They spent the day picnicking at a cabin there, returning home late that evening. Saturday, fourteen men received work cards directing them to go to work on the paving project between Eagle and Elmwood. Five went Monday and the balance on Thursday. They work the restricted number of hours provided by NRA regulations for public works. Frank Rouse, the house mover, who lives at Greenwood, has been busy the past several weeks repairing the buildings on a farm six miles east of Greenwood. He has taken two more contracts for moving houses and repairing that will insure him work for two months. The wheat crop about Greenwood, which has been looking very good all spring and up to the last week, is now showing the effects of the hot, dry winds and the dust storms that have prevailed. However, the crop here is said to have withstood the weather in much better shape than those out in the state, where there is no prospect of raising anything. Conducted Baccalaureate Sermon The baccalaureate sermon for the graduates of the Greenwood High school was held on last Sunday, May 13th at the Christian church, the sermon to the graduates being delivered by the Rev. Bruce Gidron, and was listened to by a large and greatly interested audience. Celebrated Mothers Day Sunday Mother's day was observed at the Christian church in Greenwood, the address being delivered by their pastor, the Rev. W. E. Coings. Ollie Sayles Better Ollie Sayles, who has been at the hospital in Lincoln for the past several weeks, where he was being treated, and who has been in a most serious condition, has been showing some improvement of late and hopes are now entertained that he will continue to improve. His many friends are hoping that he may soon be able to return to his home again. Interested in Credit Association There were many of the citizens of Greenwood interested in the meeting which was held for the organization of a credit association, which is to take the place of a bank, yet will not be a bank and will not be kept from serving the needs of the public due to some technicality or restriction of the law. The matter was discussed, but nothing definite done. However, it is expected that another meeting will be held soon and that something more definite may be accomplished. Both Honored on Birthday On May 9, Mrs. E. L. McDonald passed her birthday anniversary and on last Sunday her friends and neighbors came to the McDonald home and gave this excellent woman a very fine surprise and a delightful evening. Just a week before Mr. McDonald had been surprised for his birthday had occurred on May 2nd. Making Repairs to Home Otto Renwanz, who has been making his home in Greenwood since he has completed his term of service with the government as a mail clerk and has been placed on the retired list, thought it would be better to have the home brought down to the present date, so he has had George Trunkenbolz wire the home, which is west of Greenwood and will have new light fixtures placed there, making the home modern. Both Very Sick Mrs. Al Hansen, who was taken sick last week in a very serious condition and every care is being given her that she may regain her health as soon as possible. During the time of her illness, her husband, who is an ex-service man, is at the Veterans' hospital at Lincoln, where he is receiving treatment. He has not been advised of the illness of his wife as he, too, is very sick, and it was feared the news would aggravate his own illness. Observe Sneak Day The Senior class of the Greenwood High school on Wednesday of last week, with two automobiles to provide transportation and accompanied by their superintendent, observed the annual Sneak Day by going to Omaha, where a number of the large enterprises of that city were visited and a conception gained of the magnitude of the features involved and the manner of operating the larger business houses. The trip was most enlightening to all members of the class. Those who comprised the party were Harold R. Brackhage, C. Orlo Goings, Everett Jardine, B. Palling, George R. Rouse, J. E. E. Sorman, L. C. Stephensen and Don L. Wetmers. Over Million to be Released to Bank Depositors Reconstruction Finance Corporation Loans on Assets of Failed State Banks Approved. State Banking Superintendent Luikart, reports $1,235,943 in Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans on assets of failed state banks have been approved, making possible pouring of almost a million and a third dollars back into the hands of depositors of thirty-six banks without delay. "The purpose of these loans," he said, "is to procure immediate relief to the depositors in banks where loans can be procured, and at the same time avoid the necessity of selling out borrowers who have a reasonable prospect of paying the obligations to the receiver of these banks over a period of two years. These Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans are a distinct advantage to both depositors and borrowers." Luikart said, however, that there are many failed banks in the state which have been liquidated to a point where it is impossible to procure loans from the RFC. This is true, he said, of most of the banks which suspended before June 30, 1932. Additional applications for loans are contemplated for other banks with substantial assets as soon as information is available Luikart said, from which the applications can be prepared. PREPARE TO JUDGE AWARDS The committee of judges in charge of the guessing contest, a feature of Rocaer Booster week, met Wednesday evening to discuss the plans for the judging of the rooster feeding contest. The judges, L. S. Devoe, Fred Nolting, L. A. Meisinger, Jack Stamp, Henry Timm, Charles Stoehr, Art Wetenkamp, Rex Young, Ray Becker, Henry Thiele, Art Troop and D. D. Wainscott, announce that the roosters will be fed for the last time on Friday evening at 6 o'clock and will have nothing except water until 8:30 on Saturday evening when they will be fed, the grains of corn fed them will be counted and the result of the feeding will be determined and the awards made to those guessing the nearest to the correct number. Guesses may be made at any of the stores that have a rooster on exhibit. From Friday's Daily Roy Wade, of Syracuse, was in the city today looking after some business affairs and while here called on a number of his former army associates, he having been a member of Co. C, 126 machine gun battalion in which several Plattsmouth men served.

Clara B. Bathen Named Head of the Eastern Star Harry F. Proffitt, Hastings, Selected as Grand Worthy Patron at Close of State Meeting. Many Plattsmouth members of the Eastern Star were at Omaha Wednesday to attend the sessions of the grand chapter of the order held at the city auditorium where the 1,100 delegates from the various chapters as well as some 5,000 visitors made the occasion one of the most colorful and largely attended that has been held in recent years. Mrs. Clara Bathen of Lincoln, long an active figure in the order, was named as the grand worthy matron and H. F. Proffitt of Hastings was selected as the grand worthy patron. Hastings was selected as the next meeting place. Other officers elected Wednesday are: Mrs. Margaret McPherson of Omaha, associate grand matron; Harold T. Landeryou of Omaha, associate grand patron; Miss Rose M. Owens of Omaha, grand secretary; Mrs. Blanch Watson of Norfolk, grand treasurer; Mrs. Laura Nicholson of Wisner, grand conductress, and Mrs. Ruby E. Coggins of Aurora, associate grand conductress. Five Thousand at Sessions. Besides the 1,100 delegates who had registered, about five thousand other members of the order attended Wednesday sessions. Following the election, Mrs. Millie Meredith of Wolbach gave the fraternal correspondence report and other committee reports were presented. A memorial service with past grand matrons and past grand patrons participating opened the evening program. Mrs. Anna V. Peterson, past grand matron, was in charge of this service. Mrs. Anna Alden of Grand Island, grand lecturer of the order, spoke on "The Golden Key," and Archie M. Smith of Pender, grand master of the Masons, gave an address. There was music by the McKinley chapter No. 161 quartet, Mr. Landeryou, Mrs. Louise Brommer Philbrick, and Mrs. Elsie Brehm Parker of Hastings, and Mrs. Gertrude Davis Winroth of Hastings. Mrs. McPherson, selected as associate grand worthy matron, is a former resident of this city, being formerly Miss Margaret Rennie, and her many friends here are pleased to see her advancement to this important post in the grand chapter. SOCIETY When the screen world is set agog by the unspeakable crime, That is unloaded on society in this twentieth century of time, It would surely make them blush with downright shame, And make their works in Hollywood look very tame. The imps and "impes," the Ahab and Jezebels, That are at large in the land, who doubtless excel Even the Queen of Sheba who left her impress Upon a Solomon, who thought how he could her redress. The lesson of the Sphinxes should at length renew, And turn our thoughts from the incipient brew, To the gladioluses of Life instead of the stage, Which often brings disaster and premature age. When Belshazzar ordered that feast for his lords, And reveled in drinking while musical chords Were sweeping through the hall and over the strand, He saw writing on the wall by an omnipotent Hand. That Hand has written the fate of many a man, But they fail to see, because of blindness they scan The horizon for clouds in a very clear sky, But the "don'ts" are many or the clouds are high. Presuming to bow in the last call of fate, When a friend's advice turns friendship into hate, To trifle with love in the home where we dwell, Is sacred to all, even the criminal in his cell. Society, the comedy of human life, Constantly in a turmoil and engendering strife, What tragic scenes are recorded in lines, As the rank and file bow, at its mystic shrines. —J. R. T. Distant pastures always look greenest. That's why many people send their money away to purchase goods. Another reason is that local merchants fail to keep their informed on what they have to offer.

Wabash News Dr. W. H. Tuck, of Weeping Water, was a business visitor in Wabash Monday and was pleased to meet his many friends here. Mrs. Gust Wendt, who has been at the hospital for some time, where she underwent an operation, returned home last week and is feeling a little better. P. H. Clarke, who was so severely injured some weeks ago, is making good improvement and is so that he is able to tackle the work again and is as well pleased as his friends if not more so. Ralph Richard and Keith Murfin were over to Ashland on last Sunday, where they were visiting with relatives and friends and also enjoyed a baseball game between Ashland and Wabash, the latter winning. Miss Helen Standley, who is at Lincoln, where she is attending the Elliott school was a visitor at her home for over the week end last week and enjoyed the visit here very much. The father took her to Elmwood to catch the bus for Lincoln on Sunday evening. Loses Horse in Peculiar Manner The bad things as well as the good come to us sometimes in most peculiar manner and that was the case with Guy Lake, who lost a valuable horse last week. The animal had gotten out of the barn and like all good horses sought to roll over a number of times, for you know the old saying that for every time a horse rolls over it is worth a hundred dollars. Just as the horse got to rolling good, near the railroad fence, a car came along and the animal became frightened and jumped up and started to run. That would have been all right, but a cow happened to be in the way and the horse in attempting to jump, not over the moon, but over the cow, fell and broke one of its legs so badly that it was necessary to shoot it. Mr. Lake is lamenting the loss of the animal which was a valuable one and will be hard to replace. Mrs. Harriet Lawton Better Mrs. Lawton, who has been so sick for so many weeks, has been showing good improvement of late and was able to get around and do her own work. Her daughter, Mrs. Greene of Aurora, who was here to care for the mother during her illness, left for home early last week. Passes Excellent Examination Mary Pool was the only one of the Wabash school to take the examination of the eighth grade and she passed with good grades and we are certain that in the school where she is to go she will also make some good credits. How About Memorial Day? The Wabash cemetery has a history extending many years in the past, when the people of other times came to strew pretty flowers on the graves of the loved ones and some one spoke of the good qualities of those who rest there. Whoever has the matter in hand this year had better get a hustle on them as the time is getting short. It would be a shame to let this year slip by without observing this day so dear to all. All Enjoy School Picnic The closing of the school year in any place is a time when there are many things that challenge our attention. The school boys and, as to that, the girls as well, are looking forward to the vacation time. When a student has gone to school for nine long months, with a peck of books, he is surely entitled to a vacation. The grown man wants a vacation every now and then to go fishing and so should the boys and girls have their desire for one fulfilled. Like the other places, the people of Wabash look forward to the last day of school and to spur the students to greater work they are promised a picnic on the occasion of the last day of school. In the case of Wabash they sure got it and also an abundance of good things to eat and a good time for all, with baseball for the boys and other kinds of games for the girls and younger children. Taking it all in all there surely was a good time provided, but remember, boys and girls, the time will pass quickly, and it will not be long until the old bell will ring again and the boys and girls will come flocking back to school, happy to again take up their studies. From Friday's Daily Attorney C. E. Tefft and C. V. Wallick, were in the city today from Weeping Water to spend a short time looking after some business at the court house and visiting with their friends here.

Thomsen near North Bend, Nebraska, at 9 o'clock a. m. Thursday, May 10, 1934. Rev. Edward Beebe, formerly of Union, Nebraska, now in charge of the Purple Cane M. E. church in Purple Cane precinct, Dodge county, being in charge of the services at the home. At the close of the services the funeral cortege proceeded overland to the Glendale church near Cedar Creek, Nebraska, where after a short service conducted by Reverend Paul of the Lutheran church of Platts-mouth, Nebraska, the remains were interred in the family lot of the parents adjoining the lot of Andrew Thomsen, grandfather of the deceased. The pall bearers at the cemetery were Harry Ahl, Elmer Sprick, Jack Durell and Dick Hall. Cathie Ann Newton was born October 25, 1930, and passed away at the Lutheran hospital in Fremont, Nebraska, on May 8th, 1934 and at her death was 3 years, 6 months, and 12 days of age. Little Cathie Ann had been sick for a period of 7 weeks with the whooping cough and measles and her death was caused by complications resulting from the effects of these ailments. Through all her illness everything possible was done with tender and loving care, and including several blood transfusions at the hospital in the effort to save her precious life. To mourn her passing are left the father, mother, grandmother, an uncle, Sayles Thomsen, an aunt, Mrs. Hope Thomsen Krug and an uncle, Edward Krug. Relatives and friends accompanying the remains to the burial at Glendale cemetery were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Arich Thomsen and daughter, Anna Mary, Carl Halstead, Leonard, Chris, Elizabeth and Alva Arps, of North Bend; William Kester of Snyder, Nebr.; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dlubny, of Schuyler, Nebr.; Mr. and Mrs. Herold Krug of Water-ville, Kansas, and Miss Sophie Matekja, of Dodge, Nebr. Relatives from Plattsmouth were Ida H. Serbert and Mr. and Mrs. George R. Sayles, Mrs. M. L. Hall and son, Dick Hall, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Marshall, Jr., and Mrs. Anna Lillie. ELMWOOD VISITORS HERE From Friday's Daily This morning there were a number of residents of Elmwood here to spend a few hours looking after some matters in the county court, these including Attorney Guy L. Clements, Mrs. Mary Parish, Frank Lovenz and Peter Lindner. They also visited with friends while in the city.
