Building an Addition August Krecklow has been building an addition to his home in Manley, which is adding much to the convenience and value of the home. The addition will be converted into a kitchen, while the present kitchen will be used for other purposes. Andrew Krecklew, of Falls City, has been here assisting with the work, and thus the construction of the addition has been pushed forward more rapidly than would have been pos-

The V-8 team took advantage of their rally in the fifth to score a safe margin that they held to the close of the game. Misjudgment of outfield flies allowed the V-8 team to score home runs on what otherwise should have been held to singles.

Herold for the Legion pitched a good game while Turner of the V-8 team was in his usual good form on the mound. Newman of the V-8 team played his usual effective game at short and was a power in the defensive work of his team.
