E. M. Griffin of Plattsouth was a visitor in Union last Saturday and was a guest at the home of his son, Horace W. Griffin and family while here.

Rue H. Frans and family, of Syracuse, were visiting in Union on last Sunday, being guests of his mother, Mrs. Jennie Frans, as well as of his brother, D. Ray Frans and family.

L. R. Upton and wife were in Lincoln last Saturday, where they were looking after some business matters as well as visiting with the folks— they finding all getting on very well.

Frank Anderson was hauling water to the city park to water the lawn and the trees that they might not die. He secured the water from the well at the home of W. B. Banning, nearby.

Edger Newton and family, of Plattsouth, were visiting for the day last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Vesta Clarke, mother of Mrs. Newton, driving down from their home in Plattsouth, as is their frequent custom.

D. Ray Frans began the painting of the buildings on the farm which he owns northwest of town, which has been known as the Galloway place and will put the buildings in good condition to withstand the elements.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Keedy, of Ashland, were visiting in Union on last Sunday, being guests at the home of Joe Banning and wife, W. H. Porter and wife and A. L. Becker and family while here. All enjoyed a very fine visit.

Seth Turner, of Kansas City, was a visitor in Union last Monday, visiting with his uncle, S. C. Turner, who resides south of town and was also visiting with D. Ray Frans for a time, being interested in looking after some business matters.

George Lindsey and wife were visiting at the home of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lidgett on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Lidgett has been in very poor health, but is feeling some better at this time, although still confined to his home on account of the illness.

Blair Porter was harvesting his corn, that is the growth which has come thus far, conserving all the leaves and stalks for feed during the coming winter. The weather is playing such havoc with the corn fields that Mr. Porter concluded it best to take steps now to save what he could rather than let it dry up and wither away as it seemed likely to do.

Elmer Withrow, who is always jolly and full of life and who wears a smile for all his friends as well as all others, was not looking so happy last Monday and on being asked as to the reason, told of losing two of his long time friends, a pair of his double teeth which had served him faithfully until just lately, when they had laid down on the job and been giving him some real punishment. The dentist was able to provide him with a bill of divorce from the offending molars and in a short time the wound caused at parting with these old time friends will be entirely healed over. Gone, but not forgotten.

Enjoyed Family Dinner

At the home of Joe Bauer and wife, which is near the old townsite of Kenosha, there was held a picnic dinner which was thoroughly enjoyed by a group of people comprised of Joe Bauer and wife, Frank and Anna Bauer, Deede, Punk and Bessie, Anna Nickel, who are visiting here from Ponca City, Oklahoma. They enjoyed strolling along the river bluffs, and the very fine dinner which was served. The kiddies and Frank seemed to enjoy the outing the most.

Accomplish the Impossible

It is said that when one tackles a thing with set determination, most generally he makes a go of it, and this is true in the case of Raymond Hathaway and Loy Hathaway, who agreed they would locate a well for R. C. Mullis that would provide him with plenty of water. They first drilled a well in the bottom of the creek to find the level at which they would be able to get water, and then went up near the house, where they computed the depth and bored a well one hundred feet deep with a post auger, getting a good supply of water at that depth. While this seems impossible, it is true and the boys bored the well without any power, simply by the use of their hands and a windlass to raise the long pipe necessary to operate the auger at that great depth. This simply shows what can be done when there is a will to do it. Luckily, of course, they did not run into rock, which would have put an end to their operations. They and Mr. Mullis are well pleased that they were able to get water.

Passing of Mrs. McReynolds

Pauline Theresa Brown was born August 30, 1870, at Mount Ayr, Iowa, and passed away July 27, 1934, at the age of 64. She was joined in marriage to Charles A. McReynolds in the year 1891. To this union three children were born, one passing away in infancy.

She is survived by her husband, Charles McReynolds, and two daughters, Mrs. Walter Reed, of Murray, and Mrs. Walter Chase, of Omaha, together with one sister, Mrs. Pearl Trullinger, of Mount Ayr, Iowa, and two brothers, Edward and James Brown, of Redding, Iowa. There are three grandchildren also who remain to mourn the passing of the deceased.

The funeral was held from the Christian church at Murray last Sunday afternoon, conducted by W. A. Taylor, of Union. Scripture and prayer were offered by the pastor of the Murray church, Rev. Lloyd Schubert. Interment was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Met with Louisville Branch

Mrs. Ivan Balfour and Miss Augusta Robb were over to Louisville last Friday, where they met with the officers of the branch chapter of the American Red Cross and arranged for a demonstration of life saving methods, which was carried on at the swimming pool in the state recreation grounds and which created much interest. The swimming and life saving instruction is being carried out this week at the Merritt sand pit on Highway 75 north of Plattsouth this week, with a large number enrolled and at least one other swimming place in the county will receive the benefit of this instruction before the series of lessons is concluded. This is a very fine piece of work on the part of the Red Cross.

Nomination Looks Assured

Hon. W. B. Banning, who has been out over the state looking after his candidacy for the nomination for governor of Nebraska on the democratic ticket, was home over the week end resting up from his arduous campaign and was well pleased with the prospects he encountered of getting the nomination. He was accompanied by L. F. Langhorst, of Elmwood, who is home from Washington, where he is postmaster of the national House of Representatives during the time congress is in session, and who has been assisting Mr. Banning in his campaign. Mr. Langhorst spent the week end at his home in Elmwood, coming to Union Sunday and the two men again started out from here to continue the campaign tour. Mr. Banning is meeting and speaking to large numbers of people each day and everything seems to point to his being the choice of his party for nomination at the primary two weeks hence.

Stole March on Friends

About a month ago, Miss Valda Dyzart and Ollie Atteberry stole a march on their friends and slipped away quietly and were married, returning to their home in Union, going about in the ordinary way without telling their friends of their new found happiness for a number of weeks, but it leaked out last week and now they are receiving congratulations.

really wonderful vacation. In fact, with the crowds that throng to such places, it is questionable how anyone can rest up there. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Merritt, who were of the same opinion, have been spending some two weeks camping on historic and picturesque King Hill, near the old townsite of Rock Bluffs. There they were able to fish and swim and otherwise enjoy themselves, acquiring a nice coat of sun tan and perhaps a few freckles to boot, but really rest themselves, removed from the maddening pace of modern-day life, as exemplified at most any vacation center one could select. Back to nature, if you prefer to call it that, but no gaining saying the fact it is one fine way to rest and enjoy a couple of weeks each summer.

Old Faithful Failed

It has been said that notwithstanding the old rattling Model T Ford making much noise, it always brings you back, thereby earning the title of "Old Faithful." Much dependance has been placed in this rattling good car and it has usually come through with colors flying. Ronald Martin has one of rather ancient vintage that never failed him until last Sunday night, when he and his lady friends went to Nebraska City to attend a show, and were accompanied by two other young gentlemen. The show was fine and much enjoyed and all went well until they were ready to start for home. There the hitch came, for the Model T was not ready and although repeated efforts were made, it could not be coaxed to come. So they telephoned for Charles Land, who drove down and brought the young couple home, while the two young men remained to have the car repaired and bring it home later.

There may be cause for unlimited faith in the performance of the Model T Ford, but this one has gotten into ill repute by its action Sunday night, and doubtless will never be trusted again as before.

Henry J. Atteberry Passes

Henry J. Atteberry, father of Chas. and Ollie Atteberry, age 73, passed away at a hospital at Leavenworth, Kansas, after an illness of five days' duration. He had been taken to the hospital for operation and treatment. The deceased was born at Kickapoo, Kansas, where he lived for many years. He was a farmer and had retired some time since, residing at Linwood, Kansas, with his aged wife, who survives him. Mr. Atteberry united with the Methodist church in his early life, remaining a steadfast and devoted member. To them were born a large family of children, nine of whom remain to mourn the passing of the father—eight boys and one daughter—all grown and having homes of their own.

The two sons residing here, Charles and Ollie Atteberry, went to attend the funeral after being informed of the death of their father. The funeral was delayed on account of waiting for some of the children to arrive. There were five sons and the daughter present to pay their last tribute of honor to their revered sire. The other sons are located on the west coast, and it was not possible for them to come to the funeral which was held last Sunday at Linwood, Kansas. Charles and Ollie arrived home Monday morning.

Death of James Monroe Craig at Morrill, Neb.

Former Resident of Cass County Dies at Home at Morrill After Illness of Some Duration.

The announcement was received here today by Dr. J. H. Hall of the death at Morrill, Nebraska, of his brother-in-law, James Monroe Craig, which occurred at Morrill, Nebraska, on July 26th.

Mr. Craig had been in a gradual decline for the past year and his death was not unexpected.

James Monroe Craig was born December 9, 1853 in the state of Ohio and died at his farm home north of Morrill, Neb., July 26, 1934. Had he lived until December 9, 1934, he would have been 81 years of age.

He was a patient sufferer through nearly a year of affliction preceding death, awaiting the call of his Redeemer.

In the fall of 1860 he came with his parents to Plattsouth, Neb. He resided in this state the rest of his life or continuously for 73 years.

He was one of Nebraska's earliest pioneers. He was the only boy among seven sisters, all but two of whom preceded him in death. The two living are Mrs. Maggie Adams of Eagle, Neb., and Mrs. Myrtle Haines of Portland, Oregon, who was with him for the last three weeks.

In 1882 he was married to Emma J. Hall at Plattsouth, Neb. To this union five children were born, two sons and three daughters. The sons are Arthur Craig of Ord, Neb., James Craig of Morrill, Neb. The daughters are Elizabeth, Grace and Alice, all of whom preceded him in death.

He was very influential in his surroundings until his decline of life. He united with the Presbyterian church in 1862. He was a member of Masonic Lodge No. 6 of Plattsouth for 22 years. Received a degree in 1911. He was also a member of the Eastern Star lodge at Burlington, Neb., and a member of Elks Lodge No. 739 of Plattsouth prior to 1911. He expected to affiliate in home lodges.

Besides those mentioned above he leaves to mourn his death nine grandchildren and many friends. The grandchildren are Arthur, Roberta and Alice, who were at his bedside at the time of death. Dorothy arrived home that evening from Greeley where she has been attending school. The grandchildren at Ord are Donald, Virginia, Mildred, Lena and Mary.

"Into the dusk and snow
One fared on yesterday;
No one of us may know
By what mysterious way.
"He had been comrade long;
We fear would hold him still;
But, though our will be strong,
There is a stronger will."

Funeral services were held at M. E. church, Sunday at 3:30 p. m. Rev. Michel was in charge. The text was Gen. 47:8; theme, How to Measure Life.

Mrs. Kenneth Covington, Alma Wickman, Wm. Blough and Lester Fuehrer sang "Abide with Me," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," "There's a Land That is Fairer Than Day." Burial was in Forest Lawn cemetery.

JOE RUDOLPH
Businessman and Farmer—Taxpayer and Student of Government, is Republican Candidate for the LEGISLATURE from Cass County

I BELIEVE the next Nebraska legislature should take a positive stand for Nebraska Labor, for the Nebraska Farmer, for the Nebraska Business Man. . . There should be no NEW FORMS OF TAXATION. Instead, the taxing power of government should be asserted to find and assess the HIDDEN WEALTH NOW ESCAPING TAXATION.
There has been too much Roughneckism about our state legislation. Representatives go to Lincoln ostensibly to serve the people of their counties. They put in their time working for some sanitary district and laboring zealously for some banking group. This county has contributed too much to special banking legislation. I promise to stand for the depositor. The people of Cass county have had some experience along this line. A powerful effort will be made next winter to saddle some of these losses on the people. I do not believe that depositors should have to make good the mistakes of those who have had years of experience in the banking business. . . I believe in the development of Nebraska's power and irrigation resources. In the event of prohibition repeal, I will study and work for some STRICT and effective system for handling the liquor traffic. I will resist with all my power any attempt to break down our restrictive liquor legislation or weaken the enforcement of the law.
All the expectation of business prosperity in this state is based on the farmer getting cost of production plus a fair profit. I favor the early passage of a joint resolution by the next legislature calling on the president to so raise the tariffs on food products that no foodstuffs can be imported to compete with the farmer. Let the American farmer feed the American people. . . I believe in the Old Age Pension and Unemployment Insurance. Nebraska officials should safeguard the needy. There is no excuse for government officials gallivanting around Nebraska at $400 a month plus expenses. . . I favor the economical and efficient construction of highways without regard to their political feasibility.
If you believe in these principles of government I will appreciate your support in the republican primaries, August 14th.
Yours for a New Deal—JOE RUDOLPH, Eagle, Nebraska
