

I Wonder What's Become of Sally?
She's Blowing Bubbles in the Air

Sally Rand, who tasted the sweets of fame with her celebrated fan dance at the Chicago World's Fair last year, is back on the scene of her former triumphs with a new sensation—the bubble dance. Here is Sally with the sphere she calls a bubble (but which looks more like a balloon) in a pose from her new dance in which the bubble ultimately floats away and leaves—just Sally.

4-H CLUB MEETING

The Sunnyside Girls Room club held a very interesting meeting at the home of Alice Wiles on Friday, July 6.

A very interesting feature of the afternoon was a team demonstration on measuring and pleating a lamp shade given by Lois Giles and Mildred Cacy.

During the business meeting two new members were voted into the club. The new members are Kathryn Armstrong and Lucille Wiles. The club is very glad to welcome these new members.

The club members decided to enter the county judging contest and song contest at the county fair and also discussed going to 4-H club camp which will be held at Bellevue July 22-25.

The 4-H club pins were given to the club members by the leader, Mrs. Giles.

A program committee was elected. The committee are Anna Marie Rea and Madeline Wiles.

At the close of a very delightful afternoon delicious refreshments were served by Alice and Lucille Wiles.

New Hunting Stamp Work of Noted Artist

"Ding" Darling Designs New Stamp to Be Put in Use by the Government.

When hunters plank down a dollar for a new federal hunting stamp at their nearest post office, they will receive no ordinary carrier of mailage. Nearly twice the size of a special-delivery stamp, the hunting stamp shows a waterfowl scene which is the work of J. N. ("Ding") Darling, who was a nationally known cartoonist long before he became chief, a few months ago, of the Biological Survey, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"No one, however," says Mr. Darling, "is under any obligation to kill a duck just because he owns a federal hunting stamp, nor is there any rule to prevent a man who wants to help restore the migratory waterfowl from purchasing several of these duck-saving stamps. Every dollar will be devoted to the cause of conservation."

Authorized by the recent congress and to be issued shortly by the post office department, the new stamp will be on sale at post offices in all county seats, in all towns with population of 2500 or more, and in certain waterfowl centers. The sale of stamps will provide funds to help conserve ducks and geese and other migratory waterfowl by the establishment of sanctuaries. Everyone over 16 years of age who hunts migratory waterfowl is required to have a federal hunting stamp in his possession, affixed to the regular state hunting license or to a special certificate furnished by the postmaster if a hunting license is not required.

The distinctive qualities of the stamp, it is believed, will also stimulate its sale among stamp collectors as well as sportsmen and conservationists.

Over-shooting and the effects of the prolonged drouth, the Biological Survey explains, have seriously decreased the supply of waterfowl. Drainage operations in past years have destroyed millions of acres of marsh and water areas formerly inhabited by waterfowl, fishes, and fur-bearing animals. Much of the land so drained has turned out to be practically useless for farming or for any from the sale of the new hunting stamp will be used to remedy these mistakes of the past by restoring some of this wasted land to the country's wild life and to purchase other marsh lands not yet destroyed.

Not all the money for this restoration program, the Bureau points out, will come from the pockets of the sportsmen, however, for the president, recognizing that wildlife, like the forests, is a valuable national resource, is planning to devote additional sums, to extending the sanctuary system. The stamp sale will probably provide funds ranging between $600,000 and $1,000,000 annually, according to estimates by the Biological Survey.

WIMPYS TAKE GAME

The Wimpy Inns of the kittenball league last evening took the Wintersteen Hill team to a defeat by the score of 11 to 1. The Wimpy had a great batting rally in the seventh inning that dashed all chance of the Canaries in winning. The lone tally of the Wintersteen Hill team came in the third when Mason scored as Forbes dropped the throw to the plate to catch the runner.

The box score of the game was as follows:

One Bank Gets Most of State Guaranty Fund

Royal State Bank, First in Judgment, Receives $115,934 in Final Settlement.

The history of Nebraska's twenty-five year experiment with guaranty of bank deposits is being brought to a close by the state banking department.

It wrote checks Tuesday for $115,934 against the final settlement fund to pay depositors of the closed Royal State bank in full, including 7 percent interest. And it made ready to pay the $18,074 remainder of the fund out to cover $4,595 in claims against the First State bank of Bazille Mills, plus interest, and as much as possible of the $110,224 claims against the Farmers State bank of Rosalie.

Superintendent Luikart of the state banking department had proposed to distribute the final settlement fund, which included the old guaranty of deposit fund, pro rata among banks and without interest. The courts in the Superior bank case, however, decreed that the money should go to failed banks in order of priority of judgment or order of district courts, with interest added. The result is that all banks except three that failed ferore the final settlement fund was established are shut out of the distribution.

The date of the judgment in the case of the Royal State bank is Sept. 1, 1927. While 3 percent is a rate of interest not now uncommon, depositors of the Royal State will receive 7 percent interest. The interest amounts to $38,437.45 and the principal is $77,497.14, a total of $115,934.69. This bank had previously received 8 percent interest or $6,738.84, making 100 percent or $122,673.44.

Out of the remaining $18,074.46 in the final settlement fund the State Bank of Bazille Mills will receive in principal claims $4,595.57 with interest which may run up to about $6,000.

The Farmers State of Rosalie, which has claims approved amounting to $119,884 had been cut to $110,224 by the payment of an 8 percent dividend, will receive an amount not yet determined, but probably not to exceed the $12,000 present balance in the final settlement fund after payment of the Bazille Mills claims. Some assets not yet liquidated may be added to the final settlement fund.

History of Guaranties. The state system of bank guaranties started in 1909 with passage of the guaranty fund law, during the administration of Governor Shellenbarger. A court attack was made on the law immediately but in 1911 the United States supreme court upheld it. Nearly twenty years later, after the guaranty fund had become insolvent because of bank failures, a new court attack was started, known as the Abie case. It too was unsuccessful.

Sentiment against the system had been growing, meantime and a special legislative session repealed the law in 1930, substituting the final settlement fund over a period of ten years, to reimburse depositors of failed banks.

Then in 1932, the United States supreme court, hearing a guaranty fund case for the third time, decided in the Hubbell bank case that the final settlement law, as successor to the guaranty fund law, was unconstitutional because it altered conditions in the country.

VISITS IN THE CITY

From Wednesday's Daily

This morning Henry Miller, one of the well known and highly respected residents of western Cass county, was in the city to visit with friends and look after some matters of business. He was accompanied by S. C. Hardnock, a son-in-law.

Mr. Miller is a former county commissioner and has many friends in this community who were delighted with the opportunity of meeting him again. Mr. Miller has not been in the best of health for some time but is now feeling much better.

VISITING IN NORTHWEST

County Surveyor and Mrs. Robert D. Fitch are spending a short vacation in the northwest, spending some time in the Minnesota lake country and later going to Winnipeg, Canada, where they will visit with friends. They are making the trip by car and enjoying the many points of interest in the territory through which they pass.
