

MURDOCK ITEMS

Harold Rikil, of Enid, Oklahoma, accompanied by Oliver and Winifred Rikil, were visiting in Murdock and vicinity with their relatives and friends for the past week.

Harold W. Tool and family and A. J. Tool were over to Weeping Water last Sunday, where they were guests for the day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Gorder, of Weeping Water.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Craig were at Wymore last Sunday, where they were guests for the day at the home of the parents of Eddie, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Craig, all enjoying the visit together as well as the fine dinner that was served by the mother.

Mrs. Emma Koelling, of Ord, arrived in Murdock early last week and was visiting with her sisters, Mesdames Henry Heinemann and William Rikil, where they enjoyed their visit very much. Mrs. Koelling was also attending the convention of the church which was being held here.

The cars of Chester Eismen and Julius Reinke got tangled up together a few days ago with the result that the Eismen car was damaged to some extent. A. H. Jacobson had it in his auto repair shop for a few days, turning it back to the owner in fine shape and apparently none the worse for the experience.

John J. Gustin who is holding a sale on Tuesday of this week (see his ad elsewhere) will soon depart for Wheatland, Wyoming, where he resided before and where he has many friends and some relatives. He will not know for some time where he will locate permanently but expects to live there for a year at least.

John P. Moeckenhaupt, who has been visiting here for some time, coming to attend the graduating exercises of the Murdock schools from which his nephew, Robert McDonald was graduating this year, visited here the remainder of the week, returning on Tuesday to Plattsmouth, at which place he is now making his home.

Mesdames Henry A. Tool, Harold W. Tool and Fred H. Gorder, were over to Alvo last Wednesday afternoon, where they were meeting with the Ladies Aid society of the Alvo Methodist church and as well visiting with their sister, Mrs. Turner McKinnon, as whose home the meeting was being held.

Mrs. Joseph R. Kelley, mother of Mrs. O. E. McDonald, who was a guest at the home of her daughter for the past week, attended the graduation exercises as her grandson, Robert McDonald, was a member of the class. She left Monday for Ashland, near which place she will visit at the home of a granddaughter, Mrs. William Meyers, and later will return to her home at Plattsmouth.

George L. Berger and son and wife were in Elmwood and Murdock last Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, coming to be here during the commencement exercises of the Elmwood and Murdock schools. During the time he was here he and his half brother, A. J. Bauers, were over to Lincoln visiting with relatives and friends. Mr. Berger, who returned to Grand Island, is coming back for the Memorial day services, which are to be held Wednesday.

Married at Sidney, Nebraska
Henry W. Dehning, of Big Springs, Nebr., but formerly of Murdock, and Miss Annie L. Zimmerman, of Big Springs, were united in marriage at Sidney, Nebr., on May 12, 1934, according to word received here. The groom is a son of H. P. Dehning, of Elmwood. The young people will reside on their farm near Big Springs, where the groom has been engaged in farming since leaving here.

Business House Changes Hands
The Clover Farm store, which has been owned and operated by Emil Kuehn, was sold last week to H. M. Patterson, of Little Sioux, Iowa, who took charge of the business on last Monday. Mr. Kuehn, who has conducted the place of business since the closing of the store of the former owner, G. Bauer, has enjoyed a good business and in the taking over of this enterprise, Mr. Patterson is receiving a good business and should make a success of it, for the stock is all new and clean and the store in excellent condition.

Many Receive Hail Damage Checks
Oscar McDonald, who was selling hail insurance during the late winter and early spring, was doing a good deed to all who bought insurance for the special agent and Mr. McDonald were visiting the losers and settling with them for their loss during the past week.

Raid Chicken Roost Fourth Time

time, the chicken houses of G. V. Pickwell and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis were raided and some two hundred chickens stolen. Once before, all the chickens which these parties had were stolen and they started again only to be robbed for the fourth time as soon as they had accumulated a sufficient quantity for some one to steal. It looks like a load of bird stork mingled with salt would be a pretty good dose for some of these marauders of the hen coops. Surely something of this sort is needed to make those who do not have any respect for other people's property sit up and take notice.

Feed Visitors at School
The matter of caring for the visiting ministers, their wives and families, when the families came, proved to be quite a task and one the taxed the capacity of the bustling town of Murdock to perform. However, the members of the church and the Ladies Aid secured the use of the Murdock schools and made an eating house out of the big room, where they were able to care for the visitors. You will find a report of the convention in another column.

Young Folks Hold Banquet
The Young Peoples society of the Murdock church held a very pleasant meeting at the school building on last Tuesday evening, when they also entertained the ministers here to attend the convention of the church, which was held from Wednesday until Sunday, inclusive.

Junior High School Holds Convocation

Daughters of American Revolution Medal Awarded for Citizenship to Two Students.

The Junior high school Wednesday afternoon held their convocation and which was featured by the presentation of the medal awarded by the Fontenelle chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution to two of the students of the eighth grade.

The convocation was presided over by Superintendent L. S. Devoe and had been arranged by the committee of the teachers of which Miss Clara Weyrich was the chairman.

The award was made to Flossie Lamphere as the girl having the highest rank in her citizenship work and Leo Lancaster as the eighth grade boy having the highest standing. The students were selected by the teachers of the junior high from the grades of the students.

The presentation was made by Mrs. E. H. Wescott, past state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, who in the presentation commended the excellent work of the students in the school and the value of the training that would provide for the highest standing as future citizens of the community.

This is the first year that the D. A. R. medal has been offered in the junior high school, altho the award has been given in the high school for a period of several years. The music for the convocation was under the direction of Miss Lillian Garrett and was given by the girls of the eighth grade as well as the pupils of the entire seventh and eighth grades.

THE WEATHER MAN
The Brain Trusters at Washington presume to know how many kernels on an ear of corn will grow, and have proceeded regardless of the Weather Man, To make the producers co-operate with their plan.

The Weather Man has been busy with a helping hand, To supply us with dust and plenty of sand, With a shortage of moisture it supports the decree, Which tightens the shackles instead of setting us free.

The weather man is still holding a brief in pursuit Of the Brain Trusters who continue to root, For the execution of their extravagant plan, To stop overproduction if they possibly can.

The Weather Man has been generous to a fault, But found underconsumption caused a halt, That by giving each consumer two slices of bread and meat at a meal, Overproduction would flee and turn on its heel.

Striking right and left in a fog, Don't clear the sky nor remove the bog, But right thinking on demonstrable lines, Will remove the barrier in these troublesome times.

The Weather Man will co-operate and help to trace, And blaze the way, so wanting of felicity and grace, If human rights exist at all in the arcana of the inner life, May the "hands off" policy in civil liberty, engender no strife.

Incompatible with individualism the procession moves along, And displays a powerful hand against a mighty throng, Emulating Joseph of Egypt who stored up the wheat, Enslaving the people, as he gave them food to eat. —J. R. T.

PREPARE ROAD TO BRIDGE
The residents of Fremont county, Iowa, and other sections of south-western Iowa, and northwest Missouri, are feeling well pleased over the construction of a new graveled highway through the western portion of the county along the bottoms of the Missouri river that will serve as a short cut to the South Omaha markets via the Plattsmouth bridge, the most direct route for the residents of that section of the country. The road will be connected with one running into Hamburg which it is hoped to have surfaced and made one of the fine highways of that part of the state.

The construction of the graveled highways to the market will relieve a part of the heavy truck travel over the paved highways in that section.

Alvo News

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Coatman were in Lincoln last Tuesday, where they went for a load of groceries for Elmer Rosenow.

Mrs. Clyde Boyles and brother, George Frollich, of Louisville, were guests for the day last Monday of Mrs. Mary Yeager.

The Remaly brothers, living three miles south of Alvo, were making hay last Wednesday, cutting their first crop of alfalfa.

John Elliott and son Dick were in Ashland last Wednesday, where they were looking after some business matters for a few hours.

Edward L. Nelson was in Lincoln last Wednesday, where he took a load of produce and as well brought home a load of groceries.

County Commissioner Fred H. Gorder, of Weeping Water, was looking after some business for the county in Alvo one day during the past week.

John Elliott and George Velda were over to Waverly last Wednesday, where they were in attendance at a sale which was being held there.

Mesdames Ted McCartney, Edgar Edwards and Elmer Rosenow were in Lincoln last Monday evening, at which place they attended a picture show.

Miss Doris Coatman, who has been teaching the Bushberry school, will enter the University of Nebraska summer school at Lincoln June 9th, for a six weeks' course of study.

Mesdames Bertha Dill and Nellie Powell, of Lincoln, sisters of Mrs. Clo Schaeffer, were visiting in Alvo last Sunday with their sister, and also with their father, Henry S. Ough.

Ray Clarke, who was in the hospital for some time following a collision with another player in a ball game, was able to return home last week, but is not yet able to return to his work.

Marguerite Foreman, who has been attending high school at Elmwood, graduated from that institution of learning last week and is again at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Foreman, on the farm.

In a game of baseball which was played between Alvo and the Creighton prep team, the contest proved a very lively one and was won by the visitors by a score of 17 to 8. However, it was a game greatly enjoyed by all who saw it.

Dutch and Alvo were over to the Platte river on last Monday, where they tried their luck fishing and were rewarded by a catch of thirteen very fine specimens. They tasted very fine, according to the tale told by these two fishermen.

Miss Lois Schulke, who was teaching the Jacoby school, has completed the year's work and it is reported that she will not teach the coming year, but will live on a farm which she and her husband-to-be, Glen Schneider, will farm, near Pleasant Dale, south of Lincoln.

Mrs. Jennie Rouse, who has not been in the best of health, is reported as very poorly at her home in Alvo and is being cared for by a special nurse. It is hoped that this good woman will soon be in better health. Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Ethredge, of Greenwood, were over to see the patient on last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bell, the latter formerly Miss Edna Lewis, who make their home in Omaha, were looking after some business matters in Nebraska City and on their return stopped for a short visit with Mrs. Bell's mother, Mrs. Lizzie Lewis. They expect to return for a more extended visit on Decoration day.

Have Pleasant Time
At the close of the Alvo schools there was a picnic and a good time for all, as it was in a manner a community affair with nearly everybody there. A spirited ball game provided entertainment, but it is reported there was no fat man's race or woman's nail driving contest—either of which might have added spice to the entertainment.

Providing Free Entertainment
The village of Alvo has arranged to provide free entertainment for the people of the countryside twice each week. On Wednesday evenings there will be given free band concerts by the Alvo high school band, directed by Ronald McKenzie. This will be given from the band stand just south of the Methodist church. On Saturday evenings there will be given free picture shows. These attractions should give the people good entertainment and provide plenty of amusement for all.

Horses Become Frightened
While S. C. Boyles was driving a team of horses along the highway leading east from town a bread truck came along and the team, which was rather foxy became frightened and ran away, dashing into a nearby yard. In an effort to hold them, Mr. Boyles was dragged into the yard and quite severely bruised, but not seriously injured.

Greek Letter Visits Alvo
Higher Price for Cream

On last Wednesday, when we were in Alvo, we noticed the price of cream or butterfat was 24 cents, some three cents different from a number of other towns in the vicinity.

The Alpha Gamma Delta sorority girls of the Wesleyan University, to the number of twenty, went to Linoma Beach on the farther side of Ashland last week, where they had an outing with all the sports such as fishing and swimming and enjoyed the trip to their hearts' content. On their return trip, they stopped in Alvo, where they visited with their fellow members the Misses Wilma and Evelyn Barkhurst, at whose home they were entertained for supper, afterwards proceeding on to their sorority house at University Place.

Brother Killed in Auto Wreck
Carl Sack, formerly of near here, but who now resides in Lincoln, was in Alvo last Wednesday afternoon looking after some business matters. While here he told of the death of his brother, Joe Sack, who was injured in an auto collision at Carrollton, Mo., last week. Mr. Sack went to attend the brother's funeral and had but recently returned. Both he and the deceased brother were well known by many of the people of this community.

Had Exciting Experience
While R. M. Coatman was coming down a long hill south of Elmwood with a load of corn, one of the rear axels of his truck broke, thus rendering the breaks ineffective and when he sought to apply the brakes they would not work. It was fortunate that there was no other truck or car on the road. Roy steered the car into the deep ridge of gravel at the road side to impede its progress as much as possible and was able to get down the hill in safety. He had the truck repaired at Elmwood.

Gets a Good Well
Ivan Althouse, who is feeding a number of calves and is in need of more water, has dug a well on his farm, with a post hole auger, being fortunate enough to strike water at a depth of nine feet. He went down an additional nine or ten feet so as to have a good supply in the well at all times, and now has sufficient water to take care of all his needs on the farm.

Lost to Creighton Preppers
In a game of baseball which was played between the Alvo school team and a like aggregation from Creighton prep school in Omaha, the visitors won by a score of 14 to 8. It was a good game and watched with interest by the spectators.

PLATTSMOUTH AD CLUB MEETS
The Plattsmouth Business Men's Ad club held their regular meeting at the main dining room of the Stewart cafe on Wednesday, a large number of the membership being in attendance.

The Ad club, by a vote of the members decided that as Memorial day will fall on next Wednesday there will be no merchants gift night held owing to the impressive and patriotic nature of the occasion.

It was also decided that the business houses affiliated with the Ad club would close their places of business at noon for the remainder of the day and the business men and their employes participate in the exercises of the day.

DR. BACON IMPROVING
The old friends here and at Pacific Junction of Dr. L. B. Bacon, veteran physician of the Iowa city, will be interested to learn that Dr. Bacon is now recuperating nicely at the home of his daughter at Westbro, Mass., where he has been for the past ten days. Dr. Bacon was suffering from a very severe attack of pneumonia for some time and was at the Jennie Edminston hospital at Council Bluffs for some time under treatment. His daughter came west and after a short visit returned to the east, taking the father with her. Dr. Bacon expects to make an extended visit in the east as his condition does not permit his practicing.

CHARGED WITH INTOXICATION
Glen Mason was arrested on Friday afternoon near the west end of the Granite street viaduct, charged with being in a state of intoxication and was brought on down to the main part of the city and lodged in the county jail to await the filing of charges against him.

SCOUTS ASKED TO AID
County Sheriff Homer Sylvester has asked assistance of a dozen or more Boy Scouts Saturday to act as crossing watchmen at grade crossings west of this city along the Louisville Ashland line of the Burlington over which the new stream-lined Zephyr is to pass on its race against time between Denver and Chicago. The boys will be transported to the scene and given full instructions by the sheriff, and also brought home after the train has passed.

The greater part of the number will be used at the crossing on U. S. 75, where it will be necessary to enforce parking regulations for some time prior to the arrival of the train. Others will be stationed at different crossings further west.

DOUBLE HEADER FRIDAY

The kittenball fans had a full evening of this sport on Friday when a double header was staged at the Athletic park, the first contest being that of the Wimpy Inn-Donats against the Mynard Cornhuskers in which the beverage dealers were winners by the score of 15 to 7.

The Mynard team in the last innings were able to secure several scores as the dusk was falling and the lights not yet on in the park and made difficult the playing for both teams.

The Mynard team made a nice showing and demonstrated that they have a bunch that with practice is going to be real contenders in any game.

The hitting of Carlson and Svoboda featured the Donat's game while the all around work of Arley VanLangingham, roving short was excellent and he gave the fans a thrill in the opener with a home run.

Louie Knoficek for the Donats and Jack Vallery for the Cornhuskers did the hurling.
