two cars coming together with great force. The result was that both cars were badly damaged and Fred suffered a broken rib, while Ray sustained a cut on his hand and a bump on his head. The frame of Bramblet's car was badly bent and the axles were driven back out of place. Both cars were brought to the garage of Charles Atteberry and Mr. Atteberry took one of them on into Omaha to secure an estimate on the cost of repairing and straightening it. It was necessary to place another wheel on the car to tow it to Omaha. The other car is in the garage here, where it will be repaired.

Sustains Serious Accident
While Mrs. Vesta Clarke was returning to the office from out in the yard, a bee got into her hair and proceeded to inflict a severe sting. As she was attempting to hasten into the house she slipped and was catapulted over a bank and against the corner of the house, receiving severe injuries. She has been in bed since the accident and her daughter, Mrs. O. W. Finney, of Auburn, as well as another daughter, Mrs. Edgar Newton, of Plattsmouth, are here caring for the mother.

Removed from the City
F. H. McCarthy and family moved last Monday from their home in Union, where they have resided ever since they started to keep house, to the old McCarthy homestead about midway between Union and Nebraska City, where the McCarthy Brothers operate a gas service station. The home in Union has been rented to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Chapman, the new druggist and his wife, who will move here from Lincoln as soon as they can get matters arranged.
