED OFFICER

Marshal Earl R. Talbot of South Bend, arrived in the city Saturday evening, bringing with him two of the young men of that community, Lee and Richard Buskirk whom he claimed had threatened to commit an assault on him.

The marshal was here today and prepared to file the formal complaint before County Attorney W. G. Kieck for the alleged assault.

SUFFERS FROM MASTOID

Bobby, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hall, was suddenly taken with a severe attack of mastoid on Saturday and it was found necessary to have the little lad hurried to the hospital at Omaha where an operation was performed at once. The lad is doing just as well as possible, but owing to the severity of the case his condition still is quite serious.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jordan motored to Norfolk, Saturday afternoon where they visited for a short time and returned with Miss Minnette Boom, sister of Mrs. Jordan, who has been visiting there. Miss Boom will visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gabelman and Mr. and Mrs. Jordan for a time.
