LEWISTON SOCIAL CIRCLE

The Lewiston Social Circle club met on Tuesday, May 8th, at the home of Mrs. Herman Comer with Mrs. Comer and Mrs. Earl Hathaway as the hostesses of the meeting.

A very pleasing program of entertainment had been arranged and which was spent in games, in which Mrs. Earl Wolfe, Mrs. Bruce Wolfe, Mrs. Jessie Scott, Mrs. Roy Becker and Mrs. Lee Paris were the winners.

The music period was composed of songs by the club as well as several special numbers that added much to the entertainment of the afternoon.

A short business session was held with Mrs. Harry Gobelman in charge of this portion of the meeting.

The club members all expressed their regret that the president, Mrs. Hobscheidt was ill and unable to attend the meeting of the club in which she has been such an efficient worker.

Several members of the club were in attendance at the achievement meeting at Weeping Water on May 1st and had a very time at the sessions.

The next meeting of the club will be on June 12th at the home of Mrs. Rose Kendall and Mrs. David Kendall.

Dainty and delicious refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon that added to the pleasures of the occasion.

W. W. Moore and daughter, Helen Marie, of Des Moines, Iowa, are here to enjoy a visit over the week end with Mrs. Adah Moore, mother of Mr. Moore and the other relatives and friends.

Urges Missouri Valley as Great Fruit Center

J. H. Kerns, of Omaha, Tells of Value of Soil of This Section for Fruit Growing.

J. H. Kerns, former Auburn newspaper man and merchant, now located at Omaha, was in the city Wednesday and a guest of the Plattsmouth Business Men's Ad club, where he spoke at the noonday luncheon.

Mr. Kerns is an enthusiast on the possibilities that lie in the development of this section of the Missouri valley as a fruit growing section. He pointed out that the soil formations here are such as are found in only three of the great fertile river valleys of the world, the Danube, Seine and Rhine rivers in Europe and sections of the Missouri river. This soil has particular qualities that makes them ideal for growing of grapes and other fruits and which has a future that is unlimited, Mr. Kerns believes.

One of the future developments that this region can look forward to is that of dehydrating plants where the fruit juices can be handled and the products shipped easily down the Missouri river to seaports for shipment to all sections of the world. The value of the grape culture in this part of the west was especially stressed by Mr. Kerns as one of the great growing industries of this part of the central west.

The speaker was also enthusiastic over the possibilities of the canning industry in this part of the west where the growing of vegetables is so easy and the yield large in ordinary years, providing a great supply source to factories, such as that of the Norfolk Packing Co.

Mr. Kerns is planning on writing a number of articles on the fruit industry which he will give publicity through the Journal in the future, setting forth the important facts as to the need for greater expansion of fruit growing.

WED BY THORP'S DEFEAT

Washington. — John Dickinson, assistant secretary of commerce, threatened to resign unless a man of Dr. Willard L. Thorp's "caliber" were named and confirmed by the senate as director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

The senate commerce committee Wednesday rejected Thorp 11 to 5, with Chairman Stephens (d., Miss.) announcing that the majority felt Thorp, at present serving as director under a recess appointment, had not had sufficient business experience for the post.

Asserting that "fabricated and untruthful charges" had been circulated against Thorp by a "small clique of disappointed office seekers," Dickinson said, "Pending the determination of whether or not it will be possible to secure acceptance of the directorship of the bureau by a man of Dr. Thorp's caliber and his confirmation at the hands of the senate, I reserve consideration of my own future relation to the department."

PLAN AIR CORPS CLEANUP

Washington.—A thorough reorganization and house cleaning in the administration of the army air corps was proposed by house members after a subcommittee had reported that Maj. Gen. Benjamin Foulois, chief of the corps, had violated the law governing contract letting.

Representative Rogers told reporters later: "From the evidence already submitted it is readily seen that a proper cleanup may result in some requests for court martial and a definite change in the policy which has been followed by the chief of the air corps in conjunction with Wright field. Evasion of the true intent of the 1926 law is so apparent, that both in the interests of the taxpayers and efficient aviation it is obvious that a radical change must be made at an early date."

FACE TRIAL ON FIRE CHARGE

Columbus, Neb.—Roy Preston, formerly of Monroe, was bound over to the district court when he pleaded not guilty at his preliminary hearing in county court here Thursday on charges growing out of the destruction by fire of his home near Monroe in December, 1930.

Harry Ziegler waived preliminary hearing and also was bound over to the higher court in connection with a fire at the house. Preston was released on $2,000 bond furnished by his brother. Ziegler's bond was fixed at $1,500. He was unable to furnish bond and was held in the county jail.

FORCES OF FUSION RALLY

New York.—The forces of fusion pushed forward their campaign to end the rule of Tammany once and for all. Following the keynote sounded by Samuel Seabury that "Tammany is not dead, only paralyzed," fusion leaders went to work to defeat Tammany controlled democratic legislators in the coming elections.

The fusionists will offer candidates for the assembly in districts in the metropolitan area. They also will put forward a candidate for comptroller in the fall—a post that Tammany covets because of its powerful influence in the board of estimate.

A major factor in the legislative campaign of the fusion group is the desire to replace Tammany men in the assembly with those who will sympathize with and support policies of Mayor LaGuardia, in whose election Seabury played an important, guiding role. Some of LaGuardia's major projects have been knocked about at Albany by Tammany legislators.

From Thursday's Daily

The body of Mrs. Mary Voody, which has been at rest in Oak Hill cemetery, was removed this morning to North Platte where it will be interred in the cemetery there beside that of the husband, Mrs. Robert Troop, sister of Mrs. Voody and Mrs. C. TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Henry Horn was taken to Omaha on Friday evening where she was placed in the hospital there for treatment. Mrs. Horn has not been well for some time and it was decided that the treatment would be necessary to restore her to her former good health.

RETURNING FROM HOSPITAL

W. H. Woolcott, who has been at the St. Joseph's hospital at Omaha, has so far recovered from his recent operation that he is expecting to return home in the next few days. Mr. Woolcott has made excellent progress and the friends are pleased to learn that he is soon to be home.

Mrs. Paul Roessner of Lincoln was in the city Friday to spend a few hours attending to some matters of business and visiting with the old friends in the former home as well as looking after the care of the family lot at Oak Hill cemetery.
