Distinguished German Visitor Stops at Omaha

Herr Leonard Kluffinger, of Berlin. Cousin of Gerings, Stops for Brief Time En Route Home.

From Tuesday's Daily

Last evening Misses Mia and Larbara Gering, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Herold were at Omaha where they enjoyed a short visit with their cousin, Herr Leonard Kluffinger, of Berlin, Germany.

Herr Kluffinger was en route by plane from California en route to New York City to sail for home as he has large business interests as the European representative of the W. R. Warner Co. and has a factory that employs some 450 persons at Berlin.

Herr Kluffinger has been enjoying a visit over the United States, going from New York to San Francisco by plane and stopping for a visit along the coast country until the press of business called him back to Germany.

He is pleased with the improving conditions in his country and the increasing volume of business that has come to his firm.

The plane made but an eighteen minute stop in Omaha before taking off for Chicago and permitted only a short visit with the relatives who were at the airport to welcome him.

Will someone please tell us why a watch always stops when an after-dinner speaker lays it on the table?

Another Hat in the Ring

The office of county sheriff seems to be a particularly desirable one, judging from the number of candidates who have filed therefor. This is true to a slightly lesser degree in the case of all offices to be filled by election this year, however, and the entry list is about as long as the list of starters in the Kentucky derby a week ago. Like the famous derby, too, only one can come through winner in each political party in the warming-up heat in August, and finally but one of those two can be elected at the November election.

The latest to toss his hat into the ring for sheriff is Ray Becker, who for two years served as deputy under Sheriff Ed W. Thingan. Ray was in Plattsmouth a few days since and filed for nomination on the republican ticket. This makes three republican and three democratic aspirants,
